

WHITE ELEPHANT WITH BIG CIRCUS

Sacred Animal Makes Tour With Ringling and Barnum & Bailey Shows

Hailed as the "greatest feature of all time," Pawah, the world-famed sacred white elephant of Burma is to be presented in the menagerie of the Ringling Bros. & Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows when the big circus exhibits at Rocky Mount Wednesday, October 19.

Pawah is the first of his kind to be found in more than three hundred years and the only genuine sacred white elephant ever brought to America. He is accompanied by his supreme keeper, Dr. S. Dr. Po. Min, and attended by a retinue of 14 native Burmese. The present is Pawah's only season in America, the Ringling Bros. being under bond to return him to Burma at the close of the tour.

Pawah is of those rare elephants that the Buddhists of today and centuries past have worshipped in the belief that in their huge bulk reposes the soul of Buddha. And certainly he is as different from those elephants with which the public is familiar as day is from night. His eyes are milk white, set with sparkling pupils. His skin is soft and pliable. His body is white as a "white man" is white. To quote the French authority, M. Dussard, he is "as gentle as a kitten and as beautiful as a Greek statue."

This rarest of beasts was found eight years ago in the jungles of Lower Burma, midway between Mandalay and Kangoon. Last summer he was brought to England under the protection of the British government and in the face of threats from the Buddhist priests, who protested that his departure from Burma would bring dire calamities. More than two million people saw Pawah when he was presented under the auspices of the London Zoological Society. The bringing of the white elephant to America is in furtherance of the Ringling policy of constant enlargement. The scenic portion of this season's circus introduces five rings, a place of the usual three. The big show's personnel numbers more than 1,000 people and 900 horses. A hundred double-length railway cars are required to transport its ten thousand marvels, plus a special Pullman for Pawah and his attendants.

BOY WAS SICK

Texan Tells How He Got Acquainted With the Good Work of Black-Draught as a Laxative.

Glenora, Texas.—"I had a sick spell when just fifteen years old," says Mr. George W. Maness, R. F. D. 2, this place. "Anyone who has had chills, like I had, is apt to remember them. I was a sick boy—just lay around the home, weak. My skin was yellow and I could hardly stand up. I had hard chills.

"My father gave me quinine. Someone told him to give me Black-Draught with it. He brought some home, and they fixed it up like a tea. It wasn't very good, but I was so sick I would take anything.

"After a few days, I began to feel better. I was hungry and could eat. I kept on taking the tea for awhile, and I got well. I haven't had chills since then, but I have taken a lot of Black-Draught since that time. It is a family medicine with me."

Where assistance is needed in the way of a laxative or cathartic, Bedford's Black-Draught should be taken, as often as necessary, to open the bowels and put them in a healthy and normal state of activity.
