Griffin - Whitley
The secret marriage of Miss Daisy Lena Whitley to Mr. James Edwin Griffin in Elizabeth City, Sunday, March 1, was announced by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Perkins Whitley, here last Saturday, the announcement taking the many friends of the young couple by great surprise. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin at the present time are in Georgia, where Mr. Griffin is connected with the Valdosta tobacco market this year.

Mrs. Griffin, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Whitley, has many friends here among the younger set. She is the granddaughter of James Augustus Whitley one of the three Confederate soldiers farthest at the battle of Gettysburg.

Mr. Griffin is the son of Mrs. William E. Griffin, this county, and is prominently connected with the Farmers Supply Company and the local tobacco market. Following his graduation from the Williamston High School, he attended the University of North Carolina, receiving his diploma from that institution in 1925.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffin will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Roberson, in New Town, after September 1.

Martin - Haislip
Coming as a surprise to their friends throughout this section is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Lillian Haislip and Mr. Roy Martin, the event taking place at the home of Rev. Hillman, of Greenville August 15th, in the presence of a few friends.

Mrs. Martin is a daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. J. T. Haislip, of Hassell, and is a popular teacher in the Farm Lief School. Mr. Martin is a prominent business man of Greenville.

Mrs. Charles Brindle, of London, Eng., who sued her husband for desertion because while there are 21 rooms in his house he chose to sleep on the kitchen table every night during the last two years, lost the case.

THE ROANOKE PEANUT PICKER

The Roanoke Picker is better, because it picks more bags per day. It is more durable—will last much longer and is easily operated. The Roanoke Peanut Picker is manufactured by the Harrington Manufacturing Company, of Lewiston, N. C.

We carry all parts and that is an important item when buying a machine. It should be taken into consideration. Let us demonstrate the machine for you.

29th Series Will Open September 5th

Are you saving any part of your income? When the average man is approached on the question of either taking building and loan stock or additional stock, he answers by saying that his income will not permit his saving any part of his salary. This being the case, what is to be done in case of sickness or other unforeseen troubles that mount in a moment's notice? You are either left at the mercy of charity or to the care of your friends; and in most cases your friends will not be in a position to give assistance, for they, too, have not been saving any part of their income.

It makes no difference how much or how little you make, you should force the habit of saving some small part of your salary each week, and there is no better way of saving than through the building and loan. In the last year or two the Martin County Building and Loan Association has given assistance to its stockholders when they could not secure help elsewhere. It saved any number from being embarrassed. With the depression and the small salaries being paid, it is almost imperative that you have building and loan stock. When times are good, loans are easily secured. When times are bad, it is practically impossible to secure a loan. If you don't believe it, try it once. You can't afford not to have some protection, even though it be small.

The Martin County Building and Loan Association has been organized since 1914, and thus far the association has never failed to make six per cent net for its stockholders and has never failed to make payments of our maturities, or to make stock loans, and has never failed to make any loan to help build or buy a house for any of its stockholders when consistent with good business.

The Building and Loan Association is one of the most worthy institutions in the county, and it is by no means a small organization. At this time it has loaned out, including both stock and mortgage loans more than one hundred thousand dollars and by these loans has helped the community and stockholders as the above amount represents savings.

While building and loan associations have felt the stress of the economic depression during the last year or two, every one of the 235 associations in the State has successfully weathered the storm and are in good working condition, according to a statement made by O. K. LaRoque, Deputy State Insurance Commissioner.

The 29th series of the Martin County Building and Loan Association will open the first Saturday in September, 1931, which is the 5th. We invite you to come to our offices in the Branch Banking and Trust Company and talk over the question of taking new or additional stock.
