Two Lines of Thought

Roosevelt's deeds are to be believed more than the words of Landon Knox, Al Smith, and the balance of the crowd of anti-New Dealers.

There are but two points to consider in the entire line-up: First, remember your own condition during the Hoover administration; think of the prices you got for your farm crops; think of the homes that were sold under mortgage; think of the gang that was in power then, and the promises they made, and how they broke them. Then go to the other side of the picture and see who restored the banks of the country; remember who set business on its feet and who set the wheels of business to turning again. Think again who did it; and go a bit further and see who it is that is fighting the New Deal. You will find it to be the few rich people who promised so many rich corners soon to be turned during the Hoover administration, and not one promise was ever fulfilled.

That same gang is trying to get back into power by abusing the New Deal. They perhaps think the poor folks have forgotten all these things and will fall for their falsehoods again.

Most People Are

The Marshville Home speaking: "The most emphatic testimony heard in recent years here was offered in Recorder's court last week. Called upon to describe the condition of the defendant, the witness said: 'Well, your honor, I'll tell you. When he's sober he's one of the nicest and most considerate men I know. But when he's drunk he's crazy as hell.'"

Anything for a Change

A new innovation in radio programs is promised, the directors explaining that the latest entertainment might be called "Let's Play Games" and "Let's Play Instruments." This new idea, offered just now, will certainly receive a welcome, but can it measure up with the great game of American politics? Anyway, a substitute for the battles now raging in the air will be desirable.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC RE-SALE OF LAND

Whereas, there was default in the payment of certain notes secured by deed of trust executed to me by W. C. Hale and wife, Mary Hale, of record in the Public Registry of Martin County in Book M-3 at page 166; and whereas, at the request of the holder of said notes I duly advertised and offered for public sale to the highest bidder the land hereinafter described on Monday, the 12th day of July, 1936, in the town of Williamston, North Carolina, in front of the courthouse door where and when J. A. Everett became the last and highest bidder for same at the price of $3,750.00; and whereas, before the expiration of ten days the bid price was increased 5 per cent and L. Bruce Wynne, Clerk of the Superior Court of Martin County has ordered me to make re-sale of said land; and whereas, at or about the time said bid was raised and I was ordered to make re-sale of same Judge M. Aliens

Bernarr McFadden and a few others are now waking up and finding the country flooded with aliens, the self-styled health man claiming the foreigners are crowding good old American stock from relief positions. He adds that they should be deported, and probably they should be sent back to their home lands. But the problem now centering around foreigners is not to be settled that easily.

Back yonder many big manufacturers considered wages too high, and they started inviting foreigners to our land that wages might be lowered and profits increased. The sweatshop came into its own, and the surplus labor was recognized as a blessing by the numerous industrialists when dividend-declaring time came around. And just so long as the hungry went hungry and even starved to death; the slave drivers were happy, but when a great man started leading the people out of the wilderness and there was some possibility that the leadership would cost something, McFadden and others started growing. They would bundle up the underdogs and set them adrift in the Atlantic, and to aggravate a bad situation apparently they would feel right about it.

There is some doubt about the ownership of this country, anyway. Probably, measured in the right, some of the aliens have a greater moral claim to a spot here than do many industrialists who have exploited natural resources, justice and contributed to a large extent in reducing millions of humans to serfdom.

It is just another case where McFadden and other anti-New Dealers think in terms of cold dollars and not from the standpoint of a helpless human being. Just as long as Mr. Roosevelt is in the White House aliens will continue to offer a problem, for they love to live in a place where a great leader is pressing forward in the interest of humanity. If Landon enters the White House next January, the alien problem will be settled, for not only the aliens but naturalized citizens also will pack the ships for other shores.

When labor gets scarce, and it won't be long now before it will be just that way under Roosevelt, watch out for men of McFadden's type extending another invitation to the Dagoes, Japs and others to come to this country and help recreate sweat shops.

The Surest Way

Out of Bertie County comes a story that should profit hundreds of tobacco farmers in this county. According to the report, a certain farmer there found time to paint his tobacco barn flues and put them away for another season. For about 15 seasons he went to the trouble to care for the barn flues. Yes; the task required a little time and about 50 cents worth of paint, but he apparently made money.

Tobacco farmers in late years, as a rule, have overlooked the details that would save them money and centered their attention on prices at marketing time. If prices were high at that time everything was all right. If they were low, and they have been low on more than one occasion, the farmer who ignored the practice of saving a little here and a little there found himself in the hole. The fact that he had to go into debt the following spring for flues did not point out to him the value of preserving his barn flues.

No record is available, but it is safe to surmise that the Bertie farmer who preserved his barn flues year after year is in better financial shape than many of those farmers who ignored the task. So it isn't the big things in life that count so much, after all.

scuted and recorded in the Public Registry of Martin County in Book 107 at page 608, there being excepted from the last named conveyance 42 acres which had theretofore been conveyed to H. S. Everett by deed duly executed and recorded in Book E-1 at page 592, the land herein conveyed adjoins the lands of J. H. Shields, H. S. Everett, J. D. Stephenson, the lands formerly belonging to Orange Fields, deceased, and others, and being well known as the Needham Hyman Tract, containing one hundred eight (108) acres, more or less, and being the identical tract of land which was conveyed by Ennis Bryan, Receiver for G. Hoffman, Individually, and G. M. Hoffman and Brother, trading as M.
