

CONSTITUTIONAL COMMISSION NOW BUSY WITH TASK

Variety of Subjects Taken Up At Recent Meeting In Raleigh

Raleigh.—Members of the commission engaged in studying recommendations to be included in a possible re-writing of the state's constitution met here recently to discuss taxation, education, the executive department, the supreme court, public welfare, and justice of the peace courts.

It was announced that the discussion sessions, which required two days, completed that phase of the work and that actual redrafting of the constitution would begin at the next meeting.

The commission has held several meetings to discuss proposed changes in the basic law of the state, and as a result of the decision to ask law schools of the state to aid in research work has received a great deal of data relating to taxation and courts.

When the commission's work is completed it will report to the 1933 General Assembly.

Under a constitutional amendment to be voted on at the general elections in November, provision is made that thereafter amendments may be submitted to the voters at either general or special elections. The present constitution requires that all amendments be submitted to the people for approval at general elections only.

Members of the commission are: W. P. Stacey, Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court; George E. Butler, of Clinton; J. O. Carr, of Wilmington; Burton Craig, of Winston-Salem; Allen J. Maxwell, of Raleigh; John J. Parker, of Charlotte; Clarence Poe, of Raleigh; Michael Schenck, of Hendersonville; Lindsay Warren, of Washington.

Alleged Assault in Chowan Attracts Attention Here

An alleged criminal assault occurring in Chowan County last Sunday attracted attention here when Patrolman Russell Braswell and others in this district were called to Edenton to help quiet what was described as an excited populace.

According to stories reaching here, Watson White, Chowan white man, attempted to criminally assault Mrs. D. E. Lawrence at the home of her sister Mrs. Doris White, Watson White's brother's wife. At the time the criminal assault was said to have been attempted, Woodrow White, was cut by a razor in his brother's hand.

Sunday night, Mrs. Lawrence returned to her home in Gates County suffering, physicians said, from a blow in the stomach that they fear may have seriously injured her. Police said Watson kicked her.

Last night Watson White's father is said to have delivered him into the hands of officers in Edenton.

Services, started in the Pentecostal Holiness church here several weeks ago, are still in progress.

Until it is changed, and while the taxpayers' income is so greatly reduced and the income from the farms, of which our county is largely composed, is so low, and while poverty and unemployment exist to the extent that it does now, I will donate one-third of the salary to the poor and unfortunate people of the county. Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just dumps in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Also often breaks out in skin blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your wife's system is poisoned. It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Repeat a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

Newspaper Advertising

THIS IS WORTH READING Display advertising in which the articles advertised are fully described has proved to be the most effective by far. Tests on advertising were made some time ago by the Chicago Tribune. Advertisements in which the descriptions of various articles were limited to one or two lines were run along with others carrying five lines of descriptive matter. The latter proved to have double the response.

Last Spring an Eastern concern made a complete canvass of its trade territory to ascertain the type of advertising with most appeal. Ninety per cent of those questioned were found to favor full description of merchandise together with prices. A few favored price alone and a smaller number favored the general prestige-building type. A merchant who is familiar with his own merchandise is apt to think because he knows every detail of the merchandise that every one else does. That is not true. People like to know just what they are going to buy; they like to have it described in detail, even to size and dimensions.

Mail order houses discovered this early in the game, and they have gone so far as to illustrate practically every item of merchandise, some in colors, and described to the smallest detail. They sell entirely through the printed word. What an advantage the local merchant has over the mail order catalog, if he would advertise along similar lines.

Catalogs are printed twice a year, while your county newspaper is printed twice a week. The merchant has the advantage of presenting seasonable advertising—he has the advantage of personal contact. The story of his goods is fresh each issue and the story is news. He has the advantage of the newcomers in the trade (territory) and the younger people who marry, who, before, had no thought of where to buy. The field is always widening for the local merchant if he has the vision to go out and fight for the business.

To fight for business, all that is necessary is proper advertising, which will sell the people on his store. The merchant who advertises for business with regularity, rain or shine, good roads or bad, is the merchant who is making advertising successful for him. The fact that people know where his store is means little. People like to know just what this merchant is doing, what new merchandise he has and why they should buy it. This is a day of competition and advertising leads the way.
