Keep a Good Laxative always in your home

Among the necessities of home is a good, reliable laxative. Don't be without one! Do your best to prevent constipation. Don't neglect it when you feel any of its disagreeable symptoms coming on. "We have used Black-Draught for 21 years and have found it a very useful medicine that every family ought to have in their home," writes Mrs. Perry Hicks, of Belton, Texas. "I take Black-Draught for biliousness, constipation and other ills when a good laxative or purgative is needed. I have always found Black-Draught gives good results."

COOK - NELSON
A wedding of much interest throughout Eastern North Carolina was that of Miss Iris Henderson Nelson to James C. Cook in the Grifton Methodist church last evening at 6:45 o'clock, the Rev. Perry Case, of Wilson, an old friend of the bride's family, officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with a large array of cut flowers and plants to make a lovely setting for the nuptials. Attended by her sister, Miss Bettie Nelson, the bride entered from the main door and proceeded down the aisle to the candle-light altar, where she met the groom accompanied by his brother, Mr. Hubert Cooke, as best man. There were no other attendants. The ring ceremony was used, after which the young couple left for an extended wedding trip to Canada and other northern points of interest.

Mrs. Cooke is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Nelson, of Grifton. Following her graduation from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, she became a member of the Stokes High School faculty, and later taught in the schools of Winston-Salem. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Cooke, member of one of Williamston's oldest families. He holds a responsible position as treasurer of the Standard Fertilizer Company of this place, and is well known in business circles throughout eastern and central Carolina.

Following their return the latter part of next week, Mr. and Mrs. Cooke will be at home in the Tar Heel Apartments on Main Street.

COLTRAIN - TEEL
Mr. and Mrs. Val L. Teel announce the marriage of their daughter, Shirley York Teel, to Roy C. Coltrain on June 6, 1935, in Edenton, N. C. The ceremony was performed in the Baptist parsonage by the Rev. A. H. Outlaw, Baptist minister of that town.

News of the wedding was received as a surprise by the many friends of the young couple here and over the county.

Mrs. Coltrain is the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Val Teel, of Williamston, and enjoys a large circle of friends throughout this section. Mr. Coltrain is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Coltrain, of Griffins Township. He is a promising young man, and has figured prominently in agricultural pursuits in his home community except for a number of months he was connected with the Carolina Power and Light Company in Raleigh. At the present time he is employed by the W. I. Skinner Tobacco Company plant here.

After today, Mr. and Mrs. Coltrain will be at home in the Branch Bank apartments.

PEELE - SPRUILL
The marriage of Miss Mary Claude Spruill, of Plymouth, to Charles Alton Peele, of Williamston, was announced this week by the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ernest C. Durham at the Methodist parsonage in Carthage on August 12, 1935.

Mrs. Peele is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan W. Spruill, of Roper. She was educated at Peace Junior College and completed a business course at Campbell College. She has for some time been employed by Senator Carl L. Bailey at Plymouth.

Mr. Peele is the son of Herbert D. Peele and the late Mrs. Emma Peele, of Williamston. He was educated at Wake Forest College and is now actively engaged in the jewelry business in Williamston.

CITES CHANGE IN FARM PROGRAMS UNDER SOIL PLAN

May Plant Soil-Conserving Crops Up To September First This Year

Farmers who have been set back by the drouth will find two changes in the soil-improvement program especially helpful, according to I. O. Schaub, of State College.

One change allows them to classify as soil-conserving any land seeded to soil-conserving crops up to September 1, provided no soil-depleting crops are harvested from it in 1936.

This will enable many growers to increase their soil-building allowance. The allowance, the dean explained, is not a payment; it is a figure showing the maximum amount of soil-building payments a grower may earn, and is based on the acreage of soil-conserving crops. This change will also help farmers meet the minimum requirements for soil-conserving acreage as well as requirements for new seedings of soil-conserving crops this year.

In addition, sowed corn, plowed or disked under, and spring seeded small grains grown with or immediately followed by a legume will be counted as soil-conserving this year. They had been classified as depleting crops.

The other change permits soil-building payments to be made for the seeding of perennial grasses, or growing green manure crops, on land where there has been a failure of a legume or perennial grass.

seeded earlier in the year. For example, a producer who seeded a field to lespedeza or clover, but failed to get a crop, may carry out an additional practice by seeding alfalfa or turning under a green manure crop on the same field in August or September. He would receive payment for both practices. However, his soil-building payments could not exceed the maximum amount of his allowance as determined by his acreage of soil-conserving crops.

Recommend Austrian Pea For Improvement of Soil

The Austrian Winter pea is highly recommended for soil improvement in this section. The winter pea was first grown in this State about eight years ago and is increasing in popularity each year. It produces nodules more abundantly than vetch; it is easy to grow; produces plenty of vegetation; and may be planted any time from September 1 to December 1 in the same way as vetch. At least 30 pounds of seed should be used to the acre. If the land is not inoculated by vetch, it would be well to get some dirt from a field that has grown one of the two crops and use this to inoculate the seed or the field.
