Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Roberson announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Carrie J. Roberson, to Mr. Wilford D. Jefferson, on November 17, 1935, at the Baptist church in Beaufort.

She is a member of some of the oldest families of this section. Her mother was a Peel and her grandmother a Woolard from the southern section of this county.

Mr. Jefferson is originally from Washington, but is at present connected with the Federal Land Bank of Columbia, S. C., as field man. They will be at home in the Tar Heel Apartments.

Moisture Necessary To Growth of Grass

Moisture is the chief essential to good growth of carpet grass and, while this grass will form a sod more quickly on a good seed bed, it will eventually make a good sod on poor soil with next to no preparation provided there is enough moisture. Many good carpet grass pastures have been started by simply burning over the bottom land and sowing the seed. The ideal seed bed, however, is one that is thoroughly pulverized to a depth of three inches and undisturbed below that depth. Plowing, therefore, should be avoided unless done about six to eight weeks before sowing the seed.

FOR STATE SENATOR
To the Democratic Voters of the Second Senatorial District:
I hereby announce my candidacy for the State Senate, subject to the Democratic primary to be held in June, 1936.

WILLIAM B. RODMAN, Jr.

FOR STATE SENATE
I wish to announce as a candidate for the State Senate from the Second Senatorial District and solicit the votes of members of the Democratic party.
T. B. ATTMORE.

Early feathering of broilers is usually inherited, but the failure to feather is influenced to some extent by temperature, humidity and diet. Overheating and lack of humidity will retard the feathering process and if the ration is materially lacking in certain minerals and in protein, poor feathering will result. Check the ration carefully and make corrections, if necessary, so that the birds will get a balanced diet with the necessary minerals.
