Good Dairy Cows Double Profits of Poor Producers

Ten goods cows are more profitable than 20 low producers. In fact, low producers are often an expense rather than a profit, declared R. H. Ruffner, head of the animal husbandry department at State College.

A cow giving six quarts of milk a day just about pays for her feed, Ruffner said. She pays nothing for stable rent or for the labor required for her care and milking.

But a cow giving 10 quarts of milk daily will yield a net profit of $40 a year. Ten such cows will produce a clear profit of $400 a year. Cows giving more milk produce an even larger return.

The exact figure, of course, will vary with local conditions, the price of milk, and the cost of feed, Ruffner said.

Many dairymen who did not make money last year are thinking of buying high-priced cows. In many instances they would do better to sell their lowest-producers and endeavor to raise the efficiency of their better animals.

Every dairyman should seek to develop a herd whose average production is at least 8,000 pounds of milk a year, Ruffner pointed out. Top quality cows frequently produce 9,500 pounds a year, or more.

Proper feeding and management of the herd will do a great deal to stimulate milk production and keep it at a high level, Ruffner added. And good feed, much of which can be produced at home, need not cost more than the wrong kind of feed.

Another important step in herd improvement is the breeding of cows to bulls which can transmit to their daughters a capacity for heavy milk production.

As these calves mature, they may be kept in the herd, while their somewhat lower-producing dams are sold.

BROOKLYN RECRUIT

Only a few hours after Frankie Skaff received his diploma and a bachelor's degree in economics from Villanova college, he put on the uniform of the Brooklyn National league club and went to work. Frankie plays third base and is a heavy hitter.

Refreshing Relief

When You Need a Laxative

Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. Mr. J. Lester Roberson, well known hardware dealer at Martinsville, Va., writes: "I certainly can recommend Black-Draught as a splendid medicine. I have taken it for constipation and the dull feelings that follow, and have found it very satisfactory."
