

14 CONSECUTIVE WINS RECORDED BY LOCAL TEAM

Defeat Plymouth Team In Two Holiday Games Last Wednesday

Winning its fourteenth consecutive game Wednesday afternoon, Williamston's baseball team increased its lead in the Albemarle League to four full games over the nearest team and greatly added to its chances of annexing the honors in the first half of the season play. The club has established a record in this section for its streak of victories.

Behind the pitching of Kugler, the Martins last Monday annexed their fifth shut-out of the season at the expense of the Elizabeth City Jays, Gardner accounting for three and Cherry one prior to that time. Kugler allowed only five hits, while the Martins, led by Brogden and Gaylord, with three hits each, hit safely 10 times to score the 5 to 0 victory.

The last Tuesday game was an unusual one. The Martins scored 10 runs on 11 hits, 9 walks, and 3 errors. Goodmon walked on four out of five trips to the plate. Herring allowed only 8 hits, struck out 11 batters, and accounted for one out and seven assists. Gaylord, with 4 hits out of four official times at bat, led the attack for the Martins, followed by Earp, Brake, and Herring, with 2 hits each. Uzzle, Gaylord, Earp, and Dozier stole bases, Uzzle's steal featuring. The game was the first errorless contest chalked up by the Martins this season.

In the first of the two holiday contests on the Fourth, the Martins scored twice in the fourth frame here that morning to register a 2 to 0 win over Plymouth. It was the second shut-out contest handled by Cherry this season, the visitors hitting safely only 6 times. Dozier and Uzzle accounted for two each of the five hits, Brogden making the fifth safe blow. A large crowd was present for the main holiday event in this section.

Going to Plymouth that afternoon, the Martins outthrew their opponents, 11 to 8, to add a 6 to 3 victory to their long string. Gardner worked on the mound for Williamston until the sixth frame when Gaddy took charge, allowing three hits in 3 2-3 innings. Goodmon, Brake, Brogden and Earp got two hits each, Taylor, Uzzle and Gaddy getting one apiece, Brogden hitting one out of the park for a home run.

The teams were idle yesterday. Only seven more contests are scheduled in the first half.

Griffins Farmer Reports Large Irish Potato Yield

One of the largest Irish potato yields heard of in this county was reported yesterday by Farmer Pleny Peel, of Griffins Township. On four and one-half acres, Mr. Peel produced 472 barrels of No. 1 potatoes, the particular grade being made up of potatoes not too large and not too small. The yield ran as high as 150 barrels to the acre, and it is estimated that the total production was more than 600 barrels. And Griffins Township is not recognized as a great Irish potato producing center.

The record low production mark was reported by Farmer Lee House, of Robersonville, two or three weeks ago. Mr. House planted six barrels of seed potatoes, harvest seven barrels and five of them were turned down by the inspector.

JEALOUS NEGRO WOMAN SHOTS MAN TO DEATH

Phoebe Moore Fires Shot Through Sam Simmons on Church Street Here

Sam Simmons, 35-year-old colored man, was fatally shot on Church Street here last Tuesday morning about 9 o'clock by an alleged jealous lover, Phoebe Moore, 27-year-old colored woman. Simmons fell mortally wounded in the yard of Mrs. Myrtle Brown, where he ran in an effort to escape a fusillade of shots fired from a .45-caliber automatic pistol. The shot causing his death entered the left side and plowed all the way through the body, leaving a hole larger than a man's thumb.

After praying for mercy and yelling for help, Simmons is said to have asked a doctor to save his life. He told who had shot him, but his vitality weakened so rapidly that he talked very little after that. He died at his home a few minutes later, the doctor explaining that it was useless to move him to a hospital.

The exact trouble leading up to the shooting has not been advanced, the murderer claiming that he had threatened her life in a quarrel the night before. She is alleged to have been jealous and resented his paying attention to other women. Shortly after the murder, she claimed that she did not want him to go with her, but it is understood that she had visited him on several occasions at the J. W. Manning electrical store room on Elm Street, and that she saw him there a few hours before the shooting.

