Regular Meeting of Twentieth Century Club

The Twentieth Century Club was entertained by Mrs. Wheeler Martin in its regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon at 3:45. There were no special guests.

The subject of study for the afternoon was "North Carolinians in Literature." Mrs. S. R. Biggs had a paper on O. Henry and other short story writers in North Carolina. Mrs. Elbert Peel read one, "Fiction—James Boyd," and the program was concluded by Mrs. Clayton Moore with a resume of current events. Mrs. Martin, assisted by Mrs. W. K. Parker, served delicious refreshments.

Parish Members Guests Of Episcopal Women

The Business Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Advent gave the members of this parish of the Episcopal Church a Christmas dinner at the Women's Club on Wednesday evening at 6:30. There were nearly one hundred present and it was a very delightful occasion, when the membership gathered together for the advancement of the general program of the church. Mr. Edmund Harding, of Washington, was a special guest of the auxiliary and he entertained with several selections on an accordion with piano attachments, vocal selections and jokes in his own characteristic manner. In many ways he added much to the success of the dinner.

Judge Clayton Moore made a very appropriate speech on "What the Church Means to a Man." His remarks were very good and carried the significance of the purpose of the meeting. The dinner was carried out in the regular Christmas style, the place cards and decorations bearing out the same idea. It was served by the Phila-thea class of the Baptist Church.

The members of the Business Women's Auxiliary are as follows: Mrs. John S. Cook, Mrs. J. W. Andrews, Mrs. C. O. Pardo, Mrs. F. E. Wynne, Mrs. C. B. Hassell, Miss Mary Cook, and Mrs. J. G. Staton president.

FOR BUSY FEET.

"Going Places and Doing Things" requires a stocking under whose lovely appearance hide the sturdiest wearing qualities—under whose fashionable coloring lurks real service. And that stocking is the now famous Gotham

GOTHAM "870"

Good looking to begin with—with the highest lustre, the glossiest texture, the richest silk. And long-wearing because it's a shear-service which means it looks a lot shaver than it really is.

In every fashion—right color
