ENTERTAINS CARD CLUB

Mrs. B. W. Hardy Hostess To Club Members On Thursday

Mrs. B. W. Hardy entertained her card club on Thursday at her home on Haughton Street. The entire home was decorated with flowers that carried out the Hallowe'en idea and pumpkin lanterns, with their candle-light, completed the attractive decorations. On the tables there were attractive Hallowe'en baskets filled with mints.

Mrs. J. D. Woolard made high score and was given a lovely gift. She had as guests besides the club members, Mrs. Harper Holliday and Mrs. Jim King.
The hostess served a dainty salad course with black coffee.

20TH CENTURY CLUB MEETING

Held With Mrs. J. G. Godard Wednesday Afternoon

The Twentieth Century Club met with Mrs. J. G. Godard Wednesday afternoon at 3.30. Mrs. Godard's home was made more attractive with a profusion of yellow, white, and purple chrysanthemums.

The program for the day was on the countries of Ireland and Scotland; and Mrs. S. R. Biggs, who had the first paper for the day, read a good description of first impressions of that romantic country. Mrs. Wheeler Martin read a paper on the national music of Scotland, explaining the bagpipe and its connection with the music and life of that country.

Mrs. J. S. Rhodes sang a solo. She was accompanied by Mrs. J. H.

Saunders and Mrs. J. W. Manning and Miss Carrie Dell White played a duet. Mrs. Clayton Moore completed with the reading of current events.
Mrs. Godard had as her special guests Mrs. W. T. Hunter, Miss Delphia Peebles, Mrs. Harper Holliday, Mrs. W. C. Manning, jr., Mrs. Milton Moye, Mrs. A. R. Dunning, Mrs. Oscar Anderson, and Miss Mary Smith.
She served a salad course with hot tea and hot rolls and sea-foam candy.

Don't dose a Child's Cold
CONTINUAL dosing upsets children's delicate stomachs. Vicks is applied externally and therefore cannot disturb the digestion. It acts in two ways:
(1) The body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors which are inhaled.
(2) At the same time Vicks "draws out" the soreness like a poultice.

CRITICISM
W. Shakespeare, who lived in Merrie England about 400 years ago and had to his credit quite a few "best sellers," said this:
"Words, without deeds, never to heaven go."
We wrote you in our last, inviting your criticism of our service, quality, and prices. We got that criticism in good large jobs. Of course, we got a few flowers mixed with the crepe.
While we are deeply grateful for the nice things said, we are paying lots more attention to the criticism.
We are trying to make our deeds fit our words. We are striving to build our organization so it will be known as the DEPENDABLE ORGANIZATION.
Your kind words warm us; your harsh words warn us; but—
Your silence kills us. And we are too young to die.
Business isn't heaven always, but it doesn't have to be the other, either. So watch our deeds dovetail with our words.
