

Tobacco Campaign Gets Under Way

With the arrival at State College of the first batch of tobacco contracts, plans for getting the acreage adjustment campaign under way at once are now going forward rapidly.

During the past week, the publications office at State College has mailed to county farm agents in the 57 counties growing flue-cured tobacco over one million blanks, forms and other printed supplies to be used in connection with the campaign.

The agents are expected to have in their hands all necessary copies of the contract by the close of this week and growers are asked to begin immediately to change their old agreements, signed in September, into legal contracts with the secretary of agriculture.

At the same time, growers are also urged to secure the necessary data showing the amount and price of tobacco sold before the marketing holiday and after the holiday and before the agreement made with the big buying companies on October 7.

Those who secure this information with proof of its correctness, will get a compensation payment for such tobacco sold. This compensation payment will be 20 per cent of the value of the tobacco sold before the holiday and 10 per cent of the value of that sold between the holiday and the signing of the marketing agreement.

MUCH DAMAGE REPORTED BY FOREST FIRES

Showers Of Sunday Bring Temporary Relief From Pall Of Smoke

Reports of damage from many forest fires burning in the county have been received here within the past few days, with serious damage to dwellings, timber and swamp lands. The pall of smoke which has been hanging over some sections of the county while forest fires raged, was not subdued to any great extent until Sunday night when light showers brought temporary relief.

6 ROAD PROJECTS IN EACH COUNTY OF STATE IS PLAN

Is Part of Plan To Put Four Million People To Work This Winter

Washington.—As part of the plan to put 4,000,000 men now on part time relief work on full time, under the new Civil Works Administration, every state highway commission has been urged to find a minimum of 6 road projects in each of the 3,000 counties in the country on which road maintenance expenditures of not more than $5,000 each can be made promptly.

It fully realized, this would mean some 18,000 projects involving potential outlay of $90,000,000. The cost is to be advanced in the proportion of 65 per cent from Federal relief funds and 35 per cent from Federal road aid to States.

Highway commissions were asked to list immediately projects available in unemployed areas.

The new Civil Works Administration is conducted by the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator, with the same office force. President Roosevelt set apart for it $400,000,000 from the public works fund to hasten full time employment of present part-time workers now on relief rolls with the purpose of making them self-sustaining.

Mrs. F. O. Christopher, of Murphy, is spending several days here with her brother, Rev. C. H. Dickey, and family.

First New York Sky Train Thrills Millions

Sky Train soars above Manhattan's towers in a daring demonstration that the world changes.

THE "sky train" has arrived — and with it another forward step in the panorama of progress. While millions of New Yorkers thrilled at the sight, the "sky train"—an airplane as "locomotive" hauling two motorless gliders as "passenger coaches"—soared above Manhattan's towering skyscrapers in a daring demonstration of the fact that the world changes.

Piloting one of the gliders in this record-making feat was a famous glider enthusiast and holder of soaring records in motorless planes. In the second glider was a prominent New York City pilot, while up front at the controls of the train's "engine" sat Elwood Kelm in his sturdy biplane.

How soon "sky trains" on regular schedule will speed along the air trail blazed by these daring
