

WILL CELEBRATE SETTLEMENT OF ROANOKE ISLAND

Lindsay Warren Presents Measure to Provide for Commission

Representative Lindsay Warren on Tuesday presented a concurrent resolution in the House of Representatives, which was referred to the Committee on the Library, calling for the establishment of a commission composed of three Senators and three members of the House of Representatives to be known as the United States Roanoke Colony Commission, which shall report a plan and program for a celebration to be held in 1934 of the three hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of English-speaking civilization in America on Roanoke Island, North Carolina. The report of the commission must be presented to the Congress not later than December 15, 1932, and after that other legislation to provide for the celebration will be submitted.

On April 27, 1584, Sir Walter Raleigh sent out two vessels under command of the great explorers, M. Philip Amadas and M. Arthur Barlowe, which in July landed on Roanoke Island and selected same as the place for the first permanent settlement by the English in America. On July 3, 1585, a second expedition was sent out by Raleigh under Sir Richard Grenville, and in the year of 1587 Raleigh sent out his third expedition in charge of John White, whom he appointed governor. This last expedition, known in history as the Lost Colony, completely disappeared, and no trace was ever found of it. No further effort was made to colonize on Roanoke Island, and it was followed by the settlement at Jamestown in 1607. On August 13, 1857, a friendly Indian named Manteo, whose name has been perpetuated as the county seat of Dare County, was baptized, and this is the first known record of Christian baptism on the American continent.

On the 18th of August, 1587, the daughter of Governor White, and wife of Ananias Dare, gave birth to a child whom they named Virginia, and this was the first child of English parentage to be born on the American continent. A few years ago Congress erected a memorial to Virginia Dare.

STACEY W. WADE

Mr. Wade is a former Insurance Commissioner of North Carolina and a candidate for the Democratic nomination as Secretary of State in the June primary.

SECRETARY OF STATE GOAL OF STACEY WADE

Is Former Insurance Commissioner; Champion of Public Schools

(Note: This is the fourth of a series of stories that will deal with the views and competency of candidates for offices that concern the readers of the Beacon.)

Stacey W. Wade, candidate for Secretary of State, is an optimist on the future of North Carolina. As insurance commissioner from 1922 to 1927 he was conspicuous among the boosters for the Old North State.

"I have lost none of my faith in North Carolina," Mr. Wade declares. "We have been hard hit by the depression, but we shall come out of it as we have come out of others in our history, and we shall achieve even greater things than we did in the past. North Carolinians have lost none of the heroism that have carried them through vicissitudes and misfortunes."

Mr. Wade called attention to the fact that few states have as diversified resources as North Carolina, and none of them a greater history. North Carolina has been to the front in every war, he explained, and in peace they have done their full share toward making this the greatest nation in the world today.

While Mr. Wade has announced no formal platform he is a recognized champion of the public schools and no man in the state has given them more loyal backing than he.

The former insurance commissioner is confident that he will receive the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State. Since he announced his candidacy last August, he has traveled widely throughout the State, has come in contact with hundreds and thousands of its people, and reports that everywhere he has received most encouraging reports.

Mr. Wade is no stranger to public office. He served as deputy commissioner of insurance for a dozen years before becoming commissioner of insurance in 1922, being nominated and elected that year and re-elected by the people in 1924, but resigned in 1927 to devote himself to private business. Seldom has a retiring state official received so many expressions of appreciation as he did upon his retirement.

CHANGE IN DIET AIDS DAIRYING

More Fruit, Vegetables and Dairy Products Being Consumed

The change in diet of the American people during the past 20 years, to where more fruit, vegetables, and dairy products are consumed is causing a shift in production to meet these new demands and is especially having an effect on the dairy industry.

A. C. Kimrey, dairy extension specialist at State College, has been digging into these facts recently, and reports a phenomenal shift to milk, butter, and cheese during the last two decades. At the same time there has been a decline in the demand for meats. This increasing desire for dairy products, however, is having its effect in the keeping of more and better dairy cattle and is further resulting in the supply of meat to come as a by-product of the dairy industry.

In other words, the veal calves and palatable meat at a comparatively low price. This is because the meat is coming as a by-product of the dairy industry and not as the main purpose of the industry.

Mr. Kimrey also makes the point that the milk is the most economical producer of human food known in the animal kingdom. She can convert 100 pounds of feed into more pounds of human food than any other class of domestic livestock. This food is composed of milk, butterfat, and meat. A good example, says Kimrey, is cheese. One gallon of 5 per cent milk will make one pound of cheese, comparable with a pound of meat in food value and requires much less feed to produce.

"As the population of this country increases, and the land for each person decreases, the dairy cow and her product will supply a larger percentage of our food than she now does," says Mr. Kimrey.

ernment, but I also believe that the present standard of the public school system should not be lowered or the teacher's load made any heavier and that this standard should be improved as rapidly as economic conditions will permit.

I have heard some agitation that we should only have a six months school term and that only as far as the seventh grade instruction be given by the State. This is a short-sighted policy and a backward step in the development of our State.

I concur in the recent statement of

HOW ONE WOMAN LOST 10 LBS. IN A WEEK

Mrs. Betty Luedcke of Dayton, writes, "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at Clark's Drug Store, Inc., or any drug store in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

Dr. William Louis Potat that education is the greatest enemy to poverty and depression. The vocational department of public education at this time is teaching and leading the people in diversified farming, which is the only means of permanent rehabilitation.

"I believe that before we undertake to deprive our childhood of the normal advantages of education for the purpose of curtailing expenses we should seek to find some other way of retrenchment along lines less vital. I believe the present State standard of public education should be a minimum standard for the operation of public schools. I also believe that any community that is able and desires to supplement the present State standard along lines considered beneficial should be allowed to do so.

Mr. Fountain denounced the short ballot as being "contrary to Jeffersonian Democracy and only an effort to remove the government, from the control of the great masses of the people and place it in the hands of bureaus and commissions, which are beyond the reach of the people and whose appointments are often dictated by centralized and monopolistic wealth.
