Kentucky Lady Was Weak And Felt Miserable. Dizzy Spells Quit After She Took Cardui.

Danville, Ky.—"For a long time, I suffered with severe headaches and pains in my sides and back," says Mrs. Lottie Smallwood, residing at 116 Fourth Street, this city.

"I was very weak, and just not able to go about or do my work. I just felt miserable, and so I, too, began taking it. I had been aching and hurting awfully.

"After I took Cardui, I quit having the dizzy spells. I kept on taking Cardui, and saw then that I was being helped. I was not nearly so weak, and from that time I have felt better. I took six bottles in all."

Cardui is a purely vegetable remedy and contains nothing harmful or injurious. It may be safely taken by a delicate young girl as well as by a feeble old lady. Cardui has been in use by women for over 50 years, and great numbers of women have reported that it helped them back to health. Get a bottle today.
