Thirty-Nine Years Ago As Recorded In The Enterprise

OCTOBER 11, 1901.

The appearance of the post office has been very much brightened this week by cleaning the windows. It is hoped that the postmaster will now place a desk, pen and ink in a suitable place for the use of the public.

At a meeting of the citizens held Wednesday in the office of the Roanoke Hotel, about $7,000 was subscribed to build and establish a Tobacco Market for Williamston. It is expected that $10,000 will be raised by Monday night, when the subscribers will meet and organize. The meeting was an enthusiastic one and well attended. There does not seem to be any doubt as to the success of the undertaking.

Mr. J. H. Everett spent Sunday in Everetts.

Mr. S. R. Cleary left Tuesday morning for Weldon.

Miss Lizzie Burras, of Jamesville, spent Monday in town.

Mrs. A. E. Whitmore left yesterday morning for Norfolk to spend several weeks.

We are authorized by the committee on subscriptions to the tobacco market to extend an invitation to the farmers to take stock in the warehouses, shares $100 each.

With a tobacco market in Williamston and a road to Bertie, you had as well try to break a kicking mule from kicking as try to keep the town from growing.

"Pow-O-Lin Relieved My Miserable Suffering" Declares Mrs. Maitland

Well Known Raleigh Resident Makes Statement in Order That Other Sufferers May Know About This Medicine That Did So Much For Her. Thousands of Carolinians Praise It.

MRS. H. C. MAITLAND

Suffering from acid indigestion, dizzy headaches, nervousness and a tired, let-down, miserable feeling that she couldn't seem to shake off, and being disappointed in everything she tried, Mrs. H. C. Maitland, well known resident of 131 E. Martin St., Raleigh, N. C., states:

"Everything I ate seemed to sour on my stomach, cause gas pains, bloating and dizzy headaches that often made me feel faint and wobbly. I would belch hot, sour acid liquid that would come times nearly strangle me and the pressure from gas was so terrific I would have to gasp for breath. Toxic wastes clogged my intestines and I had to take strong purgatives for constipation until I felt I couldn't swallow another vile dose of these upsetting medicines. I was so nervous, sound sleep was impossible and I would get up feeling so low and wretched I could not do my housework.

very first bottle brought me grand relief. I now eat anything I want and do not fear the gripping gas pains, acid indigestion and distress from dizzy, weak headaches. Pow-o-lin has my everlasting thanks. It is the best medicine I ever saw."

Pow-o-lin is a liquid, purely herbal laxative preparation, for the relief of such distress as plagued Mrs. Maitland when brought on by faulty bowel elimination.

Pow-o-lin is sold and recommended by Clark's Pharmacy, Inc.
