

Spring Harbingers Make Appearance

There will be some more cold weather, no doubt, but spring is surely on the way, judging from the numerous signs observed during the three or four unusually warm days the early part of this week. Some of the most noteworthy signs:

- Fishing poles displayed on the streets.
- Chirping of the birds.
- Early flowers budding.
- Large purchases of garden and flower seeds at local stores.
- New stocks arriving at stores.
- First herring caught in the Roanoke.
- Appearance of a snake in the old Dymond City section of Griffins

Township. The snake, a rattler 2 1/2 feet long, was killed by W. M. Bissell and P. E. Getsinger Wednesday, the reptile having gone through the severe winter unharmed. Spring officially opens March 21, but this section got a taste of what it will be like when the mercury reached nearly the 80-mark on the thermometer earlier this week.

A Sabbath well spent, Brings a week of content And strength for the work of tomorrow.

But a Sabbath profane, Whatsoe'er may be gained, Is sure to bring trouble and sorrow.

HOW LONG? —

Genesis 2:2 ff—"And on the seventh day God ended His work, which He had made; and He rested on the seventh day from all His work which God had created. And God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it."

The Jews were forbidden to gather manna on the seventh day and were commanded to gather enough on the sixth day for the seventh day also.

Exodus 16:26: "Six days ye shall gather it, but on the seventh day, which is the Sabbath, in it there shall be none." "And the Lord said unto Moses: How long refuse ye to keep my commandments and my laws?"

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Florence Peele, who departed this life three years ago, March 1, 1933:

We will always miss you, dear mother, As the night shadows fall; Each echo seems your footsteps, Each whisper seems your call.

We miss you, dearest mother, Though you are far away; We'll always keep your memory Fresh in our hearts each day.

In every flower we see thy love, so deep, Thy voice in tenderness, so soft, so clear, Comes through the eventide on shadows' wings, Each gentle whisper saying, "I am near."

We stood beside your bed, dear mother, And watched you fade away; They told us you were going To heaven with Christ to stay.

And although we know you're happy, And in a better land, We will always miss you, dear mother, And try to understand.

Her devoted children (Annie, Minnie, Ruthie, and Heman).
