"That the said Margaret Whitaker went to the office of D. M. Roberson, as he requested, and upon entering the office said D. M. Roberson, without any excuse or justification or reason whatever, assaulted the plaintiff, Margaret Whitaker, a seventeen-year-old girl, by striking her violent blows on the forehead and in the chest and on the arm, and kicked her and pulled her hair, and followed up the aforesaid blows with other blow after blow upon her head and body, and threw her violently to the ground.

day. At the trial it was stated that Scott ripped an eighteen-stitch opening in Ruffin's back and that Ruffin opened a 36-stitch gash in Ferrell's body.

dogs, declared that it was an exciting time at his home. Twins were born during the night, but they died.

Jimmy Mitchell, sitting on the front porch of his home, said he saw a colored man running swiftly down the street. According to the boy who lives next to the old buggy factory on Smithwick Street, the man without a hat, came across a vacant lot, entered the street and stopped to look back when he reached the railroad before continuing on out the thoroughfare.

The robbery was the second reported by the jewelers within a week and the third within two years. Following the robbery last week, the store operators fastened a partition door, but the robber forced an entrance to the front of the building by breaking out a plate glass panel and unfastening the latches. The robber entered the building by climbing the one-story back wall and then breaking through a window in the skylight which had been covered with heavy wire. In making a rapid exit up a glass ware rack, the robber broke a number of pieces of chinaware and glasses.

Liquor Car Is Seized In County Thursday

An automobile carrying twenty gallons of illegal liquors was confiscated by ABC Officer J. H. Roebuck and Federal Officer Felix O'Reilly in the Free Union section of Jamesville Township early last night. The liquor was poured into the gutter in front of the county courthouse by the officers.

Picking up Keys' trail on a dirt road, the officers followed him to a filling station where he stopped. Turning over the car trunk keys to the officers at their request, Keys, the car operator, made a successful dash for his freedom. The last time he was seen he was traveling with his shirt tail in a parallel position.

Health Center For Jamesville Opened

By J. W. WILLIAMS
County Health Officer

The town of Jamesville has reconditioned the City Hall and the health department has completely furnished it. This will be our fourth branch of the Martin County Health Department and every Monday it will be open from 9 until 3 o'clock. The mornings will be given to vaccinations and other services that a health department can give to the people of that community and the afternoons the V-D clinic will be held for those people needing the syphilis and gonorrhea treatment.

On the second Tuesday of each month from 1 p. m. until all work is completed the regular prenatal and infant clinic will be held.

We hope the people of the community will take advantage of the services especially at this time of the year when malaria is so prevalent. We mean by this that those people suffering with the disease and are unable to have a private physician can have their blood examinations made any Monday morning and those whom we find infected and unable to buy quinine, treatment will be furnished free.

Control For 2 Cotton Insects Is Suggested

A way to kill "two bugs with one stone" is suggested to cotton growers by J. O. Rowell, extension entomologist of N. C. State College. He has placed in the hands of county farm agents a copy of a publication which describes control of boll weevils and cotton aphids with a single poison mixture.

The new publication is U. S. Department of Agriculture Leaflet No. E-538, "Dusting for Boll Weevil and Cotton Aphid Control." The leaflet describes a Derris-Calcium Arsenate mixture which Government scientists have found effective for the control of the two destructive cotton insects.

Rowell said that county agents would be glad to discuss cotton insect control with farmers, and are in a position to obtain additional copies of the new Federal publication. They also have available copies of the N. C. State College Extension Folder No. 45, "Boll Weevil Control."

In reporting on boll weevil conditions, Rowell said that infestation is very serious this season in spotted areas. "I have made a rather extensive study of the boll weevil situation in the cotton counties," the entomologist said, "and I find that weevil infestations are very severe in some fields, and negligible in others.

"For instance," he continued, "one cotton field in an area will reveal a very high percentage of damaged squares while another field a hundred yards away appears to have no damaged squares. Such a condition makes it important that the cotton grower keep a close check on weevil infestation. Accurate infestation counts will aid the grower in determining whether to dust his entire cotton crop or employ the 'spot dusting' method."
