Entitled to Justice Only

The air mail people seem to be in need of political leadership as well as legal guidance.

They have secured the services of Ex-Governor O. Max Gardner, who is evidently a better advocate in political parleys than he is in legal adjustments.

Certainly the air mail people are entitled to justice, but they are not entitled to more than justice, and they certainly are not entitled to favors through political "pull."

The political influences around Washington have given a few groups of business people billions of dollars, which the American people are having to pay in the form of taxes.

Organized Labor Fighting for Life

Industry is squeaking against proposed laws protecting organized labor. They forget that the only reason labor has attempted to organize was for the purpose of saving its life from the savage graft of organized industry, and if the power of wealth to organize is permitted, then the sooner the laboring man dies the better it will be for him, because he will soon be starved to death or be choked to death by chains.

Organized labor has never hurt the country. We are the victims of organized wealth, which has lost its love for humanity and has only a maw for dividends.

Judge Small Enforces the Law

Judge Walter L. Small is against abandonment and non-support.

Two cases came into his court last week, both of which had been hanging fire for some time, both defendants having apparently taken the attitude that "it is none of your business if I do leave my wife and let my children starve." Both of them struck water too deep for them, however, when they came before Judge Small. His first move was to send one of the defendants to the roads for 18 months, suspended, however for 5 years, upon the payment into the court for the use of his family $7.50 on the 15th and 30th day of each month during that period; with strict injunction, if not paid as directed, to issue capias and let him go to the roads. In the other case the sentence was for 20 months on the roads.

Certainly we are neither for nor against either of these poor unfortunate fellows. But we are heartily with the law that frowns down on a man who marries a woman and leaves her and a bunch of his children and floats around the country while they suffer.

Our legislature did a shameful thing when it made two years' separation grounds for divorce, so that now when a woman gets tired of her own husband and wants another man—who generally is not as good as the one she has—she leaves without an excuse and gets a divorce. In the case of a man who wants to splurge around and dodge the responsibility of caring for his family, he walks out on them and lets them live or die.

We give thanks for the laws and for judges who are willing to enforce them.

One Place That Is Neglected

The civil works administration and emergency relief departments have diligently sought to give employment to as many needy people as possible, making for shorter hours and easy work at good wages. Much work, nonessential to the good of the country, has been done, and some of it would have been better left undone. One place, however, has been neglected and that is the emergency relief offices, especially in this county where the hours observed have been long and the work in a rush from morning until night. The employees there have not had sufficient time to make proper inquiry and investigate fully the hundreds of claims and applications placed before them. The situation is even more alarming when consideration must be given to the routine of keeping hundreds of reports ready for the various departments in Raleigh and Washington.

With a larger force with them to make a personal investigation of every case much could be saved, surely more than enough to pay the expense of additional help in the offices. And the service would prove more satisfactory to those in need.

The Truth About War

Mothers, warn your boys of the danger of war. It is no more than a death racket. If they should listen to the propaganda of the wealthy manufacturers of war materials, who want to make more great fortunes for themselves, these boys may get the idea that war is honorable and patriotic and the proper thing for men to indulge in—when, as a matter of fact, greed and selfishness are at the bottom of 99 per cent of all wars.

First degree murder is perhaps fully as justifiable as war. Tell all the people of the horrors of war and who are the losers; then they will keep out of war.

One Good Turn Deserves Another

Judge N. A. Sinclair evidently has gratitude and thinks one good turn deserves another.

It has not been so very long since Jimmy Raynor, an erstwhile, slick politician employed by Judge N. A. Sinclair to defend him in federal court at Wilson on a charge of transporting liquor, was seen stamping around the front door of the grand jury room in that court praying to see a member of the jury at the very time the Sinclair case was being presented for consideration. The jury failed to find a true bill against the superior court judge.

Now Raynor, who has been convicted for bribes; witnesses and has been in the Laurinburg jail for a few days, rushes to his same old friend, Judge N. A. Sinclair, under habeas corpus proceedings for help. The Judge promptly turned him out, failing to give the clerk of court time to have the solvency of the bond verified. Many mean things are done even in the courts. There isn't so much wonder, however, when we consider that some judges will go to court and drink and revel as Judge Sinclair is said to have done.

We are still a long way below the line of perfect rectitude even in some of our courts.

The Arch-Enemy of Man

That old arch enemy of man—alcohol—is still cursing him.

The Philadelphia police report a big increase in arrests of drunken automobile drivers since beer and liquor were legalized.

