What Will School Children Do Now?

That one generation sows and the next reaps is a fairly well established rule of life. It has sometimes happened that a father and son have governed a kingdom with honor, but the rule is that the father builds the kingdom and the son tears it down, and the next generation has to rebuild. It is often seen about us that a man builds a fortune by close application, hard work, and rigid economy, only to have it squandered and thrown to the four winds by a riotous, worthless, lazy, and adulterous family.

It seems unwise for men to attempt to secure too many luxuries for their children, yet that is the apparent desire of parents.

What will the school children of North Carolina do during the next four months? Play for exercise and develop a hatred toward duty and responsibility, or will they engage in some of the work which they can do and learn some of the ways toward business success?

Thief of Time Worst of All Thieves

The thief of time is probably the worst of all thieves. It generally takes a few valuable minutes or hours from most people every day in life.

It starts with the morning hours and holds its human victims in bed until the train passes, or the merchant is too late to the store, or the patient gets sicker, or the client waits so long that he "cusses out" and changes lawyers. The same thief robs lots of people as they pass on their way to breakfast and when once there, they are held too long and lose to their arch-enemy, the thief of time, several more valuable minutes.

If it happens to be Sunday, it embraces boys and girls and men and women, too, and holds them until too late. And then old time thief will steal a minute of time from the fellows going to church and cause them to miss a prayer or two, and the reading of God's Word, and perhaps a few songs and possibly miss the opportunity of serving in the contribution; and it may be that it will cause some fellow to come in so late that the attention of others will be attracted and they, too, lose some of the blessings of worship and service.

This would seem to be enough to satisfy the thief of time, yet he is not half through his deadly mission, but only getting a ravenous appetite for a full evening's work, and rushes to his father-devil for new orders to complete the day's program. Then out for a rampage among the boys and girls, men and women.

The devil decoys them to improper places and the old time thief shouts "Not late, not late, plenty of time for another dance, another drink, another game, another ride, another swim," until finally old thief time has kept uneasy parents from sleep and weakened the minds, bodies, conscience, spirit, and often character and virtue of its victims.

The thief of time often causes men to engage in many other types of robbery, as well as causing many to lie.

The Life of a Dollar

In order to get a line on the life and adventures of a dollar bill, the Waukegan, Illinois, chamber of commerce started out a new bill some time ago, with a circular attached, requesting every person handling the bill to make a notation of its use.

Here is the history for fourteen days, changing hands for service:

Five times for salary; five times for tobacco; five times for cigarettes; three times for candy; twice for men's furnishings; twice for shaves; once for automobile accessories; once for bacon; once for washing powder; once for garters; once for tooth paste.

The dollar was spent 27 times, but it never got into church or theatre, and was not used for amusement in fourteen days. It was new when it started out, but when it came back it was soiled, wrinkled and dejected.—Durham Herald.

There seems to be some rather strange things about this dollar. Two shaves and no hair cutting sounds a little strange. Certainly, it must have been in the hands of men instead of women. In fact, it must have been a male dollar, from the service it rendered. It sounds as if it failed to bless woman in any way unless it might have been in the way of salary, or perhaps candy, washing powder, tooth paste, or garters, since there is nothing to indicate the kind of garters.

It is remarkable that it was of so little table use; only one time carrying bacon to the hungry. It is also rather remarkable that it did not slip into the gas station or sit around the drink stands. The fact that it did not go for women's wearing apparel is another evidence that women's clothes are scarce articles.

This dollar made no pretense of religion, which is perfectly natural and in accord with most of its kindred. It is, however, a little strange that it escaped the ways of immorality.

The fact that 10 of the 27 visits it made went to the tobacco and cigarette counter is just about as expected.

We suspect this dollar was more careful of the company it kept than many dollars are, or other things would have appeared on its roll of service.

HYSTERICAL

South Carolina Lady Tried Cardui and Says She Noticed Remarkable Improvement.

Anderson, S. C.—"I suffered a long time, before I tried Cardui, and my only regret is that I did not know about it sooner," says Mrs. Lillie Pruitt, 130 "K" Street, this city.

"I was badly run down in health. My nerves 'went to pieces' and I had to go to bed. I was not able to do my house work for many months. I got so bad off, I could not bear to have anybody walk across the floor of my room. The least little thing upset me. Sometimes I became hysterical. I had bad pains in my back and sides, and my head and limbs would take spells of aching, which almost set me wild.

"One day I was reading and I saw where a woman, who had a trouble like my own, had been relieved by Cardui. I decided at once to try it; so I began on a course of the 'Home Treatment'.

"It began to help me from the very first. I took Cardui regularly, for several months, and my improvement was so remarkable, that my family and friends were delighted.

"Cardui has no equal in my opinion. I gladly recommend it to others."
