Mrs. J. G. Staton Hostess At Bridge Luncheon
At her home last Thursday morning, Mrs. James G. Staton entertained with a bridge luncheon complimenting Mrs. C. B. Holton, of Collinswood, N. J., house guest of Mrs. F. U. Barnes.

After several progressions of bridge the hostess invited the guests to the dining room. The table was beautiful in its appointments, the center being graced with an attractive arrangement of summer flowers. A four-course luncheon was served.

Mrs. Frank J. Margolis Hostess Wednesday

Mrs. Frank J. Margolis entertained on Wednesday evening at her home on Smithwick Street with a bridge party. This was the second party she has had since moving into her new home a short while ago. The lovely interior of the Spanish type home with its furnishings to match was attractively decorated with numerous vases of vari-colored summer flowers.

Miss Ruth Manning made high score and received a mesh bag for a prize and Mrs. Gaylord Harrison was given a novelty pin holder for consolation prize.

After several progressions the hostess served a delicious salad course.

FARM NOTES
Bermuda Grass may be controlled by planting a heavy seeding of common lespedeza over the infested field, says L. E. Stewart, of Cabarrus County. Eighty-eight Alamance County farmers inspected the clover and hay fields of Rowan County on a recent tour. W. H. Avery, of Burke County, has begun construction of the first monolithic concrete silo to be built in the county. Mr. Avery sells whole milk in Morganton. Fifteen dairymen from Rutherford County made a trip of inspection to the Shuford Dairy Farm in Catawba in early August.

Though a county agent has been at work in Stokes County only since the first of July, he has already placed several pure-bred dairy heifers. It is no trouble to tell where corn has been planted after clover in Wilkes County. The growth is better. Machines to harvest sweet clover seed are being made from old binders at a cost of from $50 to $75 in Stanley County.

210 it's "STANDARD"

OUT of all the conflicting claims for gasoline, what is the motorist to believe? Here's a fact that means something: Throughout the territory where "Standard" improved Gasoline is sold it is now preferred by more than twice as many motorists as the leading competitive brand. Back of every gallon of "Standard" improved Gasoline are the facilities for producing the best gasoline. A large staff of scientists has the single-track job of putting "Standard" quality in the lead—and keeping it there! Compare "Standard" improved Gasoline with any other gasoline selling at regular prices—regardless of color or claims. Find out for yourself why it has won such a tremendous lead over all other brands.
