Former Local Girl Is Wed To West Virginian

The marriage of Miss Julia Crawford Watts, former Williamston girl, to William Monroe Ashmore, III, was announced last week. The young couple some time ago planned to be married in the Presbyterian Church in Williamston, but Army plans came first and altered their.

The following announcement was carried in the Huntington, W. Va., paper, the columnist adding a personal note:
Mrs. Maurice Dunston Watts, of 455 Fifth Avenue has made known the marriage of her daughter, Miss Julia Crawford Watts, to Mr. William Monroe Ashmore III who became a lieutenant in the U. S. Air Corps on last Friday. The wedding of this popular young couple took place March 9, 1941, in St. Louis, Mo. They were attended by Miss Helen Kauffman, of Columbus, O., and Mr. Dalton Dean, of Cincinnati. Mrs. Ashmore is an important member of Huntington's younger society set and is very popular. She was graduated from Huntington high school and attended Marshall College.

Mr. Ashmore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horner H. Ashmore, of 1540 Washington boulevard. He was graduated from Huntington high school and attended Marshall College, West Virginia University and Millersburg Military Academy in Kentucky. Following his schooling he was employed by the First Huntington National Bank and later by the Huntington Publishing Co.

On the day of his graduation he was assigned to the post of an instructor at Kelly Field at San Antonio, Texas, and it is there he and Mrs. Ashmore will reside.

Last Friday at 8:30 A. M. in the Post Theatre, Kelly Field, Texas, our William Monroe Ashmore III, Lieutenant Air Corps, USA, was graduated with other members of Class 41-G, the Air Corps Flying School. An interested spectator was Mrs. Ashmore, the former Miss Julia Crawford Watts. Now we can spread the news that Judy and Bill were married last March 9th in St. Louis and were attended by Helen Kauffman of Columbus, and Dalton Dean, of Cincinnati. Judy is the younger daughter of Mrs. Maurice Dunston Watts, 355 Fifth Avenue, and the late Mr. Watts, and is one of our prettiest girls. Bill's folks are Mr. and Mrs. Horner H. Ashmore, 1540 Washington boulevard. Both are graduates of Huntington high school and Bill also attended Millersburg Military Academy in Kentucky, Marshall College and West Virginia University. He was formerly employed by the First Huntington National Bank and the Huntington Publishing Co., and the day of his graduation was assigned to the post of an instructor at Kelly Field, San Antonio, where he and Judy will live.
