SAYS THINGS NOT BAD AS MIGHT BE

Folks Decidedly Better Off Now Than 15 or 20 Years Ago

Raleigh.—"I am getting sick and tired of all this complaining and sobbing about hard times and that kind of stuff, when most people are decidedly better off right now than they were 15 and 20 years ago," says Sherwood Brockwell, State Fire Marshal, in commenting on conditions. "If people would stop thinking about their troubles and stop talking about them and get down to work and do something, everybody would soon stop thinking and talking about the situation and would be much more happy and contented."

"A state employee, even after having their salaries cut 30 per cent, will be getting more than state employees got back in 1912," Brockwell continued. "I remember that it was in 1912 that the city of Raleigh offered me the job as chief of the fire department for the munificent salary of $125 a month—and I was glad to get it. I had just finished a course in a school for firemen in New York, had worked for several months in a fire engine factory and had helped build some of the first automobile fire engines in use. In addition, I was a graduate in engineering. But that $125 a month looked good to me."

"The city council then authorized me to advertise for applications for firemen, who would get a salary of $55 a month and a place to sleep. We had 407 applications for those jobs within a few days time."

"Back in those days the Governor of North Carolina was getting only $3,600 a year and very few of the department heads got more than $1,800 or $2,000 a year and were glad to get that much."

"But to hear people talk these days, one would think the end of the world has come and that never before in the history of North Carolina have salaries ever been so low or times so hard. It is all a lot of bunk. The trouble is that most of us have short memories and don't know how well off we are and how much we have to be thankful for."

PRIZES FOR BEST ESSAYS ON MILK

Silver Cups Are Offered To High and Grammar School Pupils

By way of further endorsing and creating interest in the Milk-for-Health campaign that is being sponsored by the State Board of Health, Governor Gardner is offering two silver cups as state prizes, one to be awarded for the best essay written by a grammar school pupil, and the other for the best essay written by a high school pupil on the subject of milk and its proper use.

The date of the closing of the contest is noon, April 25, 1932, when all essays competing for the prize shall be in the office of the State Board of Health. Not more than five competing essays from graded school pupils and five essays from high school pupils shall be submitted from any one county. Name, address, age, and grade of pupil, together with name of teacher, school, and county, shall appear on each manuscript. Wording of essays must be original, while information may be obtained from any source. Limit of essays is 300 words.

While contestants may select their own titles, provided the theme deals with any phase of the food value of milk, its care and production, the following titles are suggested: The Dairy Cow, An Aid to Health; The Use of Milk in the Home; The Diary of a Bottle of Milk; Milk in the Diet of an Athlete; The Food Value of Milk and Dairy Products An Interview With My Doctor."

Birthday Party

While every one all over the county has been celebrating the bicentennial anniversary of George Washington's birthday, the friends of little Robert Everett, jr., who shares the 22nd day of February with George Washington as a birthday, helped him to celebrate at the home of his grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. James A. Everett, on Monday night from 6.30 to 8 o'clock.

The guests, who were all little boys except his two sisters, Hannah Vic and Julia Everett, were Ned Cunningham, Dick Dunn, jr., Elbert Peel, jr., Whit Purvis, jr., Jerry Clark and Roddy Everett.

The table was appropriately decorated with George Washington decorations and a three-course dinner was served. The hosts then carried the entire party to the theatre where they attended a picture show.

Here From Norfolk

Messrs. S. S. Keeling and E. R. Draper, of the Keeling-Easter Company, Norfolk, Va., were business visitors here yesterday.

COTTON DRESSES FOR GRADUATION

Oak City Seniors Will Not Have Silk Graduation Dresses

By Miss LORA E. SLEPPER
 It is believed the girls in the senior class of the Oak City school are leading the county in being the first group to wear cotton dresses for graduation. The following girls are in the graduating class: Thelma Haislip, Naomi Harrell, Olive Tyson, Dorothy Hines, Ruth Pearson, Mary Purvis, and Hazel Davis. The material to be used for graduation dresses will be the very fashionable eyelet-batiste in pink. Mr. Ainsley made it a ruling some time ago that no girl member of the graduating class could use silk as a material for graduation dresses. The girls have given their whole-hearted support to the ruling. Mr. H. M. Ainsley and the senior girls are to be commended for doing their bit to increase the use of the cotton fiber, cutting down the expense of dresses without sacrificing attractiveness.
