Mrs. Harrison is the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Lilley, one of this county's most prominent families, and has a large circle of friends in eastern North Carolina. Mr. Harrison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Harrison, of Henderson, an old and prominent family of North Carolina. He is prominently connected with the Harrison Wholesale Company here, and is a promising young man.

"G-MEN" TO MAKE BONUS ROBBERY RISKY BUSINESS

Bonus Delivery Beginning Next Tuesday Regarded As Being Crook-proof

Washington.—Post office inspectors and secret service men said today they are prepared to move swiftly against any one who seeks to rob veterans of their bonus payments.

The two agencies say that plans for the large-scale bonus disbursement scheduled to start June 15 are "as nearly crook-proof as they can be made."

"The criminal possibilities should be very small," one post office official said. "The bonds will be delivered only to the addressee in person. Most of these people are known to their mailmen."

The bonds are worthless to anyone but the man named on them. Before he could get cash for the bonds, a person would have to be personally identified as being the veteran named. Again, he'd have to pass the scrutiny of a banker in attempting to cash the check sent in payment."

Madison County farmers say that soybeans planted in rows will produce more hay and beans per acre than when broadcast.

Eighty post office inspectors have been specially detailed to aid postmasters throughout the country to make their bonus payment plans "fool-proof," but all the 400 inspectors have been instructed to help.
