lected to have an exhibit at the State Fair in Raleigh, being one of the three counties selected. The other two were Alamance and Duplin.

Our exhibit was based on personal grooming. The exhibit represented a girl's bedroom. In one part of the room, there was a dressing table, at which a student sat and demonstrated the care of hair and complexion. Another part of the room displayed a reading unit, which was composed of a table, comfortable chair, magazines, books and a suitable light for reading. One part of the room emphasized cleanliness by having a wash stand, soap, bowl, bath cloth, towels, bath powder, deodorants, tooth brush and tooth paste.

One student stressed the care of nails and showed how a manicure should be given.

The colors used in the room were green and yellow. The rugs, pottery, skirt to the dressing table and towels furnished these colors.

The girls from Williamston who helped with the exhibit were, Mary Charles Godwin, Ruth Ward and Fay Gurganus. Robersonville girls also worked on the exhibit.

Locals Lose Second Game of the Season

Washington's Pam Pack Wins 21 To 6 In Game Last Friday

The Green Wave dropped a hard-fought game last Friday to a heavier and superior Washington High eleven by a 21-6 score. Washington scored in the opening period of the contest by a seventy-yard march, making four or five yards on every play through the center of the Williamston line. Jack Sullivan and Cullipher fell victims to their opponent linemen who were the superiors of the Williamston lads by about twenty pounds. Williamston was able to do little against the powerful line of the Pam Pack except for the completion of several passes.

Washington opened the third period with another strong drive to push over their second score. The Green Wave, however, retaliated in the third period with a touchdown pass from Boykin to Arthur Anderson that was good for seventy yards and the touchdown.

Washington tallied its final score near the end of the fourth period with a touchdown pass into the end zone. Williamston made one final threat for another score when Tootsie Roberson jaunted around right end for a 40-yard dash, but was stopped by his opponents' safety man.

The Washington defeat ended the six-win streak by the local high school eleven. The Green Wave has now won seven out of nine games.

Green Wave To Play Robersonville Here

Visitors Will Bring Newly Organized Team Here Friday

Williamston High has been Martin County's only representative on the gridiron for the past several years, but Robersonville organized a football eleven in the past several weeks and will be seen here Friday. The boys in that town who were interested, collected and sold tobacco this fall to secure the necessary money for suits.

This Friday afternoon the Williamston High Green Wave will play host to its county rivals for the first time in recent years. The game will begin at 1:30 to give the country students an opportunity to see their football team in action. Many bus students have expressed their desire to see their school team play but could not, since the games were scheduled after school hours and they had no means of getting home after the game. On Friday the game will begin at 1:30, but the school buses will not leave until their regular scheduled time of three o'clock.

Since the Edenton game was not played in Williamston, the season tickets will be honored on Friday when Williamston plays Robersonville, to make up for the Edenton game.

The Williamston team will close its season on Thanksgiving Day, November 30, when it meets Windsor High here.

Junior Club Holds Regular Meet Here

The Junior Woman's club held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday night at the club building with a large number of members present. Mrs. Irving M. Margolis, whose resignation as president was later accepted, presided over the meeting. Mrs. J. A. Eason was elected to fill Mrs. Margolis' unexpired term, which has been characterized by faithful and enthusiastic work for both the club and the active part in which it plays in community life.

After the minutes of the preceding meeting were read by Mrs. Curtis Leggett, recording secretary, Mrs. Josephine Harrison gave the treasury report. Mrs. J. Paul Simpson gave a report on the Collins Entertainment Festival, followed by a report on the supper for the Senior Woman's club by Mrs. Edwin Trahey. Mrs. J. A. Eason, chairman of the Red Cross committee, gave a report on that work in this community.

Following the business session a very interesting and entertaining program in commemoration of the twenty-first anniversary of National Book Week was presented by Mrs. John W. Hardy, chairman of this month's program committee. After giving a short history of Book Week, Mrs. Hardy introduced Mrs. Margaret Gilbert, field worker for the N. C. Library Commission, who gave a very interesting talk on books and libraries. Mrs. Jim Cook then gave a summary of the library work here which has been going on very successfully for 18 months.

At the conclusion of the meeting, it was voted by all present to help the local library as much as possible.

HERE TONIGHT

Basketball fans of this section will get their first chance to see the Williamston Martins in action tonight when they play the strong quint from Conway at the local gym at 8 o'clock.

Led by Breezy Beaird, who hooped 15 points, the locals won over the Conway team last week, but both teams will no doubt show real mid-season form when they meet here tonight.

Manager Howard Earp has urged everyone to see the Martins in their opening home game and promises a fast and thrilling battle all the way through.

Development Of South Portrayed In Picture Here

all this development, it is pointed out, is economic balance through self-containment.

Taking up the problems of the modern South, the picture brings to the farmers messages from several agricultural leaders. They draw attention to the front line of attack on farm problems—the agricultural experiment stations maintained by each state.

Shown at work are scientists who spend their lives studying for improved farming methods. Here results achieved by various ratios of plant food—nitrogen, available phosphoric acid and potash—are compared in accurate controlled plots. Plant vigor and plant diseases are studied, as are also ways and means of keeping the land young—how to save it from wearing away.

To achieve self-containment, the film shows, the South, especially in time of war, needs an unending supply of low cost nitrogen. The scene then changes to the great plant of Arcadian Nitrate at Hopewell, Va., largest of its kind in the world, which is providing such a supply.

For the future "The New South" foresees self-containment for a more prosperous South. Southern agriculture building Southern industry; home industry supporting Southern farms, more and better crops, with profitable markets awaiting them, and homelands buying from homelands.
