Collects Dictionary On Weather; 15,000 Words

Some people collect stamps and some collect snuff boxes, but C. F. Talman, librarian of the United States Weather Bureau, is collecting words relating to the weather. His encyclopedic weather dictionary, when completed, will contain about 15,000 weather terms, including slang, dialect, and scientific names for weather phenomena. It may be some years before the dictionary is finished, but meanwhile each definition is filed on a card and the cards are in daily use as references for the scientists of the Weather Bureau and others.

Lespedeza has proved its value as a dry weather forage plant in Stanly county this season. Meadow hay and corn tops are refused by the livestock when this hay is available.

Forty club boys of Caldwell county will plant 25 seedling black walnut trees each this fall. The county agent has ordered 1,000 trees from funds donated by the Lenoir Chamber of Commerce.

Restless, could not sleep

"THERE were days when I felt like I could not get my work done. I would get so nervous and 'trembly' I would have to lie down. I was very restless, and could not sleep at night. My mother advised me to take Cardui, and I certainly am glad she did. It is the first thing that seemed to give me any strength. I felt better after the first bottle. I kept it up and am now feeling fine."—Mrs. T. R. Gibson, Fort Payne, Ala.
