Starving for the Power of Exchange

Babson, the widely-known economist, is right when he says that the money of this country is all locked up and doing no one any good.

There is no earthly need for such a condition which is largely the result of mental fright.

The people are wand ring around, trying to find something to blame their troubles on, and of course, they have found some things to charge them up to such as taxes, schools and similar costs.

Our own prodigal acts that have carried us so far that we spent all we had and mortgaged our future are responsible for conditions as we find them at the present time.

There are those who are taking care of their money in old trunks and other hiding places, but that practice is inviting to the thief and robber and one of the two might get it yet.

Things To Do This Year

Things to do this year: Plant less cotton. Reduce the acreage of tobacco at least 25 per cent.

Our prosperity is planted in the field and there is where we will have to go to dig it out.

A few good things to have in every family are chickens, eggs, milk, butter, meat, potatoes, corn, field and garden vegetables.

Must Save Road to Freedom

Cripple the public schools and march civilization down to Babylon is the route mapped for the people by some.

We are in full sympathy with the demand for a more rigid economy in every department of our government. All salaries from the governor's on down should be adjusted to conform with the stringency of the times.

Only twelve years ago, land was sitting on the throne of prosperity. Now it is trailing the dust of poverty. Abolishing or materially weakening our schools will not raise it from the dust.

The owners of stocks and bonds in North Carolina have made by outraging the landowners of the State, many times more than all their taxes.

Now is the time for the common people to fight. They are already being held down by wealth. They should demand an education at the hands of wealth.

The man who demands the crippling of our schools is only helping to drive our children down to Babylon. The Prodigal Son had too much sense to cut off the road that lead back to the palace of his father.

Now the people of North Carolina may be poor and hungry, but they must not cut off their only road to freedom—the free public school.

"If Winter Comes"

"If winter comes spring cannot be far behind," reads a novel of more than usual interest which was published some years ago.

And Roger Babson came forth recently with the statement that the "frozen assets" about which we have heard so much, will eventually thaw out.

The famous statistician says: "Although these Eskimo banks are covered with snow, most of them—if given a chance—will emerge vigorous and active when the spring time of improving business again melts the congealed assets.

"It is up to every community to give support and encouragement to its local banks in these times."

We believe Mr. Babson is wrong however, when he says that the millions of depositors in closed banks in the United States "become pessimists of the worse sort."

Right here in Edenton we have seen some mighty good sportsmanship among depositors in the Citizens Bank. One of them, who is also a stockholder in the bank, said yesterday that he was "willing to do anything to help the situation out."

He is going on with his business hopefully and as if nothing had happened.

But going back to Babson. He suggests that chambers of commerce, Rotary clubs and other organizations form vigilance committees to "spike every malicious rumor about its banks and to make a business and social outcast of every tale-bearer."

Fortunately for this section there is a small percentage of those who insist on stepping on the gloom gas.—Edenton Daily News.
