

Civilian Defense Week Proclaimed By The President

(Continued from page one) of heavy Nazi boots and the hated, brutal Nazi regime. From these erstwhile peaceful citizens of once free nations, could they send their message past the Nazi censorship, conceivably might come to citizens of the yet-free Americas the admonition "Prepare while yet you may."

Veterans in all parts of the United States, its territories and possessions this Armistice Day will lead the observance, and it is the veterans' organizations primarily who have given such impetus to the program of the Office of Civilian Defense. More realistic, perhaps than most others, Legionnaires have vitalized the various services into which the Civilian Defense Program has been divided. It is they who have energized the air raid warden service, the auxiliary police and fire services and innumerable others. And it is Legionnaires who, beginning Armistice Day, more than any other group, will seek to arouse those among our citizenry who may be lethargic and apathetic. In his proclamation announcing Armistice Day as the beginning of Civilian Defense Week, President Roosevelt said he designated that period "as a time for all persons throughout the Nation to give thought to their duties and responsibilities in the defense of this country, and to become better informed of the many vital phases of the civilian defense program and of the opportunities which it offers for the participation of every individual American in the defense of our priceless heritage."

Following Armistice Day, Civilian Defense Week has been divided into the following days: Wednesday, November 12—"War Against Waste Day" to bring home to every American the necessities for avoiding waste and for using substitutes wherever possible so as to expedite the production of material for our own armed services and, for those who are still withstanding the Axis onslaught. Thursday, Nov. 13—"Step Up For Defense Day" to acquaint every American with the opportunities for participation as volunteers in the many services vital to the perfection of an effective Civilian Defense. Friday, Nov. 14—"Health and Welfare Day" to emphasize the importance of a healthy and secure population as the foundation for strong military protection. Saturday, Nov. 15—"Civilian Protection Day" to emphasize the need for the protection of civilians and their property, particularly in target areas along the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts. Sunday, Nov. 16—"Freedom Day" to reaffirm our faith in the fundamental freedoms and to emphasize the fact that a nation founded upon essential freedoms must be prepared to defend them. Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, director of the Office of Civilian Defense, has supplemented President Roosevelt's call to the governors of the states with an appeal to stimulate observance of Civilian Defense Week in every city, town, village and township. The response from every state indicates that, beginning Armistice Day, and continuing throughout Civilian Defense Week, Americans everywhere will give sober thought to their part in the preparation of total defense against total war.

Judge W.H. Coburn Calls Six Cases In The County's Court

(Continued from page one) driver's license, Richard Moore pleaded not guilty. He was adjudged not guilty on the first count. He was sentenced to the roads for a term of 90 days on the other two counts, the court suspending the sentence on condition that the defendant pay a $25 fine and costs of the court. Pleading guilty in the case charging him with violating the liquor laws, Ernest Tilghman was sentenced to the roads for a term of twelve months, the sentence to begin at the direction of the court at anytime

Large Crowd Sees Wedding in School

A large crowd witnessed the Tom Thumb Wedding held in the high school auditorium last evening under the sponsorship of the Williamston Parent-Teacher Association. Fifty pre-school children, assisted by a choir of first and second graders, participated in the affair, which was marked by colorful costumes and a beautiful stage setting. The little tots performed their roles with confidence and skill, and the splendid program proceeded without mishap except for the "thumping of two no-gins" as an enthusiastic usher put all of his energies into a sweeping bow which almost flooded both usher and guest. Admissions from the audience, composed largely of adults, netted approximately sixty-five dollars for the finance committee of the local association, which sponsored the program. The funds will be used to promote parent-teacher projects in the local schools.

Normal Schedule Of Lighting Suggested Here for the Present

(Continued from page one) normal lighting schedules. As far as it could be learned here, any power saved under the curtailment program here could not be diverted immediately, that that much electricity would be lost. Anxious to cooperate in every way possible, all but three local business men turned out their neon signs Wednesday evening. In a meeting called by the Chamber of Commerce to consider the blanket order calling for curtailment, local merchants stated they were willing to cooperate in the blackout by not turning on their sign and window lights and to curtail other uses as far as possible, since there is some doubt about the order being applicable to the territory served by the Virginia Electric and Power Company, local merchants and other business houses are planning to maintain normal lighting schedules, it is understood. It is fairly certain, however, that there will be no Christmas street fighting here this coming season, meaning that one will not have to cut his Thanksgiving dinner by Christmas lights. Home and yard decorations have not been ruled out so far.

This Week In Defense

(Continued from page one) President's request to return to work in the interest of defense. The Office of Education announced that in cooperation with the Office of Civilian Defense it will develop a School and College Civilian Migrate Service through which "hundreds of thousands of teachers, educational leaders and citizen volunteers" can participate in the defense program by organizing "Freedom Forums" in schools, colleges, clubs, churches and libraries to discuss national problems "with respect to facts and without hysteria." Priorities Director Nelson ordered a 35 per cent reduction in the use of steel by non-mechanical ice-refrigerator manufacturers and a 17 per cent cut in production of domestic washers and irons. Mr. Nelson said that in one year 32,000 tons of steel would be saved by the latter cut.

Mr. Sam Zemon is rapidly improving in a Washington hospital from an appendicitis operation performed about a month ago. Mr. J. E. Boykin is attending an insurance agent's meeting in Greensboro today. Within the next twelve months, the defendant was required to pay the court costs. Tilghman was said to have had about seven gallons of illicit liquor in his possession when he was arrested last Sunday morning. Charged with shoplifting, Moses Hopkins was sentenced to the roads for a term of sixty days. The defendant was said to have lifted several pairs of socks from a haberdashery where he was formerly employed as a presser.

