will cut out one-fourth of the family's expenses for food. Don't let the human race suffer for the want of proper food, which can be produced on every farm. And if you can't get a cow; get a few goats. Their milk is just as good.

Gangsterism Much Overrated

People seem to be placing too much importance on the power of gangsters to do things. Some seem to think that Al Capone can find stolen babies, blind the stars, or pale the moon, when in fact about the only thing his type can do is to excite men to a spirit of lawless and inspire them to lie, plunder, steal, and kill—something that anybody can do.

What the public should do is denounce crime and gangsters rather than praise their knowledge, alertness, and bravery—which has a tendency to spur them on, and in a large way sets them up in the minds of young people as ideals. Much robbery and many murders have resulted from emulating bandit stars as portrayed in moving pictures, novels, newspaper "scoops," and the like.

Denounce gangsterism rather than exalt it.

The Singing Class

Brevard News.
"People who love little children miss much when they fail to attend the concerts, given each year, by the class from the Oxford Orphanage, Masonic institution. Aside from the splendid concert numbers rendered, and the enjoyment of the program itself, there is a finer joy and greater good coming to each and every one in such an audience.

"Men and women in the audience look upon the boys and girls of the class, as the concert begins and throughout the performance, in the knowledge that they are looking upon those whose fathers and mothers, or both in some instances, have been taken away forever. The thought then comes to the man in the audience, "What if I had died, and my own precious boy were in that group," or "what if my little girl had been placed in that group, through my death," and then it is that the most tender love comes to the surface, the finest feelings there are in men and women rise above all the base or selfish or hateful thoughts which might have been in one's mind a few hours previous to this moment.

"Somehow a man goes back home after these concerts, more conscious of the mercy and goodness of God in being permitted to still be at home, with one's own loved ones. There is a deeper love for one's own children, and a finer reverence for the children of all men, when one has been brought face to face with the fact that had it not been for God's own mercy and kindness, one's own children would be fatherless, and they, too, would be in some concert, or some kind of institution, being cared for by others.

"While support of these children is a great help to them, the blessing that comes to the one who helps is even greater."

Cooperation

On the day the last "independent" farmer joins a sound cooperative, agriculture will have real and permanent prosperity. And in the meantime, all farmers owe it to themselves and their calling to do everything possible to back up their cooperatives, not only through their own loyal support, but in bringing unorganized farmers into the fold. We live in a fast-moving, highly competitive world, and cooperation is perhaps even more essential to agriculture than to industry at large.—Charlotte Observer.

Riding for a Fall

Those politicians who have no platform except liquor are going to get the greatest setback this year they have had in many.

Women are not demanding drunken husbands. Children are not begging for drunken fathers. Merchants are not looking for drinking clerks. Sick people prefer sober doctors. The law prohibits drunken drivers. Drinking engineers are not allowed to enter locomotive cabs. Drinkers are not allowed to play baseball nor football.

Who does want drinkers for anything? What business or profession succeeds better with drinking men than with sober men?

Of course, liquor may help to deaden the shame of houses of ill repute. It may be good to give a fellow courage enough to commit a crime. But until somebody finds some way in which liquor may be used to make folks better, and some way to prevent it from doing harm, politicians will have a hard time putting the program of a gang of beer bums over the people for the sole purpose of making money out of them.

The liquor folks have done a lot of talking and printing to try to popularize their program, while the rank and file of people have kept quiet. This has, to some extent, given the liquor people encouragement. But when the real fight comes, the thinking people who know that man is nearer like God made him when sober than he is when drunk are going to stand like a wall against the liquor elements, made up principally of foreigners and people who want to manufacture and sell liquor for profit.

Get a Cow

How much effort are the people of this county making to carry out the program outlined in the recent campaign to provide more milk for the family use.

There is enough feed in this county to produce sufficient milk and butter to supply the entire population of the county. What we need on each farm is the cow and sufficient energy to milk and care for her.

If you are too poor to keep a cow, you may as well make up your mind that your children are going to be poorer and just as lazy and ignorant as you are. Get the cow and make preparations to feed her. It
