

FEBRUARY SUMMARY OF WORK BY HOME AGENT; 92 CLUB WOMEN ARE TO HAVE YEAR-AROUND GARDENS

Will Plant Number of New Vegetables; Review of Other Activities

Making Camp Plans

By Lora E. Sleeper, Agent Home Gardens

Ninety-two women attending home demonstration club meetings during the past month planned their gardens for the year around, working out planting schedules so there might be fresh vegetables in the garden every two weeks. Many of the women agreed the plan their garden according to schedules. This will include new vegetables never planted before in many cases, more variety of foods. The planning of the garden was done under the supervision of the agent.

Foods and Nutrition

Eight meetings were held by the food and nutrition leaders in the county. The agent attended all meetings and found the leaders doing excellent work. The demonstration given in all the leaders' meetings was the preparation and serving of escalloped soup mixture. The dish prepared by the women afforded a good opportunity to use left-overs such as chicken, chopped ham, and sausage. Cheese made a tasty addition to the dish prepared by the women. In one club the leader prepared the escalloped soup mixture and also a whole wheat pudding. The following recipe was used for this:

Two cups cooked whole wheat, two cups of milk, one cup of sugar, three cores apples, three eggs and nutmeg. Mix cereal with milk, beaten egg and sugar. Pour 1-3 of cereal mixture into buttered baking dish, cover with apple rings, sprinkle with sugar and nutmeg and dot with butter, repeat making a three-layered pudding. Bake in moderate oven and serve with cream.

Clothing

A leaders' school for 4-H club girls was held in the home agent's office during the month. There were six counties represented at the meeting, each county being allowed to send two leaders. There were twenty present for the first leaders' school. Miss Hunter in charge of the work, outlined a very comprehensive course for the 4-H club girls in clothing. The leaders from this county were Misses Evelyn Everett of the Robersonville club, and Cleo Croom, also of Robersonville. The girls will assist in getting up illustrative material. Juniors in the 4-H doll dress contest are doing nicely and it is evident there will be many dresses entered in the contest. The first prize will be expenses to camp.

Seniors in 4-H clubs are slower with their work than their younger members, but many have their undergarments started. Older girls will make their entire outfits so they can enter the dress contest to be held in the State.

Curb Market

Twelve women selling through the curb market at Williamston received $83.06 during the past month. Cakes, poultry, butter and eggs were the leaders on the market.

County Council Meeting

Ten women will be leaders in the home beautification project started in the county last week. Each leader was urged to start a propagation row for shrubs in the vegetable garden, to plant a fruit tree, and evergreen tree and a flowering tree. If possible work on lawns this spring and clean up the premises, making them more attractive.

Girls' Encampment Plans were made for the 1935 girls' camp during the month. Plans may have to be changed, but as planned, three counties will go together again this year, Martin, Washington and Beaufort. Preference was given Camp Leach this year and an effort will be made to secure the camp site early.

Miscellaneous

The agent travelled 726 miles during the month, conducted 11 meetings with the women and 12 with the girls, held one county council meeting, arranged for one leaders' meeting for 4-H club girls. Total attendance upon the meetings was 354. Both pressure cookers were put into use during the month canning meat. The agent assisted one woman in meat canning during the month. Meat canning has been the means of the purchase of four new cookers during the month. The agent wrote 201 letters during the month, distributed 80 bulletins, prepared 2 circular letters and distributed 382 copies. There were 28 different homes visited during the month, seven of these for the first time this year. The agent in spare time has continued to hunt prizes for the kitchen contestants. Two local merchants assisted the home agent during the month and their efforts are appreciated.

Fracas With Three Negro Participants Ends Up in Court

Attempted Cannibalism Is Alleged; Bootleggers On Cash Basis

(Robersonville Weekly Herald) Greatly angered because they were asked to be quiet, Ned and Jake Hudson, colored, attempted to cook and eat their brother-in-law, Daniel Jones, at his home here last Saturday night about 11 o'clock. The two men went to the home of their sister and became disorderly. Jones tried to get them to leave, but they resented his orderly commands and seized him, placing him on the top of a hot stove. Before the meat started cooking in one spot, one of the Hudsons thought he would try a raw portion and is said to have bitten a hunk from Jones' cheek. The officer reporting the brutal attack made upon Jones stated that it appeared the two Hudsons intended to cook and eat their brother-in-law.

