QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS AS TO FARM PROBLEMS

Mowing and Sprinkling of Lawns: Protecting Roses From Disease and Lice

Q. When is the best time to introduce new queen bees to bee colonies? Ans. New queens will be accepted more rapidly by old colonies if introduced during the honey flow. The old queen, however, should not be removed until about three weeks prior to the end of the flow or until her bees are no longer of use in the honey flow. The new queen should be introduced and laying about eight weeks before frost. This allows the rearing of young bees for the winter season. Failing queens should be replaced at any time by young, vigorous queens but care should be exercised to get those of good strains.

Q. How often should I mow and sprinkle my lawn for best results? Ans. Lawn grasses should be cut every week during the growing season. Cut smooth but not too close and allow all cuttings to remain on the lawn to add humus and conserve moisture. If the grasses have seeded this cutting should be removed. As to sprinkling, this is best left undone but if absolutely necessary it should be done at regular intervals. A good wetting once each week will do more for a lawn than light sprinkling each day.

Q. How can I protect my roses from disease and plant lice? Ans. Spray immediately with the Bordeaux mixture or potassium sulfide or dust with sulphur. The dusting should be made early in the morning when the foliage is wet with dew. Plant lice may be controlled by adding one teaspoonful of 40 percent nicotine sulphate to each three quarts of Bordeaux spray. If potassium sulfide is used as a disease spray instead of Bordeaux, it should be made up at the rate of one ounce of potassium sulfide to three quarts of water. This spray has the advantage of not discoloring the foliage. Both sprays should be continued at ten-day or two-week intervals during the season.

MAY TOP-DRESS TOBACCO WHEN PLANT IS SMALL

Use Quick-acting Nitrogen In An Effort To Get Uniform Crop

If the tobacco has started to grow off slowly with large plants and small plants, weak plants and vigorous plants in the same portion of a field, it might pay this season to side-dress the crop with an application of some quick-acting nitrogen material in an attempt to get plants of uniform growth and quality.

Usually the department of agronomy at State College does not recommend side-dressing tobacco but it may be safe to do so this year where the plants are all mixed as to sizes and conditions of growth and where not so much fertilizer was used at planting time. Particularly is this true on the lighter sandy soils.

E. Y. Floyd, extension tobacco specialist at State College, has been besieged with inquiries about this subject this season. Some growers did not use all the fertilizer purchased early in the spring for the reason that they did not have enough plants. Many wanted information about using this fertilizer around the tobacco.

"Where growers have used from 600 to 800 pounds an acre of an 8-3-3 fertilizer at planting, it would be safe on the lighter, sandy soils, where too much growth has not been had in the past, to mix up some quick-acting nitrogen material with some sulphate of potash or sulphate of potash-magnesia and use this at the rate of about 75 pounds an acre around the tobacco," says Mr. Floyd. "A mixture made of 50 pounds of nitrate of soda or 40 pounds of sulphate of ammonia with 100 pounds of the potash material would be good for this purpose."

After the tobacco plants have reached a height of from 12 to 15 inches, it is dangerous to use any kind or any amount of side applications of fertilizer, Floyd says. If top-dressing is to be done, it should be made at the first cultivation and certainly not later than the second plowing.

Recent rains and recovery of tobacco plants from blue mold have caused Columbus County growers to set a large acreage of late tobacco this season.

Wants To Join Navy (Colorado Lookout) The Navy Recruiting Office, Los Angeles, California, Dear Sir—I am a boy of 19. I am not popular with the fair sex, having only six steady girls. My income is only $30 a week with no chance for advancement, as my father owns the factory. I have graduated from college, and my father wants me to go to Paris on my vacation in company with my best girl. He has already rented a studio for me in the Palais d'Artistes, where all the artist models hang out. So you see, sir, my life is very miserable.

So, I wish to state that I do most earnestly desire to join the navy, away from the evils of the land, far from the arms of women. Sir, I pray that you will not turn me down. Eustace Stonefeller, Asylum for the Insane, Ward-Cucoo, Napa, California.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills.
