County Farmer Willing To Lend Amos 'n' Andy $500

Old man U. Helpum is a well-to-do farmer, well advanced in years, and who, in his feeble condition, listens intently to Amos 'n' Andy over the radio without fail, according to a story reaching here a few days ago. It is said that the two characters have been about bankrupt for two or three months and that they need $500 mighty bad; in fact, a conversation a few days ago indicated they would have to close the doors of their fictitious grocery store if they did not get the $500 from somewhere. Mr. Helpum had listened to the tales of woe so much that the plight the two men were in finally got on his nerves, and just a night or two ago the old farmer said to U. Writum, handy man about the plantation and check writer, "By glory, write them a check for $500. If no one else in this country will let them have $500, I will." The check was said to have been written, but was not mailed.

FLIRT, Field Champion

Homewood Flirtations, White and Black Pointer Bitch, owned by H. M. Curry, Jr., Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

AMONG all the bird dogs in America, Homewood Flirtations ("Flirt" for short) stands out the 1935 champion. At the National Championship Field Trial at Grand Junction, Tenn., Flirt proved her mettle. Speed, range, bird finds—Flirt had everything! One perfect creature in whom Nature put that delicate, natural balance of all the elements that make a champion.

The champion Flirt is Nature at her best—one of Nature's rarest masterpieces. She looks like other dogs—four legs, a head, a body, a tail, but she's not just a dog. She's a proud and proven champion—a champion in the field. Another dog may look a little like her—but he's still just a dog.

And here's another field champion, Natural Chilean Nitrate—another one of Nature's rarest masterpieces. Like the champion pointer, Natural Chilean has that proud and priceless gift—something over and beyond mere nitrogen—natural balance of the many fertilizer elements—the vital impurities—the Natural Blend and balance that make a champion. That's the vital spark. That's why "Flirt" isn't just a dog. That's why Natural Chilean isn't just a fertilizer.

Natural Chilean contains almost two score of major and minor elements such as boron, magnesium, manganese, iodine, calcium, potassium, etc.—each a vital element in growth and healthy development of plants.