After serving the morning meal in the home of Miss Sarah Harrell, where she was employed, the Moore woman slipped the big pistol from the Harrell home, wrapped it in a newspaper and went in search of Simmons. She found him talking to Perry Brown in an automobile near the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Harrison, jr., on Church Street. Without warning and with several white children hardly more than 15 steps away, she opened fire on the man, killing him in cold blood. Brown is said to have started his car then and there, and a third man, named Purvis, ran with him, seeking refuge in neighboring white homes. Simmons ran down the street the woman following and firing upon him as he ran. Five shots were fired, the woman continuing to pull the trigger on the empty shells. When Simmons fell, she wrapped the pistol again in the newspaper and ran back to her work. When officers made the arrest, they found her bent over in a corner crying. Later in jail she wanted to know if Simmons had been moved to a hospital and wept bitterly when she learned he was dead.

A warrant, charging murder in the first degree, has been preferred against the woman, but no preliminary hearing has been held. Judging from the facts heard in the case so far, it is expected that bond will be denied her. Said to be a native of Virginia, the woman came here about six years ago with her mother, Nora Elliott. Simmons moved south from Philadelphia before he was grown, and during the past ten or twelve years worked here as a telephone linesman and more recently as an able electrician's helper. He was recognized as a quiet man, respected his superiors and was dependable and very efficient in his work. He is said to have had numerous love affairs, but was able to master them well until a few months ago.

County Court Disposes of Only One Case Tuesday

While several cases were called, only one was disposed of in the county court here last Tuesday. Fayette Cross, charged with operating an automobile without proper lights, was adjudged guilty. The court suspended judgment upon the payment of the costs.

ORDER TAX SALE TO TAKE PLACE IN SEPTEMBER

County Board Does Not Have Power To Order Postponement

Meeting in regular session last Monday, the Martin County commissioners ordered the sale of all lands for delinquent taxes on the first Monday in September, advertisement of the delinquent list to appear the first week in August. This action was taken in accordance with the dictates of the law, the authorities investigating the law in detail in an effort to delay the sale. The commissioners were unable to delay the sale, leaving only one opportunity open to have the action temporarily postponed. An injunction brought against the tax collector might postpone the sale, but even in that action he judge hearing the petition may refuse to grant the request and direct that property be sold for delinquent taxes in September.

A report released by Sheriff C. B. Roebuck shows that $121,824.36 of the 1933 levy has been collected, the report reflecting an improved condition in the collection of taxes. If the sale is postponed, say until early November, it is believed that much of the $56,785.40 now unpaid will be cleared from the books by that time. Last November around 1,500 tracts of land was offered for sale, representing nearly $50,000 in unpaid taxes. The 1933 unpaid amount is less than what the 1932 balance was at the same time last year, clearly indicating that the delinquent list will be smaller if the sale is postponed.

While the commissioners discussed several matters, only two other official acts were recorded outside the order directing tax sales be made and the handling of routine duties. A resolution was passed urging the state to work the road from Batts Store to Smithwick's Creek church and the road from highway 30 to Bear Grass, and sections necessary on the Washington-Jamesville route.

Olive High, of Goose Nest, was allowed the sum of $1 monthly.

'SPUD' MARKET GOES TO PIECES

Market Hardly Active with Prices Reported as Low as $1.25 a Barrel

The Irish potato market, after a slight price increase a few days ago, drooped again this week, with virtually no demand evident for the cobbles at any price. Welfare purchases were being made at $1.25 a barrel, it was reported, but the withdrawals made by relief purchases apparently failed to hold the general market price to a point profitable to the grower.

Digging activities are about completed here, most farmers in this section having sold their crops before the price rise developed. The crop will probably be harvested in its entirety in this section by tomorrow or early next week.

Charlie Wiggins Caught Stealing Cow Tuesday

Charlie Wiggins, colored, is in the county jail in default of a $500 bond for the alleged theft of a cow from Thomas Ryan, sr., colored man, here last Tuesday night. He is scheduled for trial in the superior court.

