A CENTURY of helping American Farmers MAKE BETTER CROPS

The coming year rounds out an even century since the first use of Chilean Nitrate of Soda in the United States.

Andrew Jackson, famous "Old Hickory," of Tennessee, was President of the United States in 1830 when the first cargo of this nitrogen fertilizer arrived by sailing vessel from far-off Chile. That was years before we had the telephone, the telegraph.

TO-DAY—On sheer merit alone... strictly on the basis of the good it has done, Chilean Nitrate to-day is the standard nitrogen fertilizer. Last year more than 800,000 farmers used it to make more money from their crops. Every cotton champion in the South... and every corn champion... made his winning crop with Chilean Nitrate.

For nearly half a century, Experiment Stations have proved the value of Chilean Nitrate. In Pennsylvania, for instance, experiments have been conducted continuously since 1881! The success obtained by farmers who use it, leads many more each year to follow their example. Chilean Nitrate pays back its small cost many times over.

Do not confuse Chilean Nitrate with other fertilizers. It is the world's only natural nitrate nitrogen. Not synthetic, but the real thing, mined and refined in Chile and nowhere else. It will pay you to insist on Chilean Nitrate. It is quick-acting food for almost every crop that grows... proved by 100 years of use.
