SEVEN CASES ARE TRIED TUESDAY IN COUNTY COURT

No Fines Are Imposed, But Several Road Sentences Are Meted Out

Activities in the Martin County Recorder's court were centered around seven cases last Tuesday, the proceedings being considered of little consequence as a whole. No fines were imposed but several road sentences were meted out by Judge H. O. Peel. In the absence of Solicitor J. W. H. Coburn, Senator R. L. Coburn prosecuted the docket.

Judgment was suspended in the case charging John Barnes with operating a motor vehicle with improper brakes.

K. D. Smithwick, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, was found not guilty.

J. J. Sills, charged with bastardy, pleaded guilty and was directed to pay $18 costs to cover medical care incident to the birth of twins, and $7 monthly during the next six months. At the end of that time, Sills is to report to the court for further judgment. He was also ordered to pay the costs of the case.

Charged with an assault with a deadly weapon and violating the liquor laws, Henry Page was found not guilty on the first count, but was sentenced to the roads for thirty days when guilt was established in the second incidence.

Eddie Salsbury drew six months on the roads for larceny.

Grover Dixon was found guilty of being drunk and disorderly and damaging property, the court sentencing him to the roads for 30 days.

After hearing the evidence in the case charging Norman Jones with resisting an officer, the court granted a motion to dismiss the action.

A pasture demonstration in Transylvania County in which the sod has been fertilized with 500 pounds per acre of a fertilizer neutralized with limestone is being conducted by the farm agent.

The new, improved strain of Porto Rico sweet potatoes developed at the Coastal Plain Branch Station will be tested by H. F. Watkins of Caswell County.