Borrowing a truck, Wiggins is said to have loaded the cow on the machine in sight of the county's house of justice. Missing his cow, the owner notified Officer Allsbrooks, who trailed and overtook Wiggins with the cow near the Roberson slaughter house.

Bond was fixed following a hearing held before Justice J. L. Hassell later that evening.

LEGION BEAUTY CONTEST TO BE PUT ON TONIGHT

Winner Will Be Given Trip To State Convention In Greensboro

With the names of 64 of Martin County's prettiest young women already entered, the American Legion Beauty Contest in the high school auditorium here this evening promises to be the most spectacular event of its kind ever attempted here. Legion auxiliary members have spent much time making complete the many arrangements and several sections of the county will be represented, an incomplete list of entrants indicated today.

Similar contests are being held throughout the state, each legion post selecting its representative to take part in the State-wide beauty pageant to be held in Greensboro during the state legion meeting. The lovely ladies will compete at Greensboro for a free trip to the national convention of the legion to be held in Miami next October when and where "Miss America" will be chosen.

A small admission fee of 10 and 25 cents will be charged to defray expenses.

The program, handled by local talent, includes: Medley by young men; tap dancing by Mary Gwen Osborne and Elva Mae Mishoe; interpretative dancing by Mary Davis Hardison; solo by Walter Cook; and a reading by Virginia Dare Smith, of Robersonville.

Various committees: Publicity—Mesdames H. L. Swain, John A. Ward, W. E. Dunn, V. A. Ward, and Miss Eva I. Peele.

Tickets: Mesdames W. E. Dunn, W. A. Cherry, H. L. Swain, John A. Ward, V. A. Ward, Wm. H. Gray, and Mack Wynne.

Contestants: Mesdames E. S. Peel, J. Sam Getsinger, and R. H. Goodmon. Program: Miss Eva I. Peele; Mrs. H. L. Swain, and Miss Katherine Hardison.

Decorations: Mesdames R. H. Goodmon, E. H. Wagner and J. Robert Leggett.

The judges will be out-of-town legionnaires.

Entrants from Robersonville include: Anna Louise Taylor, Marjorie Smith, Blanche Whitfield, Evelyn Williams, Hazel Roberson, Delia Ross, Mae Krider Hargrove, Lillian Dell Moyer, Cleo James, Magnolia Robeck, Bernice Roberson, Elsie Roberson, Irma Rogerson, Marjorie Roebuck, Louise Roebuck, Pauline Jenkins, Katie Gray Purvis.

Jack Martin Carried To Hospital for Treatment

Jack Martin, young son of Postmaster and Mrs. R. O. Martin, of Jamesville, was carried to the Duke Hospital, Durham, yesterday for treatment. The boy was burned badly about the body three or four weeks ago while burning cobwebs in an out-building near the home. He was given medical attention immediately, and was recovering rapidly until a few days ago, when the burn stopped healing. It is believed that the grafting of new skin will be necessary before the wound will heal properly.

He was accompanied by his father and Roy Peel. Simon Whitaker, white man of Bear Grass, was also a passenger in the car. He goes to the hospital for treatment.

Agents Are Appointed here for Electrolux Refrigerator

Messrs. J. Lawrence Peel and Marriott Britt were this week appointed local agents for the rapidly growing popular refrigerator, Electrolux. One of the new machines was placed on display in the store of Mr. Peel on Washington Street yesterday.

While the Electrolux is used in cities by thousands, it is the first refrigerator made available for economical use in farm homes, where electrical energy is absent. The representatives will gladly make a demonstration and ask farm owners to call at the Peel store for particulars.

July Fourth Was Quietest Holiday Locally in Years

This section experienced its quietest and most peaceful Fourth of July last Wednesday for many years. Only one arrest was made, and not even a minor accident was reported during the day.

With the exception of a few bursting holiday fireworks, and the woeeful and regularly reiterated notes of an Elks' band, the cheering at a white baseball game in the morning and at a colored contest in the afternoon, the day had nearly every appearance of a summer Sunday. While many local people went to beaches for the day, a majority of residents remained at home to enjoy the peace and quiet that marked the day.

