FIRESTONES ON WINNING AUTO

A graphic story of the remarkable part played by tires in the 500-mile international sweepstakes on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, yesterday, was told today by N. C. Green, of the Williamston Motor Co., Firestone dealers in this city. It was the thirteenth consecutive triumph for Firestone in this great motor racing classic.

"There is no more severe test of automobile tires than that to which they were put at Indianapolis," said Mr. Green.

"The cars darted along the straightaways at close to 150 miles an hour and swept into the embanked curves at an appalling pace. It was on these turns that the stress and strain was the hardest. As the cars dived into the turns, their momentum caused them to climb the embankment from the lower rim to the outer. This was an uncontrollable action by the car and is called 'drifting.' In these perilous moments it was necessary that there be a perfect coordination between the skill of man and the strength of steel and rubber to avoid disaster.

"At these terrific speeds one would expect to find great holes burned in the tread and the rubber worn entirely away. But nothing of the sort happened. An inspection of Firestone tires after they had traveled the full 500 miles revealed an amazing state of preservation. Very little wear was discernible.

"It is the patented construction features of Firestone tires which have made it possible for them to hold a supreme mastery for thirteen years in the 500-mile contest. Gum-dipping is one of these features. By this process the innermost fibers of the cord body are protected against the fierce heat which is other tires is developed by friction at high speeds. At 100 miles an hour the centrifugal force in a tire increases its circumference by more than 10 per cent, which would throw off the treads of ordinary tires. Firestone engineers solved this problem by means of a construction principle known as two extra gum dipped plies under the tread. By this patented method of construction the tread and body are held together in a perfect unit.

"The life of a racing driver is dependent at all times on the performance of his tires. It is not surprising that the majority choose Firestone."

It was the second time Mr. Harris' home has been entered during the past few weeks by uninvited guests, the intruders apparently thinking that Mr. Harris, a Standard Oil Company employee, carried the cash form sales in his pockets.

The following night, some one entered the homes of Robert Taylor and Stacy Cox on Smithwick Street here and stole several dollars from each of the men's pockets.

She is 81 years old this week. And accordingly, on the Sunday nearest her birthday, which is next Sunday, the church sets aside the entire morning hour for a service of appreciation in her honor.

Preparations are under way for the service now. The house will be beautifully decorated, there will be special music by the choir, and the hymns used in the service will be the hymns Mrs. Biggs loves best and has chosen herself. It is expected that the commodious building will be filled with her fellow church members and friends next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, when the people assembled in the spacious auditorium which, as the church's greatest benefactress, she has provided.

"Miracle Man" at Turnage Theatre In Washington

"The Miracle Man," in talking picturization, will be shown at the Turnage theatre, Washington, Thursday and Friday of this week, it was announced by the management today.

"The Miracle Man" appears in the fourth phase of a metamorphosis which is more the rule than the exception in these day of harking back to the old stand-bys for new thrills in the amusement world. It first saw the light of a fascinated reader's eye when it was published as a novel; next it became a successful Broadway play; thereafter a silent movie and now—a talkie.

A strong cast supports Sylvia Sidney and Chester Morris in the leading romantic roles.

The salary, being fixed by the legislature, will require another act to change it, which I will request at the next session. Until it is changed, and while the taxpayers' income is so greatly reduced and the income from the farms, of which our county is largely composed, is so low, and while poverty and unemployment exist to the extent that it does now, I will donate one-third of the salary to the poor and unfortunate people of the county.

Endorses Mr. Martin

I have always refrained from writing any political article recommending any candidate, but my good friend, Mr. Joseph F. Martin has announced his candidacy for a member of the board of education. Mr. Martin is competent, honest, and straight. I don't know his educational views, but know one thing, after being associated with him off and on in the warehouse business here for the past 10 or 12 years—you may rely on what he tells you, and he will be certain to vote right for the good of the county, and I heartily recommend him.

Yours truly,

W. T. MEADOWS.

ELI HOYT ANGE

For Member Board of Education

To the Democratic Voters of Martin County:

We, the undersigned citizen of Jamesville, wish to most heartily endorse Eli Hoyt Ange for membership on the Martin County Board of Education.

That position which he now holds by appointment by the County Democratic Executive Committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late John A. Getsinger.

We have known Mr. Ange from his boyhood. He attended the little country school of his neighborhood, then had two years in the Jamesville High School before going to Professor Lineberry's School at Winterville, which he attended for two years. He later graduated from Massey's Business College at Richmond, Virginia.

He has had a close, personal touch with the people and knows their needs and desires. At the same time he has a fair knowledge of the duties of the important office he now holds and to which he now aspires, which will naturally make him a useful servant of the people.

He is a man of honor and integrity and is held in high esteem by his neighbors and friends, with whom he has lived and worked all his life. And he is known to be a friend to all classes and kinds of people. We earnestly ask that you support him in the Primary on June 4th because we feel safe in assuring you that if elected, he will serve you faithfully.

Respectfully submitted,
