Now Is the Time To Fight

For the first time in recent memory, hidden and exempted wealth is on the run. It was the voice of the people that gave them the fright.

The class of property owners that owns real estate, a mule, and a few cows and hogs has been carrying the burden of taxes, while those holding large quantities of wealth represented by other types of property have not paid their proportion of the taxes.

Fortunately, the McLean school bill is smoking the hidden treasure out, and if it can be seen by the common folks, then they are going to make something come to pass, and that thing will be an equalization of taxes on all kinds of property, which will put taxes on the property not paying its proportion, lowering the rate on property that is now paying too much.

Teamwork Needed

We are always criticizing legislators. We should not; sympathy is what they need. They generally want to do right, but too often don't know how. Quite a bit of evidence of this fact is to be seen around Raleigh at this time.

Too many men want things exactly as they wish and will not support anything proposed by another, regardless of its merit.

What is needed is a little teamwork, all pulling together for the same purpose. If an army was to go into action with every man going his own way, to the extent that many legislators demand, it could not capture the tadpoles in a dry pool.

Making Poultry Pay

Whether laying hens are profitable or not depends largely on the care given them, although breeding is a fundamental requirement of good layers. But even the ordinary hen will show her gratitude for good treatment by a greatly increased yield of eggs, according to a poultry expert, who says:

"Take the average farm hen, feed and house her poorly and she will lay only about 70 eggs a year. Give her a chance on good feed in a good house and she will produce 140 or more. But take the same hen and breed her to a pedigreed egg-bred male and the pullet resulting will produce from 150 to 200 eggs a year if properly cared for."

Under ordinary conditions it is not advised that the average farmer try to raise his own males for breeding purposes, because of the great amount of trouble involved, as well as skill required in breeding. It is less expensive and far more satisfactory to buy high class cockerel from professional breeders.

Poultry raising is one of the most profitable of farm activities if properly conducted, but haphazard methods will result in failure, as in every other undertaking. The main thing is to have good hens in the flock and then treat them right.

A Governor Needed

The man who invents something fast enough for the next generation will be the world's wealthiest man and the hero of the century. The auto, the airplane, and electricity are all growing dull and no longer able to fully satisfy this pleasure-ravenous and gasping age; and it looks as if we are going to mope around in disgust with what pleasures we had a few years ago, which then looked like they would last forever, but we are still dissatisfied. What we have doesn't suit us. We are all shouting and crying, "Go faster."

It now looks as if we are even more in need of a genius than we were when God gave us an Edison, a Ford, a Bell, a Marconi, and a Wright. The world seems to be crying, "O Lord, pleasure is what we want—and now."

There are those, however, who believe that the world has lost its balance wheel and has been running too fast already; and what it really needs is to put on its governor and slow down to a steady pace.

Why Teach Children To Gamble?

Why teach children to take chances? In some schools or clubs, certain prizes are raffled off for the purpose of making money. This may not be wrong in itself, and will not hurt most folks. Yet it is hardly right for one person to pay a dollar for a chance and lose it to the fellow who pays one cent and wins the prize. The trouble comes from the influence it may have on the weaker child who may not be able to keep the gambling spirit from growing on him.

Schools and churches have no business to enter raffling games, because they teach principles contrary to the fundamentals upon which they both stand.

BILIOUSNESS

Arkansas Convicted Since His Childhood That "Black-Draught" Can't Be Beaten For It.

West Helena, Ark.—"I am fifty-two years of age, and I have taken Black-Draught, when needed, all my life," writes Mr. O. L. Smith, of 263 North Third Street, this city.

"When I was just a child, my mother made Black-Draught tea, and gave it to me for colds and biliousness. It was a family medicine with us.

"After I was grown and went out on the farm, working hard, I would get a dull, tired feeling and a bad taste in my mouth. I would know then, that I was bilious. I would take a few doses of Black-Draught, and soon feel good as new.

"In later years, I have taken Black-Draught and it has helped me for constipation and biliousness, and I am still of the same belief, as when a child, that Black-Draught can't be beaten."

Thousands of men and women find Black-Draught of great help in relieving the common ailments, due to constipation, biliousness and indigestion.

Black-Draught is prepared from selected medicinal herbs and roots. A natural remedy for unnatural conditions of the system.

Costs only 1 cent a dose. NC-207

DEAR FARMER— STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN!

Here is your opportunity to gain in your yield of tobacco per acre by using the which gets the dirt from middle of the row and makes a perfect ridge without cutting off your feed roots. It has proved that hilling tobacco in this way has made a gain from $25 to $50 per acre.

For you know: When you side your tobacco the last times the feed roots are cut off, which checks the growth for a few days. During this time new feed roots are formed, which really causes a second growth. This second growth causes your tobacco to grow bony and thin. If the feed roots are not cut off, your tobacco will thicken as it spreads and make a better quality of tobacco.

I have used the Improved Fowler Cultivator about twelve years for laying-by tobacco, cotton, corn, and other crops. Also for hilling up sweet potatoes. I consider it one of the most useful and satisfactory cultivators I have ever used and would not be without it for many times the price.

Yours very truly, J. R. WINSLOW.