Business activity was brought to a standstill here with the exception of a few construction hammers, filling stations, drug stores and soda fountains.

The lone arrest was made that afternoon when Fannie Ruffin, colored, was charged with the possession of liquor for sale. Mayor Hassell remained "around" to enjoy the quiet, and heard the case, binding the defendant over to the next Tuesday session of the county court for trial.

The nearest accident reported in this section was in Beaufort County late that night when Drury Settle, young white man and a student at Drake University, was killed in an automobile wreck near Chocowinity. The young man was making his home in Greenville. His father, Rev. Horace Settle, served the local Christian church for several years.

FORMER MARTIN MAN IS KILLED IN WRECK MONDAY

Hardy Mizelle Buried In Bear Grass Township Last Tuesday

Hardy Mizelle, a native of the Bear Grass section of this county, was instantly killed in an automobile wreck at House Station, near Greenville, early last Monday evening. His son, Will Mizelle, about 26 years old, is said to have suffered a fracture of the skull and his condition was described by last reports as critical. Isaac Mizelle, of this county, and a brother to the dead man, was also in the wreck, but was not hurt seriously, it was said.

According to reports reaching here, the Mizelle car struck one driven by Haywood Dail at an intersection and a few seconds later hit a tree, the last impact killing Mizelle.

The son of Mrs. Winnie Mizelle, of Bear Grass, and her late husband, Jesse Mizelle, Mr. Mizelle was born in Bear Grass about 56 years ago. He married in this county a number of years ago, and is survived by his wife and six children, Oscar, Willie, and Joseph Mizelle, Mrs. R. B. Britley, Mrs. B. T. Eastwood and Juanita Mizelle, all of Pitt County. He also leaves four brothers, Isaac, Louis, Edward, and Aaron Mizelle, and two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Davenport and Mrs. Sallie Bett Rogers, all of this county.

Funeral services were conducted from his late home Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. C. J. Harris, Free Will Baptist minister, and burial was made in the family plot in this county. Mizelle moved to Pitt County about 15 years ago and was employed on the Cobb farm on the Old River Road, several miles from Greenville.

Everetts Team Wins Two Games from Stokes Nine

Everetts' baseball team registered two holiday victories over the Stokes nine last Wednesday, winning the morning game, 6 to 5 at Stokes, and 13 to 1 at Everetts in the afternoon. Stalls pitched a good game for the Martin County boys that morning, and Gurganus allowed only three or four hits in the afternoon contest. Smith caught both games for Everetts. Woolard pitched for Stokes that morning.

Controls Wrecked on Roanoke Bridge Here

Electrical controls on the Roanoke River bridge here were temporarily wrecked last Tuesday morning when a truck-trailer struck the switching house in the middle of the structure. Repairs were made immediately and traffic was not delayed either on the river or the highway.

Jamesville Farmers Ship Carload Green Tomatoes

Farmers in the Jamesville section yesterday shipped their first carload of tomatoes, reports from there indicating that there is a fairly good harvest in prospect.

The farmers are selling through the American Fruit Growers Exchange, and prices for their offerings have not been determined, it was said. Additional shipments will be made from time to time by the farmers there.

Oak City Loses One and Wins One Holiday Game

The Oak City-Hobgood baseball nine divided a two-game holiday series with Tillery-Halifax last Wednesday.

HEALTH REPORT FOR PAST MONTH MADE THIS WEEK

Ninety Cases of Contagious Diseases Reported for County in June

Ninety-one cases of contagious diseases were reported in the county last month, making the health record for the period appear rather unfavorable. While most of the cases originated with measles and were not considered of serious import, one or two others, including a case of typhoid fever and three cases of pellagra, were not considered very lightly. The typhoid victim is a colored person in Goose Nest Township. Two of the pellagra cases were reported among colored people in Williamston Township and one among white in Bear Grass. Nine cases of whooping cough, 7 in Robersonville and 2 in Williamston, were reported during June. Robersonville also had one chickenpox case.

