A Word of Caution

Farmers, don't let the rise in the price of tobacco make you lose sight of the value of the live-at-home program. You can't get rich as long as you depend upon the other fellow to produce your food and sell it to you, but you can go hungry by doing it.

Social Justice

Candidate Roosevelt made a good point in his Detroit speech when he pleaded for social justice.

He was in the city that has created more wealth in a short time than any other city in the world of its size—but which now has more hungry, dependent people than any other city of its size.

The wealth was created by high wages paid men and high prices for materials to produce something that was sold and drew money from all corners of the

Delinquent Tax Sale

Deferred Until NOVEMBER FIRST

Realizing that there will be any number of people in this county who will be able to pay their taxes on or before November 1st, we have decided to postpone the sale until November.

Pay Your Taxes

this month, for there will be no further extension after this month. The sale was deferred to save embarrassment to a large number of people who can pay their taxes this month, and we would appreciate your cooperation by paying in full this month all delinquent taxes.

earth. When all the substance these corners had was drawn away and they could not longer buy, then Death suffered. They had nothing to do.

The same rule applies to practically every other kind of business. The world has sold goods too high. The buyers did not get value received, and now the only thing we have to remind us of our trade is the past due note staring us in the face.

We need a new order, and a better business system in individual businesses.

Need More Cows

Now is a good time to buy that family cow.

Almost every farm has plenty of waste feed to keep the cow going during the whole winter, and next spring the grass will come again. The cow's natural food—an acre of grass will pay a bigger profit than cotton, corn, tobacco, or peanuts, and it is a lot easier because the cow does all the farming.

Every family in Martin County needs milk—plenty of milk will save a lot of doctors' bills and medicines, as well as save about one-third of the living cost of the average farmer.

Good cows can be bought cheaply now, and every farmer should help to make himself and his country prosperous by buying and keeping a good cow.

The Seat of Our Troubles

There are a few questions which no man has yet answered to the full satisfaction of everybody.

Most people still have different opinions about our present financial troubles. Doubtless there are more than a score of reasons. One of the greatest of them all is gambling. More fraud has been committed and more people have been destroyed on the New York and Chicago stock exchanges than at any other places in the country. In fact, enough money has been lost on these markets by innocent, ignorant investors to break the country a half dozen times.

The Insull financial collapse cost the country many millions, also the Krueger match king fraud made many men kill themselves, besides Mr. Krueger himself.

And then the general speculation for the past 15 years has almost approached the gambling spirit. If the people had bought nothing unseen, or things that had not been proven by honest test, then conditions would not half so bad as they are.