Russians Again Ask Creation Of Second Front Against Nazis

(Continued from page one) ture of Moscow today had been upset. The situation, however, looked dark in the Crimea as the strong Nazi forces pushed on toward the Black Sea. Encouraging reports came out of Finland, indicating that the Finns would halt their military action against Russia. It was also intimated that Hitler was withdrawing his planes from the Leningrad and Moscow areas, a recognized admission that the drives there had not been up to expectations. While no second front is in the offing in the West, aid to Russia is being increased by this country. A billion dollars worth of supplies are to be made available under lease-lend terms. Talk of a gun attack on Mussolini has not been confirmed. Japan is sending a special envoy, Saburo Kuruau, to this country, to tell us that her patience is exhausted, and that something must be done about the situation in the Far East. There'll be no more appeasement here, observers think.

Peanut Market Is Slightly Weaker

Possibly because millers have been literally "swamped" by heavy deliveries during recent days, peanut prices began sagging under the pressure this week. After climbing to a fairly stable market at five cents a pound, the prices are ranging around four and three-quarters today, one report stating that it has to be a good peanut to command a price above that figure. While a five-cent market was reported, few sales were being made at that figure today. General rains will delay threshing operations until some time next week, but no material decrease in deliveries was noticed today. Reliable reports state that 75 per cent of the crop in this immediate area has been harvested and that well over half of it has moved to market.

Rains Are General In This Section

Water levels continue at a low point in wells and creeks, but general rains falling in this section yesterday greatly relieved the serious condition created by prolonged dry weather. Precipitation for the year, to date, is still far below normal, the total rainfall for the past three months being 9.14 inches below the amount recorded for August, September and October of last year. October rainfall measured exactly two inches, most of that amount falling on Monday of last week. Yesterday 1.27 inches of rain fell here, reports stating that the fall was much heavier in other sections of the county and in adjoining territory. So far this month, 1.52 inches of rain have been recorded at this point. Reporting the October rainfall, Hugh Spruill, bridgekeeper, stated that there was a trace of rain on October 2, followed by 1.91 inches on the 27th and .09 of an inch on the 28th. er, Lemon Strickland, Whitehead Drug Store, Joe Hunting, Cobb-Poxhall, Buck Howell, J. Interesting Chapel Programs In School grammar school was entertained this morning by the toy orchestra composed of second grade children enrolled in Miss Benson's room. The youthful musicians creditably rendered several numbers including "The Star Spangled Banner", to the piano accompaniment of Miss Mewborn. A number of parents visited the school to hear the program, which marked the first appearance of the toy orchestra during the present school term. Assembly programs at both schools continue to prove interesting and entertaining to the pupils. Themes of programs presented last week were "Safety" and "Halloween." Grades one, two and three assemble on Fridays; four, five, six and seven on Tuesdays. Rev. Piephoff addressed the high school students on Wednesday. Next Tuesday morning at nine o'clock students from the fourth grade through high school will have an opportunity to hear James C. Wilson, traveler and author of note, who will appear in the high school auditorium. Mr. Wilson's book, "Three Wheeling Through Africa," is in the local high school library, and has been read by many students.

Marines Traveling Home In Numbers

Given 72-hours leaves of absence, hundreds of U.S. Marines poured out of the New River base, near Jacksonville, yesterday and numbers of the youngsters traveled through here en route to their homes, a few stopping in the county with relatives. Reaching here late last night after quite a few had moved on toward their homes in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New York, six youths were unable to find rides and they were housed by the United Service Organizations. Greatly appreciative of the courtesy, the young men explained that they hardly had sufficient money to buy food, that paid travel and lodging were out of the question. The boys were intent on getting home and held their thumbing stations on the streets until midnight when Officer John Roebuck went to their rescue and registered them for the night in the hotel. At six o'clock this morning the boys were up and soliciting rides north. "We have heard much about Southern hospitality, and we certainly found it here," one of the group said before leaving this morning. W. F. Haislip, anxious to get home without delay, came in early last evening by bus to be with his mother and family near Hassell until Sunday. Rev. John Hardy, treasurer of the local U.S.O., stated this morning that very few members of the armed forces had traveled this way in recent weeks on account of the maneuvers, but that he was expecting a big increase in business in the future.

Mrs. W. C. Bullock and Miss Emma Gray Cherry, of Everetts, were shoppers here yesterday afternoon.

Number Of Bears Killed In County

Bears are paying with their lives for raids made on farmers' corn and for visiting wells in Griffins Township during the past two weeks. Their sources of water dried up and apparently experiencing a food shortage, bears have wandered out of the old J. and W. pocoin in fairly large numbers to find water and food. As far as it could be learned no hogs or other animals have been attacked by the bears, but corn fields and oak trees have been raided. Several bears were killed in oak trees, Elder P. E. Getsinger knocking out a small one yesterday morning after the animal had torn several limbs from an oak tree not far from his home. Two or three bears have been killed in corn fields. According to Farmer Arthur Roberson, Hunter Jim Gurkin had a fairly narrow escape from an attack by a big 230-pound bear a few days ago. The first one or two shots only made the bear run. The hunter continued after him, and after he had been shot several more times, the animal turned and was heading toward Mr. Gurkin with his paws outstretched when an eleventh shot brought him down dead. It is understood that fifteen or more bears have been killed in the county during the past few weeks.

Best Way To Treat Soft Rot Of Sweet Potatoes

If sweet potato soft rot becomes severe at any time during the storage period, the house should be heated until the potatoes are dried out and the moisture disappears. The diseased potatoes will dry up and should not be removed. Once stored, it should be remembered that potatoes should not be handled until ready to ship or sell.
