Farm Board Apparently Doomed

The Federal Farm Board which has been trying to bring prosperity to the farmer under the Farm Relief Act is apparently doomed to failure. The apparent failure is not because the law is wrong or that the board members are not good men. The resulting failure comes because we are producing more wheat than we can eat, more cotton than we can spin and more tobacco than we can chew and burn. We are faced with 200 million bushels of wheat surplus which we can't eat or sell. Several million more bales of cotton than we will be able to use or sell to our customers are on our hands.

What can the Farm Board do under such circumstances? If our government undertakes to absorb the surplus of these crops, it will only mean a greater glut in the future. Neither our folks at home nor our neighbors abroad are able to buy as lavishly as they used to buy. They will not be able to buy as freely in this generation as they once did. And for that reason, smaller production is the only thing that can safely depend upon to raise prices.

America has improved its farms and factories until we are a nation of over-production. We have thrown up a tariff wall against the products of other nations, and the countries affected are retaliating by not buying our crops and goods, leaving the American farmer with the bag to hold.

The Farm Board cannot help under the existing conditions.

Pellagra Increasing

Pellagra seems to be increasing in an alarming degree, one nearby town reporting seven cases recently. It seems to be a tin can and baking powder disease, and, according to the best information on the subject, it is one of the most needless of all diseases; in fact, it is said to be a disease that would not exist if we were to eat properly of such foods making for a balanced diet.

With all our schooling, we are either going slow in learning or we are neglecting altogether the important matter of knowing what to eat for health. When thousands are suffering from such a disease as pellagra, it is time for our schools to teach more and our county agents to push harder the important matter of feeding the human body for strength, growth and health.

In the face of the untold suffering that could be easily prevented, it would surely be no bad policy for the public schools to specialize along this line and stop the children from diseasing and dying because they fail to eat the proper foods.

Not Discreet in Reporting Weather

The fliers of the "K of New Haven" ought to have fallen, because they described the state of the weather as "rotten, beastly." Their report on the condition of the weather lacked culture and was made without appreciation for God's great natural system of sunshine and storm. They should have known before they started their flight that it is now and has ever been the divine plan of nature to have the storm and the calm, and it seems to us poor taste to express such conditions as either rotten or beastly.

We know of no more vulgar expression than "rotten" to describe the type of game or the kind of weather we have. The word used in this sense is not only slang it is vulgar slang.

Certainly Lindbergh did not feel that the rain and the fog that forced him almost down to the crest of the wave in his famous flight, did not call the condition of the weather either "beastly or rotten." We would like to hear boys and girls use some other word than "rotten" to describe the games that are not pleasing to them.

May Cause a National Boycott

Experts are now telling us we need not look to foreign markets, that we have ruined ours by trying to wreck theirs. We certainly need not expect to sell China our tobacco and at the same time refuse China the right to sell us peanuts. And that is just how things stand now. The foreign nations are making tobacco in large quantities every year, and are growing it much cheaper than we are. Not only do we create such conditions with China, but we do it with many of the other nations as well.

Our tariff may cause a national boycott directed at us yet.

FELT OUT OF SORTS

Arkansas Man Tells of the Good He Gets From Taking Black-Draught.

Mena, Ark.—"If there is a better laxative medicine made than Theoford's Black-Draught, I've never found it, and I tried a good many before I began taking Black-Draught about twenty years ago," writes Mr. H. F. Miller, who lives at 211 Eleventh Street, this city.

"I am satisfied with Black-Draught. When I feel all out of sorts, my feet seem to feel heavy, and I feel tired when I haven't worked; and I get a bad, slimy taste in my mouth, I just take two or three doses of Black-Draught and I feel better."

"I have found it good for indigestion, in fact for about everything it is recommended for. We just keep it in the house and use it for biliousness, headache and such complaints. I recommend Black-Draught to others."

This well-known medicine has been in use nearly 100 years, and its popularity is constantly increasing, as growing sales clearly prove. Don't trifle with counterfeits and questionable substitutes when you can so easily obtain the genuine Theoford's Black-Draught by always calling for it by name, "Theoford's." Costs only 1 cent a dose. Sold everywhere. NC-223

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old fashioned remedy, which you can get at 35c per bottle from Clark's Drug Store.

The Colonel's Opinion

"If there is a place on Mother Earth that is more favorable for the habitat of mankind than Eastern North Carolina, I have no knowledge of its location," says Colonel J. W. Harrelson, director of the State Department of Conservation and Development, in the June number of the bulletin issued by that department. "Combined effort and cooperation of the fishing interests may be expected to raise the annual income from commercial fishing operations from its present average of $10,000,000 to $100,000,000 or $150,000,000. And there is no need of great sums of money to bring all this about. Nature but needs a willingness on the part of the fishing interests to cooperate."
