GETS $1,250 PRIZE FOR CAN OF PEAS

National Canning Contest Prize Won by Woman in Wisconsin

Great interest has been occasioned among a few local housewives in the announcement from Chicago of the prize winners in the National Canning Contest held recently by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. Among the Martin County women who had entries in the contest were Mrs. Lida E. Parker and Mrs. Emma Hurst, of Robertsonville.

The grand champion winner in the contest was Mrs. Mary Hyass, of Kenan, Wis., whose entry of a quart of green peas brought her $1,250. Mrs. Hyass was awarded first prize of $250 by the judges for the best entry in the vegetable class, and $1,000 as grand sweepstakes prize for the finest jar of food in the three classes of vegetables, fruits, and meats.

The first prize of $250 in the meat class went to Mrs. Dudley Brooks, of Roba Red, Ala., for a jar of chicken, while Miss Margery Derw, of Athol, Mass., won the prize of $250 on a jar of pears adjudged first in the fruit class.

In all, $5,825 in cash prizes were distributed to the 208 winners in the contest, in which more than 25,000 women and girls from every section of the United States had entries.

Fifteen Cases To Be Tried By Recorder Next Tuesday

Fifteen cases had been placed on the docket yesterday for trial at the next Tuesday session of the recorder's court. A case charging wife beating, the first of its kind to come up in some time, is on the docket. The other cases are of small purport, it is understood.

The cow was having a delightful time doing a little window shopping until she encountered Santa Claus who was standing on the corner ringing a bell. Bossy took one look at the white whiskers and started for St. Nick.

The bell-ringer escaped, however, and Chief of Police Jack Dempsey responded nobly to the occasion. He is seeking the owner of the cow, which is now on leash behind the town lock up.

DISLOCATES JAW BY WIDE YAWN

Negro of Near Statesville Has Unusual Accident Twice in One Day

Thomas Simonton, a colored resident of the Poplar Branch community, 65 years of age, finds that yawning brings disastrous results having suffered a dislocated jaw twice Tuesday while enjoying this apparently harmless and very exhilarating domestic diversion.

While at his home Tuesday morning, Simonton was seized with the desire to yawn, and when he stretched out his arms and opened wide his mouth, the low jaw bone flew out of place and he found that closing his mouth was impossible. He had the joint set at the Davis hospital, and went back to his home.

Tuesday night, feeling drowsy after becoming warm following hours contact with the damp, cold atmosphere that had hovered over this locality for several days, the aged man was seized with an uncontrollable desire to yawn, and when the aperture of his vocal organs again assumed its maximum size and capacity, the jaw bone flew out of place again and the same trouble was to do over.

With his mouth open as wide as the muscles of the lower jaw would permit, the aged man went through the night hoping in vain that his masticatory organ might assume its normal position. This morning, after spending hours without being able to take any nourishment except liquid, Simonton went back to the hospital and had the dislocated joint reset. He was resting comfortably about noon today.—Statesville Landmark.
