CELEBRATES 4TH WITH FEAST AT HOME NEAR HERE

Bill Jones Holds Annual Barbecue Thursday for Family and Friends

BIG CROWD ATTENDS One Hundred and Eight Persons at Table; Rev. J. E. Kincheo Is Speaker

One of the happiest events of the Glorious Fourth in this section was W. L. Jones' annual barbecue at his home near here. Mr. Jones had called his children, grandchildren, many of his neighbors and a number of friends from afar to visit him on this occasion and when they began to arrive, they found pigs roasting over the coals, Brunswick stew boiling in the pot and corn bread baking in the oven.

A long table was erected and at the proper time it was loaded down with good things to eat. The guests were called, Rev. J. E. Kincheo offering thanks. One hundred and eight persons stood around the table and enjoyed the barbecue, Brunswick stew (the best the good judges had ever tasted) chicken, pickles, cake and many other dishes.

The day was really a happy one for the 108 persons assembled, their ages ranging from four months to 70 years. Not one loud word, a cry or a whimper could be heard, for everyone was full of joy and good cheer.

Mr. Jones, 64 years old, and Mrs. Jones, 47 years old, have been married 31 years and have 11 children and 16 grandchildren.

A close observation of the people present gave every indication that there is more joy and happiness on the farm and in the farm homes than can be found where society is high and where people are always chasing the fads.

Following the repast, Rev. Mr. Kincheo made a short patriotic talk.

HOOVER'S FIRST FOUR MONTHS

Survey Reveals Period of Unusual Activity for a New Administration

Washington, July 4.—Herbert Hoover completed today four months as President, a review of which reveals a period filled with activity far surpassing that of similar periods at the outset of most administrations. It extends into domestic, political, international, social, economic and engineering fields.

It also has been a period of almost unparalleled political upheaval, with familiar figures of the past administration and of Mr. Hoover's own campaign for the Presidency already passed from the stage, and allies of the campaign period "breaking" openly on legislative issues.

The short period also stands out for the amazing number of new figures brought into various administrative projects from the business and legal world, men such as seldom found in the government service.

The President's record thus far consists only of the beginning of projects, but he has begun an unusual number. They reveal a spirit of new adventure in government, the success of which cannot now be predicted. The record divides naturally into two parts—the ordinary government activity and those projects concerned with economic and social welfare and international affairs with which Mr. Hoover is most closely linked in the public mind.

Despite Mr. Hoover's apparent effort to shove it into the background, prohibition has dominated the stage to date. It naturally places itself in the sphere of the social and economic and is the most troublesome of that set of problems. A series of events over which the President had no control pushed it forward.

Prepare Elaborate Program For 100 or More Visitors Expected

The regular quarterly meeting of the East Carolina Firemen's Association will be held here next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, the local company acting as host to the 100 or more visiting firemen. Supper will be served in the Woman's Club hall at 8 o'clock, the business session following the repast.

Mr. H. D. Harrison, chief of the local company, stated yesterday that preparations are now being made to entertain the visitors, and a good meeting is assured. The program for the evening has not been completed at this time, but it is understood that the president of the association will feature the program with interesting events.

This is the local company's second time as host to the association, and its members look forward to the meeting next Tuesday night with much interest in royally entertaining the visitors and guests.

The association embraces the following towns: Plymouth, Washington, Greenville, Ayden, Farmville, Belhaven, New Bern, Morehead City, Beaufort, Mount Olive, Kinston, Snow Hill, Robersonville, and Williamston. From 5 to 15 visitors from each of these companies are expected at the meeting next Tuesday.

JUNE REPORT OF COUNTY AGENT

Hill Method of Cultivating Tobacco Is Showing Fine Results

In his report for the month of June, County Farm Agent T. B. Brandon states that the hill method used in the cultivation of tobacco has already produced remarkable results, the agent further stating that the farmers employing the particular method in this county have been greatly benefited.

The agent also stated in his report that six demonstrations testing the value of muriate of potash as a top-dressing for peanuts have been started in the county in an attempt to determine the real gain expected from the practice. The agent points out that several farmers employing the method have reported increased and improved yields in the crop.

The report was submitted to the county commissioners in session here Monday. Sixteen days spent in field work; 7 days spent in office work; 129 office conferences held; 105 telephone calls received; 194 letters written; 63 farm visits made; 900 miles traveled on official duties; 4 articles written for local papers; 260 hogs treated during the month; some time was devoted to dusting and spraying Mexican Bean Beetle.

The agent concluded his report, saying, "Farmers who want information as to the proper control of the Mexican Bean Beetle or any other insect detrimental to crops, may get facts from County Agent free of all cost."

A. Yates Dowell Opens Office in Washington

Mr. A. Yates Dowell, the son of Mrs. George J. and the late Rev. Dowell, has recently opened offices for the practice of patent law in the Washington Loan and Trust building, Washington City, according to an announcement received here yesterday.

Mr. Dowell, who lived here a number of years during his father's ministry of the Baptist church, has many friends in this section who will be glad to know of his success as a practicing attorney. In his new offices, Mr. Dowell will specialize in patent and trade mark causes.

