Faith Healing

Washington, North Carolina, had preaching for seven months without a let up, except only Monday nights when the preacher collected wind for another week's run. It is reasonably certain that no town in this State can measure up to the endurance record established over in Washington.

If the meeting had stressed nothing but spirit and soul healing, there should not be left in the town a single liar or thief. But the main feature of the meeting was for the healing of the body, the halt, the maimed, the blind and the lame; in fact, the meeting was advertised as a cure for paralysis, cancer, tuberculosis, and practically every ailment from a sore toe on up.

Rev. J. M. Creech, of Selma, N. C., was the evangelist claiming the Divine healing power. He is a man who has attended school but little and there are millions of men who outclass him by far in the general knowledge of things as taught by the Bible and science. The preacher apparently possesses sufficient power, however, to handle the will power of other men. He made them to do many peculiar stunts, and led many to think themselves healed. Perhaps some of those going to him for relief were helped in a way.

There is a wide difference in the healing methods followed by Jesus and those employed in the Creech meeting. The preacher called upon his subjects for long testimonials, praising his work and his miraculous cures. He used the testimonials over and over again. Following an hour during which testimony was solicited, a short sermon was preached, the minister using the same text often. That the man is a student of psychology was well illustrated in the method followed in raising cash. As the donors went to the front to contribute their offerings and shake hands with the healer, many of them would fall as if they had been shot dead at his feet. A deplorable sight it was to see many people, old and young, lying prostrate at his feet. The working organization was not perfect, for, at times the members of the salvaging crew were so completely overworked in removing the victims to their seats that the prostrate ones were piled three tier deep on the floor.

The peculiar work was placed on a higher level when a call was made to those desiring to be prayed for to come up. He claimed, at this time, that the Divine was playing down through him, that it would wipe out all types of diseases. And it is quite possible that some of the subjects may have forgotten their ailments.

When one man is able to hold a meeting for seven months regularly, his power and ability to do so are to be admitted. Nobody took issue with him because every man has the right to preach what he pleases, and everyone has the right to believe whatever he so desires to believe.

It is rather strange, however, that in a State where the Constitution requires a 6-months school that any many can go among a people, preach for seven long months, make the statement that he is the only man in the world who can heal divinely as did Christ and the Apostles and get anybody to believe him. We wonder if such a teaching is fair to little children who are innocent. Is it really treating the little ones right to give them such an impression of the Heavenly Father?

Certainly Rev. M. Creech acts and talks more like a man than a god, and he apparently knows more about men than he knows about God. He is stronger, apparently, in the power to enchant men than he is in the display of marvelous love and power of God. It is a long jump from the Apostles to Creech. We hardly think the diseases of men would have been neglected so long by a loving Father.

So far as we know, Mr. Creech has never performed a single miracle; he has, however, made men think they were well.

Foolish In the Extreme

The case of the Richmond society girl, Miss Frances McClenny, furnishes a new wonder. It is beyond the ordinary field of reason to explain why a beautiful, well cultured, popular and rich young girl would run away with a married man of little culture and little money to live with him as man and wife. The case apparently points to insanity, for certainly such an act is without reason. It may have been, on the other hand, a foolish case of adventure where only one side of the affair was considered. Or it may have been that Miss McClenny was the spoiled child of a rich family who felt as though she had the power to do as she pleased.

If this girl had been fully advised of the consequence of so foolish a deed, it is almost certain that she would not have acted as she did. Parents should always take the best care with their girls; it will save most of them.

FORD FINANCING PLAN HAS WIDE RANGE OF APPEAL

Lower Finance Charges of Universal Credit Company Make It Easy To Own a Ford Car

Universal Credit Company is now observing its second anniversary. This Ford financing organization provides uniform time payment plans at low cost for purchasers of Ford cars who desire to pay for their transportation as they use it. The approval accorded the UCC plans by dealers and public has been complete, with the result that millions of dollars have been saved for Ford purchasers through the lower finance charges of the UCC plan. An estimated saving of approximately $30,000,000 has been made for customers of Ford dealers during the past two years through the lower time sales charges created by UCC for the benefit of the public.

The organization of Universal Credit Company conforms squarely with the established policy of creating and developing every possible economy for the purchasing public in order that the Ford Car be available to the greatest number of people at the lowest possible cost.

UCC has succeeded in reducing the cost of credit to the purchaser of a Ford car, who chooses to pay for transportation out of income. This company operates on the basis of a small profit on a large volume of business. This reduction in the cost of credit is also aided by the many economies that arise from the operation of an established "Ford" plant, the sale of nationwide volume and with a credit organization restricting its business dealings to Ford dealers and Ford products. Simple forms and a uniformity of procedure contribute toward these credit economies.

In Universal Credit Company the cost of credit is considered to be just as important as the cost of the material that becomes a part of the automobile. Credit is a commodity that is important to a high percentage of purchasers. The amount of the finance charge influences the time delivered price of the car. Consequently, the lower finance charges of UCC naturally result in a price reduction on Ford cars.

Universal Credit Company now has thirty-two branch offices established throughout the country and employs nearly two thousand people. The company has successfully handled a volume of business in excess of $425,000,000 and has passed on important economies to nearly 800,000 time purchasers of Ford cars who secured the advantages of these authorized Ford finance plans during the last two years.