Measles, centered in Robersonville, Poplar Point and Cross Roads Townships for several weeks, began to spread rapidly to other districts during June. Williamston Township reported a large majority of the 77 cases during the period, about 25 of them being in the Town of Williamston. Griffins also reported a few cases.

According to an article pointed out by Dr. J. S. Rhodes, Williamston physician, in the N. C. Health Bulletin for the month of May, by Dr. J. B. Sidbury, of Wilmington, there is now a preventive treatment for measles.

The article, in part, is as follows: "Measles can be prevented by the injection of whole blood or convalescent serum. This, however, must be done soon after the exposure has taken place—the earlier the injection the more complete the protection.

"The injection of blood should be given not later than five days after the child has been exposed to measles, although a later injection, as late as 8 or 10 days, may be given, but modified results are to be expected.

"The method of procedure is a simple one and can be done by any practicing physician. It is necessary to use someone who has had measles. This is absolutely necessary. The more recently they have had measles the more effective will be the injection of blood. In most cases either the mother or father has had measles, and their blood is usually preferred.

"The procedure is harmless, it does not cause any reaction, and is effective in the control of measles."

Official Vote Same As the First Tabulation Offered

The official tabulation of the June 30 vote made by the several local precinct officials here last Tuesday corresponded to the exact number tabulated by The Enterprise last Saturday evening. Wynne led with 1,942 votes, Lilley following closely with 1,843, a Wynn majority of 99 votes.

Local Fire Company Gets Call to Rose's Dime Store

The local fire company was called late last Monday afternoon, when defective wiring caused a small fire in Rose's store on Main Street. Very little damage was done. The company found it unnecessary to use any of its equipment.

Quail Lays Egg On the Porch of Parker Home

An unusually tame quail was reported at the home of Mr. W. K. Parker, next to the courthouse, this week when one of the birds nested and laid an egg on the back porch.

PRODUCERS MAY STILL SIGN FOR LEAF REDUCTION

Kerr Tobacco Bill Reopens Reduction Campaign for Any Non-signers

Under the terms of the Kerr tobacco control act recently enacted into law, those failing to sign tobacco contracts last spring are now eligible to take part in the reduction movement, according to information released a day or two ago by E. V. Floyd, extension tobacco specialist. The sign-up campaign is now open just as it was to begin with, with all consideration to those who are eligible to sign under regular contract until the 28th of this month. After that time, it is understood that only contracts covering property which has been bought or sold may be signed by the owners.

It is generally believed that there are fewer than a half dozen non-signers in this county, however, an accurate report is not available. Two or three of the non-signers in the first campaign expressed their desire to sign after the close, but it was not possible for them to do so at that time. Now they are eligible to sign if they care to, but they must sign prior to or on July 28.

Those who do not sign contracts for their tobacco crop are subject to heavy penalties when they sell their tobacco and will receive no benefit or rental payment, it is understood.

PAGEANT TO BE STAGED AT FAIR

Mrs. Louie P. Martin Will Direct Mammoth Affair Here In October

Mrs. Louie P. Martin was named director of the mammoth pageant that the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce is planning to stage in connection with the Greater Roanoke Fair, the week of October 29th, this fall, according to an announcement made by Secretary N. G. Bartlett while in Williamston this week. "This pageant will portray the workings of the New Deal," Secretary Bartlett said. "The same pageant will be put on at each of the fairs that the sectional organization is sponsoring, which include Suffolk, Va., Kinston, Greenville, Woodland, Dunn, and Williamston.

"We want to get the programs of the fairs away from the old-fashioned fairs having only professional acts," Mr. Bartlett said. "There will be plenty of professional entertainment, but the secretary believes that the 'local color' will be appreciated by the fair visitors. Indications are very favorable for a real fair this fall—The Greater Roanoke Fair will include six counties: Martin, Bertie, Beaufort, Washington, Tyrrell, and Pitt. A total of $1,500 are being in cash premiums for exhibitors.