RECORDER HAS ONLY 8 CASES

Fighting Is Principal Cause of Many Cases; Several Dry Law Violations

Judge Bailey and Solicitor Peel had a very small docket in the recorder's court here last Tuesday, when only eight cases were called for consideration. Several of the cases attracted much attention, giving the junior court the appearance of a higher tribunal. Fighting was mentioned as the main cause for a majority of the cases, violation of the liquor laws also causing a number.

Final judgment was passed in the few cases, as follows:

H. M. Peel pleaded not guilty in the case charging him with assault with a deadly weapon. After hearing the evidence, the judge withheld his verdict, similar action resulting in a second case charging the defendant with resisting an officer.

William Station, found guilty of violating the liquor laws, was fined $50 and given a six months sentence on the Edgecomb County roads, Judge Bailey suspending the road sentence for a period of 18 months.

The case against W. H. Perry for violating the bad check law was returned to the justice of the peace court where it had been heard and from its judgment the defendant had appealed to the higher court.

Adjudged guilty in the case charging violation of the liquor laws, W. A. Ayers was given a six-months road sentence and taxed with the costs. The sentence was suspended for a period of two years and the defendant given 30 days in which to pay the costs.

A nol pro's resulted in the case charging Dewey Wade with driving an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor.

The case charging J. S. Williams with assault with a deadly weapon was continued one week on account of the absence of Bill James, who had been called but who failed to answer.

J. L. Corey plead guilty to a disorderly conduct charge and by agreement judgment was suspended upon payment of the cost, Corey being allowed six weeks in which to pay the account.

Find Two Mountains Are Higher Than Mt. Mitchell

Asheville, July 4.—A second mountain in the Smoky Mountain Park area towers above Mt. Mitchell, hitherto considered the highest peak in eastern America, measurements made by the United States Geological survey indicate, it has been learned.

Not only is Mt. Guyot higher than Mitchell, but Clingman's Dome likewise rears its head above Mitchell.

Preliminary figures, which must be checked in Washington, show Clingman's Dome, in Swain county, as standing 6,842 above sea level, as compared with Mitchell's 6,711—a difference of 131 feet.

These latest figures would place Mt. Guyot, 7,025, as the highest mountain in the east, Clingman's Dome, 6,842, second and Mt. Mitchell, 6,711, as third.

The figures are subject to checking and correction in Washington, but it is believed that they will stand.

Regular Services at Cedar Branch Sunday

Regular services will be held at the Cedar Branch Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. W. B. Harrington, next Sunday morning at 11 and also at 8 o'clock in the evening, it was announced by an officer of the church yesterday. The Sunday school will convene at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The members are urged to attend, and the public is cordially invited to attend each of the services.

MUST PAY WATER BILLS BY JULY 10

Few Have Paid So Far; Office Is Now in City Hall

Opening here this week, the all-time treasurer's office is receiving very few remittances from the water customers who received their bills the early part of this month, the assistant clerk, Mrs. Chas. James, stated this morning. The assistant clerk added, however, that many of those settling their accounts found it very convenient to drop by the mayor's office where all the town's financial transactions are now handled.

The period of grace for water customers does not expire until next Wednesday and a rush is expected in the office between now and then. The assistant clerk keeps the office open from 9:30 until 12 in the morning and from 2 until 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

URGES BETTER LOCAL RULE

Unless There Is Improvement State Will Have To Take Over Affairs

Asheville, June 27.—Unless some of the local governments in North Carolina finds means of improving their administrative methods without delay the State of North Carolina is going to have imposed upon it the duty of stepping in and taking over their affairs, Gov. O. Max Gardner told the closing session of the N. C. Bankers Association this morning at Grove Park Inn in an address which gave a vast amount of consideration to the problem of taxation as it relates to the State's prosperity.

Speaking, too, in the same vein, but with more specific reference to the minutiae of the taxation problem now confronting the State, A. J. Maxwell, Commissioner of Revenue and chairman of the newly created tax commission, rapped severely the present inequalities in the fixing of the valuation of property for taxation.

Robert M. Haynes, vice president of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., Winston-Salem, introduced Governor Gardner to the bankers. His introduction was in humorous vein. The crowd got a good laugh on His Excellency and was in a jovial mood when the governor started his straight-from-the-shoulder speech.

Governor Gardner did not mince words about the tax situation either, and while his address was titled "Forces that Make for Prosperity," and cited numerous factors which have a bearing on the continued prosperity and general welfare of the people his most telling analysis was directed to the problem of tax reform.

Other features of the closing session were the installation of new officials, the awarding of trophies and the adoption of a resolution approving a proposed amendment to the federal reserve act to provide a more equitable distribution of the net earnings between the member banks and the government. Under present laws all earnings above six percent dividends allowed on the stock held by government.

Most of the bankers departed for members go to the United States their respective homes today following adjournment. The general opinion was expressed by the membership that this was the most successful convention in the association's history.