The UCC organization is vitally interested in the important question of creating additional good will for the Ford dealer and the Ford product with resulting courteous, quick, and confidential credit service for the customer. A standard fire and theft insurance policy for one year is issued to time purchasers and the cost is included in the terms of the UCC plans.

There is a branch office of the Universal Credit Company in Norfolk. The convenient terms and low cost features of UCC plans are available to Ford purchasers at the Williamston Motor Co., Williamston, N. C., who are authorized Ford dealers in this community.

IS USING IMPROVED FARMING METHODS

R. E. Tarkington, of Woodard, Grows Little of So-Called "Money Crops," But Plenty of Feed

In a conversation with R. E. Tarkington, prominent citizen of the Woodard section last week, it was brought out that instead of having to buy corn for feed at this time, as is the case with many farmers, he not only had plenty for his own use but was selling it to his neighbors and friends. Mr. Tarkington went on to explain that he did not go in so much for the "cash-crop" system of farming, raising no tobacco and very little cotton and peanuts.

He stated that ten years ago he was using around 40 tons of commercial fertilizer on his farm each season, following the usual plan of cultivation in the county. He then started planting a considerable acreage to corn, making the rows 6 feet apart with a row of soy beans in between. He says the money derived from the sale of the soy beans will usually pay for the fertilizer and cost of cultivating the crop, which leaves the entire yield of corn almost pure "velvet." He uses only about 10 tons of commercial fertilizer on his whole farm and is getting better yields from all crops than he was 10 years ago, besides keeping the soil in better condition. And, believe it or not, in a conversation lasting the better part of a half hour, the expression "hard times" was not mentioned even once.

WINS ALLIGATOR

Now Has Pet, But Doesn't Know What To Do With It

Tastes in pets vary widely. Mrs. Garvey Bazemore, of Lewiston, recently came into possession of an alligator, receiving the animal for a prize she won in an essay writing contest. Some time ago she answered an advertisement and wrote an essay on some subject or other. She had forgotten all about the matter, thinking that nothing more would come of it than from the ads offering a big car and gold to people who solve puzzles and send them in with their names and addresses. However, this company seemed bent on honesty, for the other day Mrs. Bazemore received a crate from Florida with a nice baby alligator in it, together with a letter stating that she had won it as a prize for her essay. And now she wonders how alligators are supposed to be cared for and what people are supposed to do with them when they come into possession of one.

RED CROSS PLANS ROADSIDE RELIEF

Bertie County Chapter to Follow Out Plans of National Organization To Aid Motorists

An extensive plan of emergency first aid service along the highways is now being projected by the American Red Cross, whose officials have been moved to act by the 30,000 deaths and million injuries due to automobile accidents last year.

The plan calls for the establishment of first aid service under Red Cross local chapters at cross roads and other danger points. Wayside stores, stations of highway police, community center, and the like, at convenient intervals, are suggested as locations for this emergency service.

Each Red Cross station will have on hand a complete kit of first aid supplies, a list of telephone numbers of physicians, ambulances and hospitals in the vicinity, which has been approved by the local medical society, and at least one person readily available who has been trained in Red Cross first aid.

The Red Cross has for some years been active in teaching first aid to policemen, firemen, Boy Scout leaders and executives and employees of telephone companies and other industries. They are prospective material for first-aid duty.

Markers are to be set up on the roads, indicating the direction and distance to the nearest first-aid station, also arrangements made for volunteer automobile transportation when necessary. All first aid services would be rendered by volunteers without charge as a part of a chapter's activities.

ADVISES BAGGING OF SEED TOBACCO

County Agent Says Put Paper Bag Over Head of Seed Stalks; Prevents Mixing

By B. E. Grant, Bertie County Agent

A few farmers began putting in tobacco last week. Others have had to start up this week. It now looks as if this crop will be short this year.

Tobacco farmers who have a good variety of tobacco should purchase a few 16-pound paper bags to bag the heads of their seed stalks to prevent mixing with inferior plants. Farmers who make a specialty of growing tobacco seed grow them under bags. Any tobacco farmer can do this. The head should be pruned up as soon as it is ready to begin blooming. A little poison should be dusted over the head before bagging for worm control. This is made by mixing one ounce of arsenate lead with 3 pounds of corn meal. Each week the bag should be removed and the old blooms shook out. After the plant is through blooming and the seed pods are hard the bags should be removed. We should have several farmers making a specialty of producing good seed in the county.

Would You Know One If You Saw It?

If you ever came face to face with a germ, would you recognize it? Of course it is not likely that you ever will see a germ, unless you own a tremendously powerful microscope, for you would have to magnify one over a thousand times to make it as big as a pin head. But you should recognize the fact that these tiny germs can get into your blood streams through the smallest cut, and give you typhoid fever, tuberculosis, lockjaw, blood poisoning, and many more dangerous and perhaps fatal diseases. There is one sure safeguard against these dangers — washing every cut, no matter how small, thoroughly with Liquid Borosone, the safe antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borosone at Clark's Drug Store.

MRS. PEARL HILL
"Loss of appetite, sick headaches, and indigestion had me in such a weakened, run-down condition that I couldn't leave the house for weeks at a time. Six bottles of Sargon restored my appetite without a trace of indigestion. I've gained 7 pounds, my nerves are so strengthened I enjoy sound, invigorating sleep and wake up fresh and cheerful with an abundance of energy and vitality."
