

FORMS NO HARD CARBON

TEXACO MOTOR OIL
DROPPED HERE
LEFT NO HARD CARBON

Here's a test that anyone can make!

Drop a few drops of the new crack-proof Texaco Motor Oil onto the hot surface of a pan. Many motor oils burn up and leave a black smudge of heavy carbon. Texaco leaves only a faint trace—barely visible to the eye. Test the carbon spots with a knife blade. Prove to yourself that Texaco forms no hard carbon!

The purity of the new crack-proof Texaco Motor Oil is of the greatest importance to your car. It means a clean engine and a sweeter-running, longer-lasting car. Today, have the old oil drained from your crankcase. Refill with the new Texaco, the crack-proof, longer-lasting oil that forms no hard carbon. Wherever you see the Texaco Red Star with the Green T.

Friends:

You, no doubt, saw a recent comic strip of Mutt and Jeff where they were arrested for reckless driving, and when the magistrate asked who was driving the car Jeff replied that no one was driving—they were both on the back seat.

There are just as many back seat drivers in business as there are in autos, and they are just as dangerous to business as they are to traffic. What we have to tell you is not back seat driving, but an honest effort on our part to give you as a consumer the most complete cooperation possible for gasoline and oil people to render.

Let's get better acquainted and let's help each other make 1931 the best year all of us have had for a long time.

Yours very truly,

HARRISON OIL COMPANY.
