being granted to the very poor, except such scraps as the rich may wish to throw to them. They like to have labor humble and submissive before their throne of power.

Personally, we liked Mr. Roosevelt's legal, if unconstitutional, projects a thousand times better than we liked Mr. Hoover's false promises to try to pacify a suffering people and holding them down while their homes and farms were being gobbled up by organized wealth.

The True Basis of Prosperity

Public opinion seems to be divided on the question of just when prosperity reigns. Wall Street says it is when bankers and gamblers can make a lot of money on the stock market. If they can buy a bale of cotton for less than it costs to raise it from the grower, and then sell it on the market for more than it is worth, they swear business is good. If a farmer can sell a bale of cotton for enough to pay his fertilizer account and his taxes and buy himself a pair of socks, or if the laborer can buy himself a 25-cent tie for Christmas, then they say "Well, business much better than it was under Mr. Hoover, when I lost my home in trying to get something to eat."

When we learn enough to know that the prices of stocks and bonds do not reflect the real condition of the business of the country—because so few people have stocks and bonds—then we will begin to realize when we have prosperity and when we do not.

So far as the bulk of the people are concerned, if all stocks and bonds were cancelled outright, it would make little direct difference to them. The prices of the basic products of the land and the laborer's day's work are the true bases of prosperity, and whenever their values are destroyed, prosperity goes.

Let the Fur Fly!

The question of who is going to write the tax laws of North Carolina in the coming years seems to be giving certain interests much concern. Heretofore, it has been pretty generally known, but now a new candidate is in the ring, and the Old Guard fears that the boat may rock too much for them. So a great many fellows are getting anti-MacDonald horrors, and are letting out a lot of fearful blasts.

Let the fur fly! Give out all the light possible. We need more folks who understand the taxing laws, by whom and for whom they are written.

The Way To Stop Wars

There is too much pie for the big boys in war for them to take any steps to stop it.

The big profiteers are just like boys who enjoy seeing a catfight. The boys will pinch the cats' tails to get them mad enough so they will fight each other. Just so with the war profiteers. They will go to any lengths to get nations and races of men mad with each other; get them to quarreling without cause, and then sell ammunition to both sides. After the warring nations have practically slaughtered each other, they stop, with no gain to either side, and neither knowing just exactly why they had a war.

The nations will have to cut all the profits out of war; then it will cease.

How To Select Eggs For Winter Hatching

Eggs for winter hatching should be clean, fresh, well-formed, of a color that conforms to the breed requirements, and should weigh 24 ounces to the dozen. Avoid all round, short or thin-shelled eggs as these do not hatch well. Eggs for hatching should be collected two or three times a day in cold weather to prevent chilling. They should then be stored in a cool, dry place, where the temperature does not fall below 40 degrees nor rise about 70 degrees. Where possible, it is also well to select eggs from high-producing birds, as this characteristic is hereditary.

Beware The Cough From a common cold That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results. Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)
