Poisoned Corn Meal Bait For Bud Worms

An application of poisoned cornmeal bait is the best medium for controlling tobacco bud-worm damage which is caused by the corn ear worm. One pound of arsenate of lead thoroughly mixed with 50 pounds of corn meal and applied at the rate of one peck, or 12 pounds, to the acre will give satisfactory results. The applications should be made early in the mornings when the tobacco bud is open. A small pinch of the poison should be dropped in the center of the bud. Begin applications about 10 days after the plants are set and repeat every week or ten days until the plants are topped.
