McDonald Voters Will Elect Hoy

Clyde Hoy will be elected Governor by McDonald voters. Some people are foolish enough to suggest that the McDonald folks will vote for the Republican nominee, Gilliam Grisson, yet it is safe to bet that the Hoy vote in the general election will show a decidedly larger gain in the big McDonald counties than it will in the big Hoy-counties.

The Governor's Liquor Commission

Now that the primary is over, Governor Ehringhaus says he is going to appoint his liquor commission, which is to make a complete study of the question, and he promises that it will be a perfect committee, unbiased, honest, square, and that it will give an unbiased and fair report.

A Happy Community

The Greensboro Daily News is promoting the raising of a milk fund for undernourished children, of which there are more than 820 being given treatment under the direction of the Junior League there.

And when all the people in a prosperous American city put their shoulders to the wheel and work together, that city need not suffer, and it will soon show itself to be a happy community.

Premium for Honesty

Sampson Independent

"The price depends on the quality and the pack," said a man who is engaged in hauling produce grown in this section to the northern and eastern markets, when asked about how it was selling there. He then added that he was humiliated when he sold one load of produce, which was found to be inferior by the retailers.

Time and again we have tried to stress the importance of proper grading and packing for best prices, but each year the complaints of efforts to deceive seem to grow. That is a bad, and a costly, policy. The people who buy the produce grown locally are skeptical and afraid to pay the highest market prices when so much of it is deceiving.

Honesty is the best policy, even in preparing produce for market. And when all those who offer produce for sale learn that fact, then, and not until then, may the highest prices be expected.

Costly Joke for Peanut Farmer

Hertford County Herald.

If it were not such an expensive joke on the farmers of this section who last fall sold their peanuts at below the cost of production, we imagine that they would thumb their noses at the peanut millers and give them the horse laugh. The millers, who last fall cried "over production" with all their might and said to the farmers that they were doing them a favor to buy peanuts at two cents a pound, now are faced with the shutdown of their mills because there are not enough peanuts in the country to keep them running.

All of which proves what? Nothing in particular, except that under the present system of peanut marketing which leaves price control entirely with a few concerns who buy and clean and market the farmers' product as the middlemen between the farmer and the consumer, the farmer is always the goat.

Says Home Wiring Can Be Done Only By Competent Men

Adequate and Safe Wiring Is Important Aspect of Rural Electrification

Adequate, safe, and convenient wiring of the farm home is considered one of the most important aspects of the rural electrification program.

To be sure that the wiring is done properly, said Miss Pauline Gordon, extension specialist in home management at State College, employ only contractors known to be reliable and competent.

The contractor is responsible for doing the job so that the wiring will be adequate and safe, but the home owner should determine where switches, lights, convenient outlets, and branch circuits are to be located.

Miss Gordon suggested that home owners draw floor plans of their houses and locate switches, outlets, and lights where they will be most convenient.

If the cost of wiring, according to this plan, is too high, the contractor will assist the home owner in making adjustments.

Above all else, she warned, do not try to economize by using wire too small to carry the load that will be imposed upon it.

In planning the wiring circuits, lights, and outlets, take into consideration the uses to which electricity will be put in each room. If a radio for example is to be operated in the living room, provide a convenient outlet in the wall close to the place where the radio will be located.

Do not plan only for the fixtures and appliances that will be used at first. Make adequate provision for various devices that may be obtained in the future, Miss Gordon urged.

Plenty of convenience outlets should be placed in the walls of the dining room, living room, and kitchen. A double convenience outlet placed in each wall of the bedrooms will be a big help.

Chevrolet April Sales New High

Chevrolet dealers' car and truck sales in April totaled 134,431 units, setting a new all-time high mark for any single month in the company's history, W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co., announced.

The achievement followed close on a record-breaking March, which, until April figures were in, stood as the greatest single month Chevrolet ever experienced.

April sales represent an increase of nearly 35 per cent over sales in April, 1935, which totaled 99,811. The first four months' sales were an increase of 48 per cent over those of 1935, which were 274,121.

Sales of used cars in April totaled 197,270, Mr. Holler reported, producing a total of 679,104 used car sales for the first four months. Both these figures represent new all-time highs. The greatest previous single used-car month in the company's history was March, 1930, when 174,542 units were sold, and the greatest corresponding four-months' period was in 1930, when sales totaled 456,538.

"All phases of the dealers' business shared in the increase," Mr. Holler said. "Whether considered from the standpoint of total unit sales, of truck sales, or of used car sales, April set a brand new mark. Heavy volume of used-car business contributed to the new car results by keeping dealers' inventories advantageously low."
