What Monday's Newspapers Say About Sunday

New Bern, N. C.—One killed, two hurt in motor accident near Reelsboro.

High Point, N. C.—Shot by her husband, dies of wounds.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Instantly killed in motor accident; man loses life and two others injured in accident.

Rockingham, N. C.—Young girl tries to hang herself.

High Point, N. C.—Takes poison after quarrel with lover.

Siler City, N. C.—Three Raleigh people injured in motor accident.

Greensboro, N. C.—Rockingham County man shot and killed himself near here today (Sunday).

Raleigh, N. C.—Auto strikes child on scooter, resulting in serious injury.

Rosemary, N. C.—Rosemary woman killed in automobile accident.

The above news items would have made a fine casualty list in the World War, when people were really trying to kill each other. And here in our own State, where we have only a few of the tragedies which happened to get on the wires quickly, we find three deaths in motor accidents, three suicides, and one murder. The seat of the whole trouble was "The quest for pleasure."

The automobile-accident deaths came while the victims were gently sweeping down the beautiful pleasure road. The suicides came because pleasures anticipated had not materialized in the glorious way anticipated, causing a shrinking from the duties of life and winding up their earthly obligations. And then a murder: a wife killed by her husband. The pleasures hope for and anticipated had not come as expected. The little love failed and hatred crept in.

There are three elements of danger that seem responsible for the undoing of the 15 people mentioned in the dead and injured list. They are carelessness, weakness, and meanness. Obedience to the law, both of God and the country, would do more to reduce these tragedies than any other thing.

The man driving a car on the road today is always facing two serious dangers: First, his own carelessness; second, the carelessness of the drivers who come near him. We find plenty of laws directing traffic, which if obeyed by all drivers, will minimize accidents.

The suicide problem is too big for discussion; yet if we obey the laws of health and hold close to the moral code, it might help.

Of course, murder has been against every law from the beginning.

South Coming to Front As a Manufacturing Center

The National Association of Manufacturers will meet at Chattanooga, Tenn., this week. This is the first time the association has come to the South in 30 years. It shows the South is being recognized as a manufacturing center. Already North and South Carolina are manufacturing almost as much cotton as all the other States.

Every field of manufacturing has been entered by the South, until

Looking Back

Henry (Sally Ann) Gurkin gives before it became Duke. Henry says a very interesting reminiscence of the first automobile that ever went to Durham. It was in 1900, when Henry was running the College Inn out at old Trinity and a long time denly one of the boys rushed in and shouted that an automobile had been on the campus and that it was flying. Henry says that it was one of the greatest disappointments of his life not to have seen that automobile. He felt that he had missed a golden opportunity to see a wonder that would never come his way again. He said he actually had malice in his heart against the boys who failed to call him and let him see the world's wonder as it passed, because he thought it gone forever.

However, he admits his error, and like the balance of the world that had so little faith in the new wonderful machine, has lived to see 20,000,000 of the wonder machines running the roads of the United States. He himself owns one of the little crazy-house-like machines, which enables him to "court" in Washington, Greenville, or Rocky Mount any night after supper. Henry says the automobile is the most convenient things about "courting" he has ever seen, because all the girls like to ride, especially if you have a nice car and you are a nice young fellow.

THE season of cooler weather is at hand, and with it comes the need for many new things. Not only clothes for every member of the family, but many things in the home for your winter's comfort.

Our Big Fall and Winter catalog will make the amount of money you have to spend go farther—allow you to buy many things that perhaps you thought you could not afford this year—and save you a great deal of time and worry.

Make this experiment—Get down the things you need—Clothes for the children for school—winter underwear—sweaters—shoes—warm coats—gloves—stockings. The things the grown-ups of your family need to wear now and the things you need in your household—an added easy chair or piece of furniture. A new carpet or rug here or there. Something to make the work in the home easier—a washing machine—a vacuum cleaner—new kitchen utensils. Is your home properly heated? See our warm air circulator stoves (pages 444 to 446) that will heat every room in the average small home evenly and economically and whose handsome mahogany finish makes it an attractive addition to any room you place it in. Or if you want a heating plant, you will be astonished at the amount of money you can save at our prices.

And then when you have written down everything, take our Big Fall and Winter catalog. If you haven't it, borrow your neighbor's, but write for it at once. You will be surprised how little money it costs to have all the things you need now—which you may have regarded as luxuries, but at our prices are really within your means. # GORMAN'S MARKET REPORT

GORMAN'S HAS FIRST SALE BOTH WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY AND SECOND ON FRIDAY

The sales have been large all the week, but all houses finished selling both on Thursday and Friday — cleaning up.

GORMAN'S sold last week 828,286 pounds, averaging $27.28 for all sold, and we have had our usual percentage of common tobacco and but a small percentage of fine; however, we have led the market in our daily average, as you will see from the figures shown; and they are correct, as we have the official figures as published by the supervisor, deducting our pounds and dollars from those of the total sales and then getting the average from the difference.

The figures shown will give you a much better understanding of what we are doing than just giving you a few individual averages, as we could pick a lot of averages that would look good, but you would not have the normal average as you have here.

Friday's figures were not available at the time this ad was written.

It pays to sell in GREENVILLE and at GORMAN'S. If you are not selling with us, come see our sales before you sell, and we believe you will let us sell the balance of your crop.
