Simpson - Cone Vows Spoken In Baptist Church Saturday

Weds a Governor

This is a new picture of Pennsylvania's new first lady, the former Mrs. Emily Radcliffe Case, who was married to Governor Arthur H. James in the Doylestown (Pa.) and Deep Run Presbyterian Church.

Pastors of Popular Young Couple Performed Ceremony at 8:00 o'Clock

The marriage of Miss Sarah Freeman Cone to John Reginald Simpson was solemnized in the Memorial Baptist Church here at 8 o'clock last Saturday evening. Rev. J. H. Smith, the bride's pastor, officiated, assisted by Rev. John Hardy, rector of the groom.

Long leaf pine formed a background for five stands of cathedral candles. Ivy decorated the ends and tall baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli were used on either side of the altar. White pom-pom chrysanthemums and white satin ribbons marked the pews for the family.

Mrs. Wheeler Martin rendered a program of wedding music, including Nevin's "Wedding Prelude" and "Wedding Intermezzo." Mr. Arthur Hanna, of Norfolk, sang, "At Dawning" and "Because," and Mrs. J. H. Smith sang, "Love Here Is Thy Heart" and "I Love Thee." The traditional wedding marches were used and Schubert's Serenade was played during the ceremony.

Ushers were Messrs. Paul and Malcolm Simpson, brothers of the bridegroom; Urban Rogers and Asa H. Crawford.

Mrs. C. B. Clark, Jr., was matron of honor, and Miss Jane Moore, of Winston-Salem, maid of honor. They wore identical Zephyr blue velvet gowns made colonial basque style with sweetheart necklines. The bouffant skirts were attached to hip length scalloped bodices. Blue velvet flowers in the same shade were made into tiaras to match their gowns. Yellow was the predominating color of their colonial nosegays of roses and chrysanthemums.

The bride's gown was of white faille silk. A pointed and scalloped marquisette yoke was edged with Chantilly lace and to the tight pointed bodice trimmed in self-covered cuttings was attached a full skirt with long train. She wore a bridal cap of the same lace and her tulle veil was held by a band of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was made of Waster lilies and tulle to match the veil and her only jewelry was two diamond clips, a gift from the groom. She was given in marriage by her brother, Howard Berkley Cone.

Attending the bridegroom as his best man was his uncle, Mr. Leslie Thurston Fowden.

Mrs. Cone, mother of the bride, wore a powder blue gown trimmed with silver with a shoulder corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Leslie Fowden, aunt of the bridegroom, wore an Eleanor blue dress with a shoulder corsage of talisman roses.

At nine o'clock Mrs. Cone entertained with a reception at her home on Church Street.

White flowers were used in the various rooms. In the hall tall vases of gladioli were placed on Console tables. Giant chrysanthemums and dematis decorated the living room. The dining room table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a lovely arrangement of white roses, carnations and chrysanthemums. All the table appointments were in silver.

In the library where punch was served and the gifts displayed, chrysanthemums and ivy were mixed effectively.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Green greeted the guests at the door and presented them to the receiving line composed of Mr. and Mrs. Fowden, Mrs. Cone, the bride and bridegroom, Miss Jane Moore, Mrs. C. B. Clark, Jr., Mrs. Octavia Cone, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. W. R. Fowden, grandmother of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Peel invited guests into the dining room where green and white ice cream in bridal pillow molds with cake and mints were served by Mrs. Henry Griffin, Mrs. Asa Crawford, Mrs. Francis Barnes and Misses Blanche and Nell Harrison and Anne Fowden.

Mrs. C. G. Crockett and Mrs. W. G. Baptist, of Boynton, Va., directed guests to the library where Mrs. Paul Simpson and Mrs. Malcolm Simpson served punch. Mrs. J. H. Saunders, Jr., and Mrs. John Tulloss presided over the gifts and Mrs. J. W. Watts registered the guests. Good-byes were said by Mrs. Clayton Moore, of Winston-Salem and Mrs. F. U. Barnes.

Later in the evening the bridal couple left for a wedding trip through the Valley of Virginia. The bride wore a brown woolen ensemble with accessories in darker brown and a shoulder corsage of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Simpson is the daughter of Mrs. Percy Bunn Cone and the late Dr. Cone, of Williamston. She is a granddaughter of the late Dr. Howard F. Freeman and Burtis Cone, of Wilson and Nash Counties and her ancestors were prominent in that section of the State. She graduated from St. Mary's College and has since held a position with the government.

Mr. Simpson is the son of the late J. Paul and Nora Fowden Simpson and is a grandson of Mrs. William Reginald Fowden and the late Mr. Fowden who are descendants of noted families of England. He is now associated with the V-C Chemical Company.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Octavia Cone, Mr. and Mrs. Burtis O. Cone, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cone and daughter, Elizabeth, of Rich-

Immediately following the rehearsal on Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Urban Rogers entertained the wedding party and out-of-town guests with a cake cutting at the George Reynolds Hotel. At one end of the dining room a long table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake. Silver bowls of white mixed flowers completed the decoration of the table on which an imported cut work cloth was used. Canapes of green and white, cut in wedding bell and slipper shapes were served with sandwiches, pickles and nuts.

After the bride cut the cake dancing was enjoyed by the party.
