HOME ECONOMICS CLASS ENTERTAINS AT DINNER
Bringing to a close a very interesting unit of study in foods dealing with dinners for various occasions, the Third Year Home Economics Class under the direction of Miss Josephine Grant, entertained at a delightful dinner in the home economics department on February 22 at six p. m.

Effectively carrying out the George Washington motif in decorations and foods the tables were very festive. Bordering each table were narrow strips of red, white and blue paper and the centerpiece were made of American flags. Tiny red hatchets were used for place cards and the whole effect was very lovely with the soft glow from white candles casting shadows upon the tables.

A delicious four course dinner was served to the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Manning and Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Hix and to the following members of the class: Misses Doris Andrews, Minnie Chesson, Dorothy Coltraine, Ellen Coburn, Dixie Daniel, Elsie Gurganus, Delsie Godard, Sallie Gray Gurkin, Thelma Griffin, Margaret Harden, Rachel Keel, Helen Lindsley, Doris Moore, Louise Nelson, Irene Perry, Mary Revels, Caroline Stalls, Martha Rhodes Ward, Virgil Ward and Susie Whitley.

Have You the Reading Habit?

Nothing affords more pleasure and profit than the daily visits of a good newspaper and nothing can take its place. An independent newspaper, presenting in clear and unbiased fashion a true picture of our modern times, is an unflinching source of dependable news, state, national and international.