Another disturbance was reported among the colored population here over the week-end when Watson Ward cut to pieces Zeb Robbins' coat and gashed his body in three places. The cuts were not serious, however. The knife attack is alleged to have followed an argument over a 25-cent debt. It seems that Robbins bought a 25-cent drink of liquor from Ward's wife on credit. Ward, apparently overzealous to show no bad debts on his ledger, demanded immediate payment from Robbins, who was said to have admitted the debt but pleaded that he could not pay just at that time. Robbins' assurance of payment soon was not sufficient, and Ward started his knifing operations.

Swift & Company, Whose Slogan Is "Every Product the Best of Its Kind," Announces the Most Outstanding Development in Fertilizers in 50 Years...

Improved-Swift's Red Steer Fertilizers

NON-ACID FORMING (Physiologically Neutral) With Added Calcium and Magnesium - With a Certificate of Quality on Every Bag

Swift's Improved Tobacco Growers have made friends by the thousands. Folks like the way the crop starts right off and keeps growing into fine plants. Plants mature early and cure out in a way that even makes old-timers perk up with admiration.

Try this plus value tobacco grower this year and learn from experience the big difference in results. It's got what tobacco needs—that's why crops fertilized with Improved SWIFT'S TOBACCO FERTILIZERS make more money for planters. It does not leave harmful acid residues nor create unfavorable conditions in the route zone.—HERE IS TOBACCO FERTILIZER AT ITS BEST. Likewise, it is equally as good for your COTTON, CORN and other crops.

Ask the Man Who Uses It!

Mr. R. B. Holliday Says: For your information I wish to say that I used RED STEER SPECIAL FERTILIZER last year, and I was more than delighted with the results, both as to poundage and the price I received for my farm products. I recommend it very highly to my friends. Mr. A. W. Bailey Says: The yield and quality of my tobacco crop last year proved to me that SWIFT'S SPECIAL TOBACCO GROWER FERTILIZER produces excellent results. I am thoroughly satisfied with Swift's Fertilizer and would not hesitate to recommend it to my best friends. $607 Per Acre Average "I used 1,000 pounds of CAROLINA TOBACCO GROWER 3-8-5 under my tobacco this year and sold my entire crop at an average of $607.11 per acre. Had an average of 980 pounds to the acre. I highly recommend Red Steer Fertilizer for tobacco for the benefit of my farmer friends." So writes N. B. Lilley, Jameville, N. C.

You know that you have to grow a good yield of quality tobacco if you are to make a fair profit from every acre. The quality just has to be good to get the serious attention of the buyers. Low-grade leaf doesn't call for sweet price music from the buyers. What is selling tobacco? It's the kind of tobacco you don't ever have to give away. It's tobacco that grades high, the kind that buyers want. There is always a good market for high-quality leaf; that's why we call it selling tobacco! Swift's Tobacco Growers are made to produce exceptionally high percentages of quality tobacco to the acre. Of course, they are especially made for tobacco. They are made in a leisurely, exacting way and cured with the same care you use in getting your crop ready for the market. The ability of these fertilizers to produce big yields of quality tobacco is put into them by an exclusive Swift process, developed after years of research and experimenting. In making our tobacco growers, the utmost caution is used. Nothing which in any way might harm the plants is ever included in the formulas. The result of this extreme caution on our part assures you fertilizer which requires minimum care in use. Here is one tobacco grower which is 100 per cent safe, for even at added cost to us, we choose to make it so. The Certificate of Quality attached to every bag of Swift's Tobacco Growers assures you that you are getting especially good tobacco fertilizer with these plus values: Non-Acid Forming; Added Magnesium; Added Calcium and Other Important Elements; Best Material; Double Mixed and Triple Tested. The Certificate of Quality takes the guesswork out of fertilizer buying. Look for it on every bag.
