IF SOLD IN WILLIAMSTON

Headed by experienced men, men who hold the interest of their patrons at heart, the warehouses on the Williamston market have already been proved the best selling place by thousands of farmers this season. A more perfect selling organization is not to be found anywhere, and no greater effort is possessed by humans than the one put forth by Williamston's warehousemen this season. The buyers have proved, beyond all doubt, that they are interested in the advancement of the Williamston market and in the success of its patrons.

Sales, handled in a strictly business manner under the direction of Mr. McFarland, click like magic, and are run after a lively fashion at all times. Activities in the offices and in every phase of the business are keyed to make the operation of the Williamston market one of the smoothest-selling organizations to be found.

MARKET HAS SPLENDID OUTLOOK

Marin County farmers and their friends from miles around are realizing this year more than ever before the importance of the Williamston market. They are rallying to its support with a friendly spirit and a greater cooperation that is bringing smiles and gladness to the hearts of everyone; for, after all, the life of the community and rural center is so closely interwoven by kinship, friendship, and the intermingling of one another day in and day out the year around that the building of a leading market in Williamston is readily accepted as a pleasant task by farmer and business man alike.

Williamston has the possibility of becoming one of the largest markets in the entire country. Its citizens are anxious after its advancement, and they are doing all in their power to make Williamston the most advantageous and the friendliest marketing center in all of North Carolina. All they ask of you, Mr. Farmer, is that careful consideration be given to every transaction. Weigh the facts and know for yourself that Williamston is a good place to sell tobacco, and that every one of the approximately 3,000 souls within its confines are glad that you patronize their market.

The New Deal is on. Let's all work together for bigger and better things. Bring your next load of tobacco to Williamston if you haven't already brought one. If you have already sold on the market, bring another load. You are assured that, day in and day out, you'll profit by marketing your crop in Williamston.

Selling approximately three quarters of a million pounds of tobacco this week, the Williamston market is advancing by leaps and bounds. Remember that you are cordially invited and urged to take part in the program now underway to make Williamston the market for every one.
