Board Chairman Invites All To Attend Williamston Fair

To the Public:
Beginning next Monday, the 28th day of September, will be Fair Week at Williamston, Martin County, N. C. Six big days and nights.

Those of you who visited the Fair last year, I am sure, will agree that it was the largest and one of the best Martin County has ever had, and the Fair comes to us again this season under the same management, and we believe it will be even better this year.

We extend to all the citizens of Martin and adjoining counties a cordial welcome to visit this Fair. The Town and County join in welcoming you to visit this fair, where you will receive every courtesy by the citizens and manager.

J. E. POPE,
Chairman, Board of Commissioners of Martin County.
September 21, 1936.

management, shows how costs were figured for various crops on representative North Carolina farms. It also shows how a grower may determine the amount of fertilizer he can profitably apply to his crops to increase the yield. Beyond a certain point, additional fertilizer will cost more than the extra yield is worth.

Experiment station bulletin No. 305, "Cost of Producing Farm Products in North Carolina," may be obtained free by writing the agricultural editor at State College, Raleigh.

GOODBYE, ROUGH EDGES HELLO, MELLOW FLAVOR!

You'll join in that greeting after your first sip of Ten High Straight Bourbon Whiskey! It's ALL smooth, without the faintest trace of roughness or bite. Ten High has a mellowness that brings only one comment, "The smoothest bourbon I've ever tasted!"

Hiram Walker's TEN HIGH STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY 90 PROOF

HIRAM WALKER & SONS - PEORIA, ILLINOIS

FROM A $9,000,000 DISTILLERY
The world's largest distillery insures you against rough edges in Ten High. Every bottle has the same smooth richness that cost $9,000,000.

FROM BLUE RIBBON CORN
Hiram Walker pays premium prices for corn as rich in flavor as Ten High itself. If it fails to measure up to Hiram Walker's standards, it is rejected.

HOW SOUTHERNERS TEST BOURBON
Look for rich amber color; for stimulating, pleasing aroma; for robust tang that typifies full-corn bourbon. Ten High scores on all 3 points!
