Dr. and Mrs. Saunders Entertain at Bridge

Last Thursday evening, from 8:30 until 12 o'clock, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Saunders entertained with two tables of bridge, complimentary to Miss Carrie Dell White and Mr. Calno Loudon, whose marriage took place Saturday.

Mrs. Stuart Early made high score and was given a pair of hose, and Miss White was given a string of pearls.

A salad course was served. Those present were the guests of honor, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Early, and Mr. Joe Horton.

Gives Shower for Miss Vivian Peele

Mrs. John Gray Peele entertained at her home Friday afternoon with a shower in honor of Miss Vivian Peele.

The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, autumn leaves, and pines, making a color scheme of green and gold. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. John M. Peele, a recent bride, and invited to the living room. After an hour of music was enjoyed, the guests were turkey favor with the following announcement, "V. D. P. to J. G. L., November 23rd," was presented to each. A salad course and hot chocolate was served.

The guests were then asked to follow the bride-to-be and Mrs. Elbert Manning to the receiving room. An umbrella was raised over the bride-elect by Mrs. Manning and lots of pretty and useful gifts showered upon her.

There were about twenty-five guests.

Mrs. Martin Entertains For Bride-Elect

Mrs. Wheeler Martin entertained with ten tables of bridge at her home Friday afternoon, complimentary to Miss Carrie Dell White, bride-elect. The lovely home was thrown en suite and fall flowers and shaded lights added to the usual attractiveness of the home.

Miss White was given a pair of silver tongs for guest prize and at the same time she was given a pretty silver sugar and cream set, a gift of the choir of the Memorial Baptist Church.

Mrs. F. U. Barnes made high score for the guests, and she was given a piece of lingerie.

The hostess served a delicious fruit salad with sandwiches, pickles, cheese straws, and salted almonds. The favors and place cards were suggestive of a wedding. Mrs. Martin had as her guests about forty Williamston people besides the guest of honor and Mesdames C. J. Rhea, C. J. Sawyer, Gatliff, and Holly Bell, of Windsor.

LOUDEN-WHITE

Of interest to a number of friends in this city and county and to a number of tobaccoists of this and other States was the marriage of Miss Carrie Dell White and Mr. Calno Loudon, of Madison, Ind., which took place Saturday evening at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Manning, on Church Street, where the bride has made her home for several years. Rev. C. H. Dickey pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church took the vows. The ceremony, characterized by its simplicity, was witnessed by only a few intimate friends of the bride.

Mrs. J. H. Saunders rendered the wedding music, and Mrs. J. S. Rhodes sang very sweetly "Because." They both were gowned in black satin dresses and black hats and wore shoulder bouquets of sweet peas and roses.

Following the minister were the bride and groom, the groom meeting the bride at the foot of the winding stairway. The bride wore a light tan crepe back satin dress, modeled by Irene Castle, with hat and shoes to match. She carried a corsage of sunset roses and valley lilies. Immediately after the ceremony they left by motor for Carrollton, Ky., where Mr. Loudon will be on the tobacco market until March.

Mrs. Loudon, who is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. R. White, is one of the finest young women of Williamston and is known for her personal charm and ability. She has been active in the religious and social life of the town and, always assisting in any work for her church, town, and community, she will be greatly missed while she and her husband are in other States. For several years she has been organist of the Baptist Church, and she will be greatly missed there. The numerous social events given for her since her engagement has been announced attest her wide popularity.

Mr. Loudon, who is a native of Indiana, has spent much time in North Carolina as a tobacco buyer for R. J. Reynolds and he is highly regarded by all who know him for his many admirable qualities. He is a world-war veteran, having seen much service at the front.

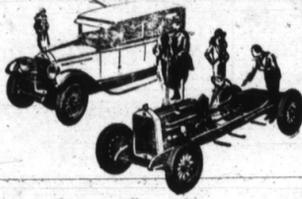

Handkerchief Shower For Miss White

Mrs. C. A. Harrison entertained Thursday afternoon with a handkerchief shower for Miss Carrie Dell White, whose marriage took place Saturday.

Punch was served the guests upon their arrival, and then they were asked to engage in a musical romance, an unique contest, in which the story applied to Miss White's marriage was filled in with titles to favorite old songs. Mrs. John W. Manning played a line of each song and much merriment was caused by the contestants failing to remember the song titles they had heard all their lives. Mrs. A. R. Dunning won and she was given a pretty handkerchief. There was another attractive contest before the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March were heard, and little Miss Blanche Harrison, dressed as a flower girl, marched in-to-the-bride-elect, with a lovely bouquet from which hung dozens of exquisite handkerchiefs.

The hostess served ice cream with whipped cream, nuts and cherries over it, fruit cake, and salted pecans.
