Symphonic Choir To Handle Ticket Sale

Just recently organized, the Martin Symphonic Choir, composed of 40 male and female voices of Bethel, Robersonville and Williamston is endeavoring through the sale of tickets to create interest and finance the choir.

A number of concerts will be given within the next few months by this large choir and a sponsor-membership ticket will entitle the holder to admission to all programs. The tickets are on sale at the Peoples Drug Store or they may be obtained from Charlie Leonard, who is personally responsible for the sale of the tickets. The cost is only one dollar. In Robersonville, the tickets may be secured at David Grimes' Drug Store.

The Martin Symphonic Choir is a part of the Eastern Carolina Symphonic Choral Association. It is directed by Lewis S. Bullock, a national figure with a unique record as a musician and a director. The Association is composed of 17 choirs and serves 12 towns in the eastern section of the State.

The Martin Symphonic Choir will open its sponsor-membership campaign tomorrow, Saturday, November 1st. "We have 600 tickets to sell and the purchaser will receive a membership card which will admit him to the reserved section for any performance of the Martin Choir," Mr. Leonard, chairman of the ticket committee, said this morning.

Fall Festival To Be Held In Tarboro

Tarboro—The Tarboro baseball club and the merchants of Tarboro are cooperating to present a Fall Festival here next week, with the Art Lewis show on the old fair ground, in an attempt to get the baseball club out of a $3400 deficit.

Everything else has been tried in Tarboro from Brunswick stews, barbecues, turkey shoots, football games, bingo and even public subscription but despite that the ball club found its seventh place club in the red to the tune of $3400 when the 1941 season closed.

The merchants and local people did not favor a fair this year, as had been held from year to year, and therefore no plans were made for one. But when the ball club composed of the sheriff of the county, the mayor of the town, the head of the hospital, the chairman of the board of education, the city clerk, and other prominent people found they were stuck trying to give a locality baseball, everyone decided to forget their personal differences and opposition to shows, carnivals and fairs, and cooperate.

Art Lewis, well known and popular showman in Tarboro, agreed to do his part by extending his show season one week, November 3-8, to help the Tarboro people.

ARE YOU USING ENRICHED FLOUR?

Every American wants to be strong, sturdier than ever before. Sturdy spirits, steady nerves, and enduring strength have their best chance to grow—in sound bodies. Sound bodies are built with the right kinds and the right amounts of many different foods. There is no one perfect food.

Every food has something to add to health and strength. There is no one perfect plan for meals. Many different combinations of foods will give bodies the nourishments they must have to work hard, resist disease, carry strain and grow in power.

We have a superabundance of wheat in our country. Wheat foods are valuable. They supply food energy and protein at low cost. To be strong, bodies need an abundance of food energy and protein, and also of vitamins and minerals. Whole wheat grain have in them a generous supply of some of the vitamins and minerals the body needs. When wheat grains are milled to produce white flour, a large part of the vitamins and minerals in whole wheat grains are lost. Now millers and bakers are offering new enriched flours and breads. Thus, there is an important meaning for you in the word, "Enriched," which you are seeing on bread and flour labels these days. The meaning is "Better health through better nutrition."

Enriched flour contains thiamin (vitamin B) one of the essential vitamins for health and well being. Nicotinic acid, the pellagra-preventing vitamin; and iron for combating anemia—in addition to the excellent energy-yielding carbohydrates and useful protein that flour has always contained—as we mentioned before. We are told to eat "bread with every meal." By eating two slices of enriched bread at each meal, or the equivalent in other baked products made with enriched flour, an adult gets an added supply of vitamin B. He must make up the rest of his daily requirement from the meats, eggs, vegetables, milk, cheese, etc. included in a well-balanced daily diet.

Enriched all-purpose or general purpose flours, as well as enriched bread, can now be purchased in most markets. Try the following recipes, which use enriched flour and enriched bread, and you'll be adding extra health insurance to the daily meals you serve your family.