We can always be sure that alcohol hurts its friends worse than it does its enemies, so why be a friend to your enemy and to the enemy of all other people?

The Summary for the Year

Sturdy News and Press.

While the majority of the people of this country are satisfied to leave everything to the judgment of President Roosevelt, there is still a feeling among all his millions of friends that they would like to see summed up in a few words his accomplishments for the first year. They would also like to see what may be listed as liabilities which he has created during the same period of time.

Perhaps the best summary of President Roosevelt's first year was printed in the United States News on March 5th. Listed as Administration assets were: Restored confidence in the banks; rapid liquidation of closed banks; insurance of bank deposits up to $2,500; increased farm prices; rescued local relief from breakdown; built up navy; saved property owners from foreclosure; effective campaign against kidnapers; better relations with Latin-America; fixed minimum wages; diminished child labor; protection for business against cut-throat competition; revaluation of the dollar at about 60 cents; revived faith of working population; stimulated employment; improved public confidence. On the liability side, the News lists: Largest deficit in history; failure to provide comprehensive revenue-getting plan for future; the securities act; stagnation of capital markets; lack of co-ordination among government agencies; repudiation of gold pledge; damage done by gold purchase policy; usurpation of powers of states; government competition with business; unfairness to aviation industry; tragedy of army fliers; revival of spoils system in public offices; waste and scandals in CWA and war department purchases.

When you consider the assets, "revived faith of working population" and "improved public confidence", all things listed on the liability side pale into insignificance.

What Do You Think?

Sampson Independent. Your own attitude toward others and the world in general plays an important part in making easy or difficult your path through life. Much depends on how you see things and what you think, whether it be right or wrong. The following from an Exchange under the caption, As a Man Thinketh, is a classic worth passing along:

If a man thinks everyone is against him, he will soon begin to treat them so they will be. If he thinks everyone is his friend, he will unconsciously treat them as such, and they will soon be his friends.

The man who lives his daily life according to this formula has in his make-up a philosophy that will make his life brighter. If we put into all the relations with our fellows a full measure of friendliness and good will, we are pretty sure to get it back, full and overflowing. On the other hand, if a man is suspicious of everybody, everyone will be suspicious of him. The man who goes about looking for a fight is sure to get licked some day, good and plenty.

True friendliness is founded on sincerity. And sincerity is about the only thing in this world that can't be counterfeited. The impulse toward friendliness springs from the very soul of man.

The world needs friendliness, and kindness, and good will; not on Sundays only, but every day in the week and every hour of the day. Think friendly thoughts. Put your faith in men. Believe they are your friends and they will be.

Home Garden Acre Has High Value

The value of a home garden has been demonstrated by the detailed reports of 16 farm women who produced $1,966.25 worth of truck on a total of 12 1-4 acres of garden, says E. B. Morrow, extension horticulturist at State College.

Of this amount, sales amounted to $944.77, fruits and vegetables used at home were valued at $751.03, and 1,803 quarts of canned goods were preserved at a value of $270.45.

The 16 gardens represented $122.89 for each family, and a per acre value of $160.51. The cost per acre for seed, fertilizer, and spray materials was $10. This compares well with the State average of $124.15 per acre for tobacco and $35.03 for cotton, Morrow says.

Farmers Are Still Talking About Those Big Crops Made From Swifts Fertilizer

The tobacco growers in Martin County have discovered a new kind of fertilizer. Last year Swift and Company made the Pool Fertilizer, and the results obtained from the use of this fertilizer were outstanding. One of the reasons for this was that this fertilizer was made physiologically neutral (non-acid forming). Physiologically neutral means that it cannot leave harmful acid residue in the soil, which endangers the quality and yield of the tobacco.

We are told that acid injury has caused many growers to lose hundreds of dollars, and we are sure that the farmers in this section will be glad to know that they can now get a fertilizer which is sold with the assurance that it is non-acid forming. This new type of fertilizer, which is a result of several years study by scientists, is rich and full strength, yet it never changes the pH of the soil.

This fertilizer this year is again manufactured by Swift & Company Fertilizer Works and put out under the brand names of Red Steer and Pioneer.

Undoubtedly the farmers in this section will want to investigate the merits of this fertilizer when buying fertilizer this year as the fertilizer that does not subject your crop to acid injury is a safe fertilizer to use.

In addition to making a non-acid forming fertilizer Swift & Company Fertilizer Works still attach a Certificate of Quality to all fertilizers manufactured by them which assures best materials, double mixed and triple tested.