County Commissioners Will Probably Fix Rate Monday

With all the tax scrolls before them, the county commissioners will, it is understood, discuss a 1929 county tax rate at their special meeting here next Monday. While no increase is expected, a decrease is not likely, indications pointing to a rate similar to the one in force for the year 1928.

County officers stated this morning they were not in a position to offer an opinion as to what rate could be expected this year. Whether the rate will be determined at the Monday meeting depends upon the number of complaints to be handled, it is understood.

STATE HIGHWAY PATROLMAN IS KILLED SECOND DAY ON DUTY; HIT BY AUTO AT WADESBORO

PETE FOWDEN FIRST VICTIM

Hailed by Highway Patrolman for Speeding; Let Off With Warning

"First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen," but Pete Fowden, the insurance man, was the first local driver to be stopped by the highway patrol.

Mr. Fowden stated he was on his way home from Windsor when he heard what he thought was an old worn-out Ford run up behind him. "I wasn't going to let an old model Ford pass me while I was riding in one of Henry's latest products, so I speeded up a bit. I had not gone far at the increased speed when the patrolman shouted out at me and asked 'In a hurry?'"

After stopping his car, Mr. Fowden said "You know who I thought you were? I thought you were a driver of an old worn-out Ford who wanted to pass me."

"Yes, I know that," the patrolman said in return.

Warned relative to his speeding, Mr. Fowden was allowed to continue his way, doing so under 45 miles per hour, however.

Orders given at headquarters direct the patrolmen to make as few arrests as possible, and probably that had something to do with Mr. Fowden's escape. He had a clear road and was driving carefully, it was stated, at the time.

Monks Defeat Bears Here Yesterday Morning, 8-4

Bunching their hits in the second inning, the Martin County "Monks" last Wednesday morning celebrated the Glorious Fourth here by defeating the Beaufort "Bears" in a well-played game by an 8 to 4 count. The visiting moundsman pitched a splendid game with the exception of the second frame when he allowed a number of hits, which, combined with a few errors, resulted in seven runs. Jimmy Brown, of the locals, got two two-baggers in this inning.

Cherry, on the mound for the Martin County aggregation, went well after he warmed up in the first frame, when the Bears made three of their eighth and last run in the third frame, Washington getting a fourth marker in the sixth.

May Call Conference To Aid Unemployed

Washington, July 4.—President Hoover is considering calling a conference to deal with the unemployment problem caused by supplanting men with machines, which was held to be a serious one by the special committee of economists which reported to him recently.

The conference is not in immediate prospect, but is a part of the "Hoover economic program" which the President expects to carry forward during his administration, and probably will follow the child welfare conference he announced recently he would call within nine months or a year.

Martin Loses to Beaufort in Washington Yesterday

Playing Beaufort at Washington yesterday afternoon, the Martin County Monks by a 7 to 1 count in the second game played between the two teams that day. Neither of the games figured in the league standing.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATED VERY QUIETLY IN THIS SECTION; FEW AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Many At Baseball Game Here in Morning; Large Crowds at Beaches

The Fourth of July was marked here for its quietness and the lack of accidents generally connected with the observance of the day. A goodly number of the local people remained home yesterday morning for the baseball game between Martin and Beaufort, but yesterday afternoon the ranks were scattered, few persons remaining here to take care of the town.

No celebration was held here, the town's citizenry, excepting a few and a very few at that, visiting the several near-by beaches.

MONDAY IS TIME FOR HEARING OF TAX COMPLAINTS

County Board of Commissioners Expect To Have Busy Day

EXPECT MANY KICKS Few Decreases Will Be Made Except Where Loss Has Been Caused by Fire, Lightning, Etc.

Many property owners are expected to enter complaints against the recent tax listings when the board of county commissioners meet here in special session next Monday to study the reports and consider justifiable changes. It is not at all likely that the commissioners will effect changes in the valuation on property where there have been no damage incurred during the past twelve months.

A few increases will be in order and a few adjustments will likely be made where the property has been damaged by fire or other uncontrollable factors.

Last year the board, while hearing the complaints, brought about a small increase in the valuation of the real property offered for consideration by the owners who hoped they would get a reduction in their taxes. It is believed that one will find it hard to have his property valuation changed unless fire has destroyed a home or some other building.

SECOND PLACE RESULT LOSS

Locals Lose to Hertford by 4-2 Count, and Drop One Notch in Standing

Losing to the Hertford Hares at Ahoskie last Wednesday, the Martin County Monks dropped to the second rung in the 4-county baseball league, Bertie tightening its hold on the first place by defeating the Beaufort Bears 13 to 3 the same day.

Shearin, for the Martin County nine, twirled a good game, allowing only eight hits. John White started for Hertford but gave way to Griffin in the third inning when he wrenched his arm.

The Monks were unable to bunch their hits, the game going to the Hares by a 4 to 2 count.

Score by innings:

Martin	001	000
Hertford	021	100

Bertie meets Hertford at Ahoskie today and Martin meets Beaufort in Washington. A good game is expected next Monday afternoon when the league leaders meet on the local high school diamond.