- Apple Dumplings
Flaky Pastry
6 medium, tart red apples
1 c granulated sugar
1 1-4 tsp cinnamon
5 tbsp butter or margarine
1 1-2 c boiling water
- Quick Brown Betty
1 No. 2 can applesauce
2 1-2 c fresh applesauce
3 slices whole-wheat bread
3 tbsp softened butter
3 tsp granulated sugar
3-4 tsp cinnamon
Put applesauce in bottom of 1-qt. casserole. Spread each slice of bread with 1 tbsp butter; then sprinkle with 1 tsp sugar and 1-4 tsp cinnamon. Cut bread to fit shape of casserole, and put on top of applesauce. Bake in hot oven of 450° F for 15 min. Serve with or without cream. Serves 4.

3 tbsp lemon juice
1 tbsp grated lemon rind
Make pastry, 2 1-4 c all-purpose flour, 3-4 c shortening as basis. Roll out to 3-16" thickness; cut into six 7" squares. Peel and core apples, reserving skins, and place apple in center of each square. Fill center of apples with 1-2 c of the sugar and 1 tsp of the butter. Moisten edges of pastry squares with water; then bring points up over apples, sealing seam edges of pastry by pressing together with fingers. Put into greased, 12"x7 1-2"x1 3-4" pan, and chill in refrigerator.
Pour the boiling water over the apple peelings, and simmer, covered, for 20 min. Drain off liquid, and combine with remaining 1-2 c sugar, 1-4 tsp cinnamon, 4 tbsp butter, lemon juice, and lemon rind, and stir until sugar is dissolved. Pour into bottom of dumpling dish. Brush dumplings with slightly beaten egg white, and sprinkle with granulated sugar. Bake in very hot oven of 500° F for 10 min.; reduce heat to moderate oven of 350° F; bake 1-2 hour, or until tender. Serve hot, with Orange Hard Sauce or cream. Serves six.

Peach Dumplings
Make Apple Dumplings, substituting 6 whole, peeled ripe peaches for the apples and 3-4 c granulated sugar for the cinnamon-sugar mixture used to fill the apples. Place peaches on pastry squares, topping each-pear with 2 tbsp of the sugar. Omit butter. Make a syrup by combining 1 c hot water, 1-2 c granulated sugar, 4 tbsp butter or margarine, 3 tbsp lemon juice, and 1 tbsp lemon rind; heat until sugar dissolves; then pour into bottom of dumpling dish. Bake as in Apple Dumplings.

Roast Stuffed Fresh Ham
8 to 10 lb. fresh ham, boned
1 tbsp dry mustard
2 tsp salt
1 tbsp minced parsley
4 c soft bread crumbs
2 tsp granulated sugar
1 tsp celery seed
1-2 c melted butter or margarine
1-4 tsp chili powder
Order—ham with bone removed, to form a pocket for the stuffing. Combine all the remaining ingredients, and use to stuff ham. Cut scorings in skin with a sharp knife, if desired. Place on a rack in an uncovered roasting pan, and roast in moderate oven of 350° F, allowing 35 min. per lb. If desired, remove the skin with a sharp knife; then sprinkle the ham with brown sugar, and brown in moderately hot oven of 400° F for 15 to 20 min.

Celebrates Holiday With A Big Picnic

Sgt. Lester J. Moore of the 38th Field Artillery, Fort Bragg, has been on maneuvers in the Carolina area for a month. He is a little bit tired of eating out of his leg, and of all the wonders of lavish Nature. He is weary of "chiggers, red ants and grasshoppers in his pants, and gnats, gnats and fleas in his soup."

Last Sunday he slicked himself up, obtained a pass, and went to Charlotte to visit some friends—relishing the vision of chairs, a table, and the clean white tablecloth which his hosts would have waiting for him, laden with insect-proof provender. His friends in Charlotte were very glad to see him. They had organized a little party for him, and the guests were in congregation, waiting when he arrived.

They celebrated by taking him on a picnic, 20 miles out in the country.

Toasted Swiss Sandwiches
1 8-oz. pkg. processed Swiss Cheese
1-2 c pickle relish
12 slices bread
Melted butter or margarine
Blend together grated cheese and pickle relish; spread mixture on 1-2 the bread slices. Top with remaining slices. Brush outsides of sandwiches generously with melted butter; toast under broiler or in sandwich toaster, until golden-brown on both sides. Makes 6 sandwiches.
